AL HRABOSKY

Al Hrabosky has made a smooth transition from one of St. Louis' best-loved athletes, the "Mad Hungarian" of the Cardinals' 1970s bullpen, to one of the town's favorite broadcasters. His commentary and sharp wit can be heard during Cardinals telecasts on Fox Sports Net this season.

During a 13-year major league career in which he compiled 97 saves and earned Fireman of the Year honors in 1975, Hrabosky already was preparing himself for broadcasting by working as a sportscaster for a St. Louis TV station. He has been a commentator on telecasts by Fox Sports Midwest, WB11, Prime and Sportstime cable, and hosts a local radio show on all-sports station KFNS.

Hrabosky was inducted into the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame in February 2003. Away from the booth Hrabosky is an active supporter of the MLB Players Alumni Association.

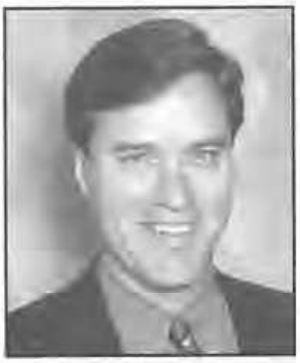
DAN McLAUGHLIN

Dan McLaughlin enters his sixth season as the play-by-play voice for Cardinals television broadcasts. He will cover all road games on Fox Sports Net.

Before joining the Cardinals, McLaughlin did baseball play-by-play at the collegiate level. A 1996 graduate of Lindenwood College, he began his professional broadcasting career in 1996 as a sports talk show host at KMOX Radio.

During the baseball off-season, McLaughlin, 30, has worked for five years as a regular on St. Louis Blues telecasts on Fox Sports Net and WB11. He has also been a pregame, intermission and postgame analyst for Blues radio broadcasts, and a television host and analyst for the Missouri Valley Conference basketball tournament.

BOB CARPENTER



Bob Carpenter returns to the Cardinals television booth in 2004 to call all games broadcast on KPLR/WB11, the Cardinals television network. It will mark his ninth season of Cardinals T.V. play-by-play overall.

Carpenter has worked in baseball for a total of 20 years and has worked baseball games for ESPN for 14 years (1990-2003). With the Redbirds, he has broadcast games for Sportstime cable network in 1984, for Prime Cable network and KMOX Radio in 1995 and 1996, and for Channel 11 from 1997-2001. Carpenter has also worked in the television booth for the Texas Rangers (1986-89), New York Mets (1992-93) and Minnesota Twins (1994).

A St. Louis native, Carpenter's early work included play-by-play of St. Louis Steamers indoor soccer from 1983-1986. He has worked college basketball games on ESPN for 15 seasons, emerging in the process as the "voice" of the Mountain West Conference (since 1996) and Conference USA (since 1997). On the USA Network, he hosted the 1995 U.S. Open tennis championship and The Masters golf tournament from 1986-1988. He's also been heard on ESPN's telecasts of college football, World Cup soccer and as a host of the 1990 Hall of Fame induction ceremony.

Carpenter is a 1971 graduate of McBride High School in St. Louis and earned a degree in broadcasting from the University of Missouri-Kansas City. He and his wife, Debbie, have two daughters, Katie and Allison.

RICK HORTON

Rick Horton joins the Cardinals broadcast team in 2004 to provide color commentary on all WB11/KPLR broadcasts. He was a co-anchor on the WB11 post-game show, Extra Innings, last season and served as a baseball analyst for Fox Sports Midwest. Horton has filled in on KMOX Radio and Cardinals television broadcasts since 1997.

A former left-handed pitcher for the Cardinals, Rick spent seven years in the Major Leagues, playing for St. Louis, Los Angeles and the Chicago White Sox. He made his Major League debut with the Cardinals in 1984 and participated in the 1985 and 1987 World Series with the Redbirds and won the Series in 1988 while with the Dodgers. Horton was both a starter and relief pitcher for the club and had one of his best years in 1987 when he was 8-3 in 67games, pitching 125 innings with 55 strikeouts. In 1991, he spent the season as a pitching coach in the Cleveland Indians Minor League system.

After retiring from his Major League playing career, Horton remained in the St. Louis area where he has been active in the Greater St. Louis Area Fellowship of Christian Athletes, serving as the Director of the St. Louis FCA since 1993. Horton has assisted with Baseball Chapel with the Cardinals and also works with the St. Louis Rams football team in leading chapel and Bible studies.

Horton, 44, and his wife, Ann, reside in St. Louis with their two children, Jen, 17, and Drew, 13.

CARDINALS BROADCASTING — 2004

RADIO

KMOX Radio, St. Louis, is the flagship station for a network of more than 100 stations covering 11 states. It will broadcast all 2003 games with commentary by Mike Shannon and Wayne Hagin.

TELEVISION

WB-11, St. Louis, will televise 39 regular-season games and one spring training game locally and to a network of approximately 20 stations reaching seven states. Commentary will be provided by Bob Carpenter and Rick Horton. Fox Sports Net, a regional cable network, will televise 110 games and two spring training games . Commentary will be provided by Joe Buck, Al Hrabosky and Dan McLaughlin.

MIKE SHANNON

Mike Shannon enters his 33rd season in the Cardinals' radio booth. His many years as a player in the organization and in the front office give Shannon a unique insight in his commentary, which is only heightened by his zeal for the game. In 1999, Shannon was inducted into the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame in recognition of his popularity and performance on the air and, as a player, on the field.

The 64-year-old St. Louis native broke into the big leagues with the Cardinals in 1962 and went on to star for the Redbirds' World Series championship teams in 1964 and 1967, and their N.L. pennant winner in 1968. His career was cut short in 1970 by nephritis, a rare kidney disease. The former outfielder-third baseman joined the Cardinals' front office in 1971 as assistant director of promotions and sales. Shannon will broadcast all Cardinals games on KMOX radio.

WAYNE HAGIN

Wayne Hagin begins his second year on KMOX. Partnering with Mike Shannon, Hagin will broadcast all Cardinals games.

Hagin came to the Cardinals from the Colorado Rockies where he was the lead announcer for all Rockies games since the beginning of the franchise in 1993. He was named the 2000 Colorado Sportscaster of the Year by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association and in 1998 was voted by the Rockies players as the Players Choice Denver Media Man of the Year.

This will be Hagin's 22nd season of broadcasting Major League baseball, beginning his career with Oakland in 1981 and moving on to San Francisco and the Chicago White Sox before working at Colorado. Hagin, 48, was an original at ESPN in 1979 and was mike-side for the network's first-ever baseball telecasts. Hagin has also called ESPN College Basketball, the NBA's Golden State Warriors television games and the 2000 National League Division Series for ESPN.

Hagin played college baseball at San Diego State. He and his wife, Valerie, reside in Chesterfield with their sons, Austin and Taylor.

JOE BUCK

For the third-straight season Joe Buck will handle play-by-play duties on home games telecast by Fox Sports Net. He also will continue his duties as Fox Sports' lead baseball announcer for national telecasts.

Buck, who turns 35 on April 25, joined the Cardinals' radio team in 1991 after spending two seasons as the play-by-play voice of the Louisville Redbirds. He was part of the radio broadcasts through the 2001 season. He also has handled play-by-play on Cardinals television broadcasts for both KPLR-TV and Prime.

In 2002 Buck became the play-by-play voice for Fox NFL's No. 1 broadcast team, becoming the first play-by-play announcer to handle lead MLB and NFL coverage since ABC's Al Michaels in the 1980s. Buck has called the World Series for Fox six times (1996, 1998, 2000-2003) and five MLB All-Star games (1997, 1999, 2001-2003). He has been honored three times with a sports Emmy as the Outstanding Sports Personality for play-by-play (1999, 2001-2002).

The son of broadcasting legend Jack Buck, Joe is a graduate of Country Day High School in St. Louis. He graduated from Indiana University with a B.A. in English in 1991. Joe and his wife Ann were married in January 1993, and make their home in St. Louis with their two daughters, Natalie and Trudy.

CREDENTIALS — Credentials will be issued only to legitimate news-gathering agencies. Season credentials will be issued only to those agencies that cover the Cardinals on a daily basis. Credentials must be worn in a visible manner at all times. All requests for credentials should be made in writing to the Cardinals Media Relations Office. Deadlines for credentials are as follows: Season – March 19; Daily – two working days prior to the game requested. All agencies must have a letter on file to have credentials issued. Credentials are issued to working members of the press only. No spouses, guests or children of press members will be issued passes, and credentials are not transferable. Credentialed media also are prohibited from requesting autographs. Any violations will result in immediate revocation of the credential. All game credentials will be available at the press gate, between Gates 4 and 5 on the west side of the stadium, four hours prior to the start of the game. Two hours prior to game time, credentials are available at the Press Will Call window (located next to the press gate). Photo identification is required.

ADMISSION — The media entrance is through the press gate, located between Gates 4 and 5 on the west side of the stadium. The press gate opens four hours before game time.

PRESS BOX — Take the elevators to Level 5. All persons entering the press box must sign in. The press box and broadcast booths are located on Level 5. The press box is for working members of the media only.

MEDIA DINING — Located inside the press box. It is open for meal service 1-1/2 hours prior to game time to accredited members of the media. The room is open for approximately 90 minutes after the game for beverage service. There is a $7 charge for meals.

CLUBHOUSES — Both the Cardinals' and visitors' clubhouses are located on Level 1. Access the clubhouses by taking the elevator to Level 1. All working media with clubhouse credentials will be admitted 3-1/2 hours prior to game time until one hour before first pitch. After the game, media who were issued clubhouse credentials will be admitted no longer than 10 minutes following the game's conclusion. At times, certain restrictions may be imposed for meetings, cooling-off periods, etc.

FIELD — No person is allowed on the field unless that individual has credentials expressly for field privileges (i.e., photo pass). All non-uniformed personnel must leave the field 30 minutes prior to first pitch.

PRESS NOTES — Game notes and statistics are available in the press box approximately two hours prior to game time. Play-by-play sheets and box scores will be available after each game.

MEDIA GUIDES — Media guides are available by request in the press box from club media relations representatives.

TELEPHONES — Five credit-card-only telephones are available for media use in the main press area. Two pay phones are also available in the press box.

TICKETS — All requests for media complimentary tickets must be made to the Cardinals Media Relations Office at least 48 hours before the start of the requested game. Tickets can be picked up at the Press Will Call windows between Gates 4 and 5 on the west side of the stadium two hours prior to the game. Photo identification is required.

TOM KIDWELL — MANAGER

Kidwell begins his first season as a manager in the Cardinals Minor League organizaion, taking the helm at rookie level Johnson City. It marks the fourth year for Kidwell as a minor leaque coach with the Cardinals. He served as a coach at Johnson City from 2001 to 2003.

The former infielder was drafted by the Cardinals in the 33rd round of the June 1998 free-agent draft. He spent three seasons in the Cardinals minor league system playing second and third base before moving on to coaching.

Kidwell, 27, is a grandson of long-time Cardinals instructor George Kissell, who has served with the Cardinals in a variety of roles since 1940. Kidwell attended Yale University where he was the captain of the team and First Team All-Ivy League in 1998. Born in Watertown, N.Y., he graduated from St. Petersburg High School in St. Petersburg, Fla., where he currently resides.

GEORGE KISSELL — POSITION COACH

George Kissell will rejoin the coaching ranks this season, serving as a position coach for the rookie club in Johnson City. Kissell will also continue his other duties with the Cardinals as the Senior Field Coordinator for Player Development. With his expertise in fundamentals of the game, Kissell handles many of the instructional duties for the minor leagues during spring training and extended spring training.

Kissell spent 10 years in the minor leagues as an infielder and has served the Cardinals in several capacities since joining the organization in 1940. From 1946 to 1968, he worked as a manager, coach, scout and minor league instructor. Kissell was a coach for the Major League club from 1969 to 1975 and a special field assistant to General Manager Bing Devine in 1976.

Kissell, a Watertown, N.Y., native, graduated with a master's degree from Ithaca (N.Y.) College. In 1999, he was honored with a plaque that hangs outside Busch Stadium in recognition of his many years of service with the club, most of them as a teacher. He was enshrined in the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame in February of 2003 and was honored by Baseball America with the Roland Hemond Award in December 2003. Kissell and his wife, Ginny, reside in St. Petersburg. The couple have a son, Dick, and a daughter, Kay.

AL HOLLAND — PITCHING COACH

Holland will serve for a second season as the pitching coach at Johnson City. Before Holland joined the Cardinals, he was a teacher and football and baseball coach for 13 years at Roanoke City Schools in Roanoke, Va., working with at-risk kids.

Holland, 51, was signed as a free agent in June of 1975 and made his Major League debut on September 5, 1977, with Pittsburgh. He went on to pitch 10 seasons with Pittsburgh, San Francisco, Philadelphia, California and the New York Yankees. He pitched for the Phillies during the League Championship and World Series in 1983, a season in which he was 8-4 in 68 appearances with a 2.26 ERA and 25 saves.

A graduate of North Carolina A&T State University, Holland resides in Roanoke with his wife, Mary. They have three grown children, Al Jr., Ashlee and Adrienne and two grandsons, Joseph and Elijah.

TOMMY SHIELDS — MANAGER

Shields is serving as manager for his third season at the New Jersey affiliate. From 1999 through 2001 Shields was a scouting supervisor for the Cardinals. Prior to working with St. Louis, Shields was a manager and coach in the Baltimore Orioles farm system. He began his coaching career with Baltimore's rookie club in1994 and managed for three different Orioles minor league teams between 1995 and 1997.

Shields, 39, was drafted out of Notre Dame by the Pittsburgh Pirates in the 15th round of the 1986 June free-agent draft. He played in the Pirates' minor league system until he was traded to Baltimore after the 1990 season. He reached the Major Leagues with Baltimore in 1992 and played for the Chicago Cubs in 1993.

Currently, Shields makes his home in Lititz, Pa., with his wife, Melonnie, and four children; Kelsey (11), Derrick (10), Samantha (5) and Connor (3).

SID MONGE — PITCHING COACH

In his fifth year with the Cardinals, Monge will be serving for the second-straight season as the pitching coach at Class-A New Jersey. His current role is his fourth position within the minor league system, previously working with the club's Potomac affiliate in 2002, and as a coach at Johnson City in 2001 and Peoria in 2000.

The former big-league lefthander spent three seasons in the Padres' minor league chain, working as pitching coach for their rookie club in Peoria, Ariz., in1998 and 1999 and as pitching coach for Triple-A Las Vegas in 1997. Before joining the Padres, Monge worked five seasons as a pitching coach in Detroit's farm system.

Monge was 49-40 with a 3.53 ERA in a career that spanned 10 seasons in the Major Leagues. He played with the Angels (1975-77), Indians (1977-1981), Phillies (1982-1983), Padres (1983-84) and Tigers (1984). Monge was a member of the American League All-Star team in 1979, when he posted career bests with 76 appearances, 12 victories, 108 strikeouts and a 2.40 ERA.

Monge, 53, and his wife, Carol, have three children; Michael, Amanda and John.

JOE CUNNINGHAM — MANAGER

Cunningham has been a manager in 10 of his 15 seasons as an instructor in the Cardinals' system and will manage at Peoria for his second-straight season. From 1998 to 2002, Cunningham managed the club's Carolina League (Single-A) team.

In 1993, his second year as a skipper, Cunningham was named the Appalachian League's Manager of the Year for guiding Johnson City to a 37-31 mark, falling just half a game short of a playoff berth. He made his managerial debut at Chandler in 1992, managed Madison in 1994 and skippered the Peoria club in 1997. Cunningham served as a roving minor league instructor in 1996 after coaching at Louisville in 1995. He also coached at Johnson City in 1990 and 1991, and Hamilton in 1989.

The 41-year-old Cunningham played in the Cardinals' organization from 1984 to 1988 with Johnson City, Savannah, St. Petersburg and Springfield. He is the son of former Cardinals' All-Star outfielder and longtime front office employee Joe Cunningham Jr.

Cunningham was born January 16, 1963, in St. Louis, where he graduated from Parkway Central High School in 1981. He attended Gulf Coast Community College in Panama City, Fla. Off the field, Cunningham enjoys hunting and fishing. He resides in Koshkonog, Mo., with his wife, Desilee.

RON "POP" WARNER — HITTING COACH

Warner is in his third season as a coach in the Cardinals farm system and his first as a coach with the Peoria club. The previous two years (2002-2003), Warner was a coach at Class-A New Jersey. He made his coaching debut in 2001 at Double-A New Haven.

In 2000, Warner served as the batting practice pitcher for the Major League club. He was originally drafted by the Cardinals in the 17th round in 1991 as a shortstop out of the University of Wyoming and spent nine years playing in the Redbirds farm system. In 1999, he hit .290 with 11 home runs and 33 RBI for Memphis while playing several positions.

Warner, 34, resides in St. Charles, Mo., with his wife, Laura, and son, Colin Michael (1/9/04).

BRYAN EVERSGERD — PITCHING COACH

Eversgerd joins the Peoria Chiefs for his first year as the team's pitching coach. Most recently he served as the pitching coach in 2001 for the Cardinals at their Class-A Potomac affiliate. He was out of baseball the past two years.

He began his Major League baseball career with the Cardinals, signing as a nondrafted free agent on June 14, 1989. He pitched a scoreless inning of relief in his Major League debut for the Cardinals on April 26, 1994, and picked up his first big-league win in his only Major League start on May 20, 1994, at Florida. The left-hander also pitched at the Major League level for Montreal and Texas before returning to St. Louis from 1998 to 2000.

Eversgerd, 35, graduated from Carlyle (Ill.) High School in 1987 and played baseball at Kaskaskia Community College, leading the team to the 1989 sectional championship. He resides in Hoffman, Ill., with his wife, Lisa, and daughter, Kristen (6) and son, Jacob (4).

TOM NIETO — MANAGER

Nieto will manage for a second straight season at the Class-A Palm Beach Cardinals, his second year with the Cardinals overall. Nieto spent eight seasons with the New York Yankees, from 1995 to 2002.

Nieto served as the catching instructor for the Yankees in 2001-2002. Prior to his time as catching instructor, he managed several different minor league teams for the Yankees. In 1998 he led Greensboro (A) to the Championship Series and in 1997 was named Best Managerial Prospect in the South Atlantic League by Baseball America. He began his coaching career in 1992 as a coach for Double-A Chattanooga.

Nieto, 43, was signed by St. Louis after being drafted by the Cardinals in the third round of the June 1981 free-agent draft. He spent seven seasons in the Major Leagues from 1984 to 1990 with St. Louis, Montreal, Minnesota and Philadelphia. He experienced his best season with the Cardinals in 1985 when he played in 95 games and started two games of the World Series.

Nieto attended Cerritos Junior College (Calif.) and Oral Roberts University . He currently resides in Tampa, Fla., with his wife, Karen, and children Nicole and Marcus.

DARRELL WHITMORE — HITTING COACH

Whitmore begins his first year with the Cardinals organization, joining the club's high-A team in Palm Beach as the hitting coach.

Whitmore wrapped up his playing career in 2002 playing briefly with both Long Island of the Independant League and Tabasco of the Mexican League. He began his pro career in 1990 after being selected in the second-round of the June Amatuer draft by the Cleveland Indians. Darrell reached the Majors in 1993 with the Florida Marlins after being selected by Florida in the expansion draft. He spent parts of the 1993 and 1994 seasons and all of 1995 at the big-league level. Whitmore signed with the Cardinals and played at the Triple-A level in 2000 and 2001.

Whitmore, 35, was drafted out of West Virginia University. He resides in McCordville, Ind.

DEREK LILLIQUIST — PITCHING COACH

Lilliquist is in his third year with the Cardinals and will be serving as the pitching coach at Palm Beach for the first time. He was a coach at rookie level Johnson City in 2002. Before joining the Cardinals, Lilliquist was a high school baseball coach at Vero Beach (Fla.) High School from 1998 to 2001.

The former lefthanded starter-turned-reliever spent five-plus years in the Major Leagues, recording 25 victories. In 1992 while with Cleveland, Lilliquist made 71 appearances, going 5-3 with a 1.75 ERA. The next season with Cleveland, he earned 10 saves while recording a 2.25 ERA. He was drafted in 1987 by the Atlanta Braves in the first round (sixth pick overall) of the June free agent draft and spent time in the Major Leagues with Atlanta, San Diego, Cleveland, Boston and Cincinnati, ending his professional career in 1997.

Lilliquist, 38, graduated from Sarasota (Fla.) High School and had an outstanding collegiate career at the University of Georgia where he compiled a 31-12 record with a 3.30 ERA in three years. In 1987 he led Georgia to the SEC title and a first-ever trip to the NCAA College World Series after being named College Pitcher of the Year by Baseball America.

He resides in Vero Beach with his wife, Julie, and children Derek (10) and Alexandra (8).

MARK DeJOHN — MANAGER

DeJohn begins his third season as the manager for the team's Double-A club, the second year in Tennessee. He has led the Cardinals Double-A affiliate to the playoffs each of the last two seasons, last year with the Smokies and in 2002 with New Haven. Prior to becoming a minor league manager, DeJohn had served as a coach at the Major League level from 1996-2001. He was the organization's minor league field coordinator for three seasons and managed in the Cardinals' farm system from 1986 to 1991. He also managed and coached in Detroit's and Kansas City's minor league organizations.

DeJohn was drafted by the New York Mets in 1971 and played in their system through the 1977 season. He signed with the Detroit Tigers in 1978 and reached the major leagues with the Tigers in 1982. DeJohn made the transition from player to coach in 1983, serving as a minor league instructor for the Tigers. He then coached at Kansas City's Eugene affiliate in 1985, but returned to Detroit midway through the season to manage the Tigers' Birmingham club.

DeJohn joined the Cardinals' organization in 1986, managing the Savannah Cardinals to a 75-60 record. He spent two seasons in Savannah before taking the helm of the Midwest League's Springfield Cardinals in 1988. The next year he was named manager of Johnson City where he spent two seasons. DeJohn managed Detroit's Class AA London affiliate in 1992 before returning to the Cardinals' organization in 1993.

DeJohn, 50, attended Woodrow Wilson High School in Middletown, Conn. He has two children, Timothy and Stephanie, and resides in New Britain, Conn.

STEVE BALBONI — HITTING COACH

Balboni will be serving as a coach with the Cardinals Double-A club for a third straight season. He coached in 2001 with the Montreal Expos Single-A team and spent 1998 to 2000 as a coach in the Kansas City Royals organization.

Balboni, 47, played parts of 10 seasons in the majors from 1981 to 1990. Primarily a first baseman and designated hitter, he enjoyed playing time with the New York Yankees, Kansas City, Seattle and Texas. He had his best season playing first base as a member of the 1985 World Champion Kansas City team, batting .243 with 36 homers and 88 RBI during the regular season and hitting .320 during World Series action against the Cardinals.

Balboni resides in Murray Hill, N.J., with his wife, Eve, and their three sons, Daniel, Matthew and Michael.

BLAISE ILSLEY — PITCHING COACH

Ilsley will work his third year as the pitching coach for the Cardinals Double-A affiliate. Ilsley joined the Cardinals from the Baltimore Orioles' organization after serving as the pitching coach for the Bluefield Orioles in the Rookie Appalachian League during the 2001 campaign.

Ilsley began his coaching career in 1999 with Winnipeg of the independent Northern League and moved on to coach at Sioux Falls in 2000. He spent 14 seasons playing in the minor leagues with Houston, St. Louis, Chicago Cubs, Philadelphia, Cleveland and Montreal. He concluded his playing career in 1998 . He appeared in 10 games in the Major Leagues with the Chicago Cubs in 1994, making his Major League debut on April 4 of that year.

A fourth round draft pick of the Houston Astros in 1985, Ilsley was named to the Topps Rookie League All-Star team that year after leading the New York-Penn League with 116 strikeouts in 90 innings for Class-A Auburn. He is a 1982 graduate of Alpena High School (Mich.) and attended Indiana State University. Ilsley, 40, resides in Alpena, Mich., with his wife, Jo Anne.

DANNY SHEAFFER — MANAGER

Sheaffer is in his fourth year with the Cardinals minor league system in a coaching capacity. Sheaffer will begin his second season with the Memphis club after taking over the managing dutes on June 10 of last year. In 2002, Sheaffer managed the Peoria team to an 85-53 record and the Midwest League Championship. He made his coaching start with the Cardinals in 2001 as manager at New Haven and spent 1999 and 2000 managing the Chicago Cubs single-A affiliate in Eugene, Ore.

Sheaffer, 42, began his major league career when he was briefly called up in 1987 while playing with Boston. He also played in the big-leagues with Cleveland and Colorado before coming to St. Louis in 1995. Sheaffer spent the next three years as a Cardinal. He played for the Cardinals Triple-A Memphis club in 1998 and retired from baseball during the Cubs' spring training camp in 1999.

Sheaffer graduated in 1979 from Redland High School in Lewisberry, Pa., where he was the school MVP and earned all-state honors in baseball. He played baseball while attending Harrisburg (PA) Junior College and Clemson University and appeared in the 1980 College World Series with Clemson. Sheaffer was the 20th selection overall in the first round of the 1981 draft by Boston. He and his wife LaDonna have two sons, Daniel and David, and a daughter, Lorianna. The family resides in Mt. Airy, N.C.

TOMMY GREGG — HITTING COACH

Gregg begins his third year with the Cardinals organization as the hitting coach for Triple-A Memphis. For three seasons prior to joining the Cardinals, 1999-2001, Gregg worked with the Atlanta Braves organization. In 2001 he served as coach for the Braves' Myrtle Beach club (A) after spending two seasons with the Braves Single-A affiliate in Macon.

The former utility man played nine major league seasons with the Pittsburgh Pirates (1987-88), Atlanta Braves (1988-1992, 1997), Cincinnati Reds (1993) and Florida Marlins (1995). He played on the Braves National League Championship teams in 1991 and 1992 and saw postseason action with the club in 1997. In 1990, Gregg led the National League with 18 pinch-hits.

Gregg was drafted by the Pittsburgh Pirates in the 7th round of the June 1985 draft out of Wake Forest University. He was an All-ACC performer in baseball at Wake and also was a wide receiver and kick returner on the football team. Gregg, 41, and his wife, Tonya, reside in Suwanee, Ga., with their daughter, Jerdan.

DYAR MILLER — PITCHING COACH

Miller will be working his fourth-straight year as pitching coach for the Cardinals Triple-A club. Miller has worked 11 years in the Cardinals organization, including four years as a roving pitching instructor (1997 to 2000). During the 1995-96 seasons Miller was the pitching coach at Triple-A Louisville. He previously coached in the Cardinals system at Arkansas (1985) and Louisville (1986) and was the bullpen coach for the Chicago White Sox in 1987 and pitching and bullpen coach for the Sox in 1988. Miller also coached in the Detroit system (1989-90) and was with the Cleveland organization as a pitching coach from 1991 to 1994.

The 57-year-old former pitcher was originally signed by Philadelphia. He spent seven years in the majors, pitching for Baltimore (1975-77), California (1977-79), Toronto (1979) and the New York Mets (1980-81), compiling a 23-17 record with 22 saves and a 3.23 ERA.

Miller was born in Batesville, Ind., and graduated from New Point High School, where he participated in baseball, basketball and track. He earned a B.S. degree in 1968 from Utah State, where he played baseball and basketball. Miller and his wife, Bertha, have four children: Scott, Matthew, Christopher and Sara Mae. They reside in Indianapolis.

MARK RIGGINS
MINOR LEAGUE PITCHING COORDINATOR

Riggins is entering his ninth season as the organization's minor league pitching coordinator and his 21st year overall with the Cardinals. In 1995, he served as the Cardinals' pitching coach under Joe Torre and Mike Jorgensen and was the pitching coach at Louisville from 1990 to 1994.

Riggins, 47, began his coaching career in 1984 with Johnson City, and also managed at St. Petersburg, Arkansas and Springfield through the 1988 seson. He spent 1989 as the Cardinals' roving minor league pitching instructor before joining the Louisville staff in 1990.

Riggins pitched in the Cardinals' system for five seasons with Gastonia, St. Petersburg, Arkansas and Louisville. He also played on loan for Baltimore's Charlotte club for part of 1983.

Riggins is a graduate of Loogootee High School in Indiana and earned a bachelor's degree in agricultural business in 1979 from Murray State University, where he was a three-year all-conference pitcher. He makes his off-season home in Murray, Ky., with his wife, Tammie, and daughter, Chelsea Lee.

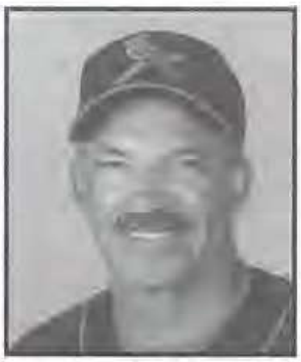
GENE TENACE
MINOR LEAGUE HITTING COORDINATOR

Tenace will begin his third year with the Cardinals organization as minor league hitting coordinator. From 1999 through the 2001 season, he worked with the Boston Red Sox in a variety of roles within their minor league system.

Tenace, 57, began his coaching career in 1984 as minor league hitting instructor for the Milwaukee Brewers. He also spent time with Houston and the New York Yankees before joining the Toronto Blue Jays in 1989 as their minor league hitting instructor. Tenace was appointed as the Blue Jays Major League hitting coach in 1990. During 1991, he assumed managerial duties on August 21, when Cito Gaston was hospitalized for back problems, going 19-14 in his absence. Tenace became Toronto's bench coach in 1992 until he took over as bullpen coach in 1996 through 1997.

The 15-year Major League veteran signed with the Kansas City Athletics as their 11th pick in June of 1965. He made his Major League debut in 1969 with Oakland and played in five League Championship Series (1971-75, OAK) and four World Series (1972-74, OAK; 1982, STL). Tenace earned World Series MVP honors in 1972 after hitting four home runs during the Series.

Tenace is a graduate of Valley Local High School in Lucasville, Ohio. He and his wife, Linda, have three grown daughters, Stacy, Merinda and Gina and reside in Redmond, Ore.



TOM SPENCER
MINOR LEAGUE BASERUNNING/OUTFIED INSTRUCTOR

Spencer will continue for a second season in his role as baserunning/outfield instructor for the organization's minor league system. Spencer managed the Cardinals' Triple-A Memphis affiliate in 2003 before moving to his current position.

The former Chicago White Sox outfielder spent the 2002 season as the minor league outfield coordinator for the Arizona Diamondbacks. His previous five years were spent managing at the Triple-A level, including stops at Nashville (1997), Calgary (1998), Charlotte (1999) and Tucson (2000-2001).

The Gallipolis, Ohio, native managed Calgary to the PCL Championship Series in 1998 and won the International League Manager of the Year Award after guiding Charlotte to a championship the following season. Spencer has a total of 10 years experience managing clubs from Rookie League to Triple-A since taking over Asheville of the South Atlantic League in 1983. He has also spent five seasons coaching first and third base in the major leagues with Cleveland (1988-89), the New York Mets (1991) and the Houston Astros (1992-93).

A 20th round-selection of the Cincinnati Reds in 1968, Spencer hit .274 with 76 home runs and 503 RBI over an 11-year minor league career before making his major league debut with the White Sox in 1978.

Spencer, 53, and his wife, Linda, have an 18-year-old daughter, K.C., and reside in Tucson, Ariz.

MARTEESE ROBINSON
DIRECTOR OF PROFESSIONAL SCOUTING

Robinson is in his fourth year with the Cardinals as Director of Professional Scouting and provides oversight for the team's professional scouting staff, including the team's advance scouting efforts. Robinson joined the scouting ranks in 1999 as scouting supervisor with the Toronto Blue Jays and was promoted to scouting coordinator in 2000.

Robinson, 37, was selected by the Oakland Athletics in the sixth round of the June 1987 draft. He played four seasons before retiring at the beginning of 1991. From 1992 to 1998 Robinson was a police officer in Scottsdale, Ariz.

Robinson was born in Newark, NJ, and graduated from Seton Hall Preparatory High School in 1984. He attended Seton Hall University from 1984 to1987 and led the nation in hitting in 1987 with a .529 batting average, earning co-College Player of the Year honors with Robin Ventura. His college career is chronicled in a newly released book, "The Hit Men and the Kid Who Batted Ninth" by David Siroty. Robinson and his wife, Charlene, reside in St. Louis, Mo., with their children, Bria (11), Marteese, Jr. (5) and Jada (3).

GEORGE KISSELL
SENIOR FIELD COORDINATOR FOR PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

As senior field coordinator for player development, George Kissell assists each of the Cardinals' minor league affiliates and reports to Director of Player Development Bruce Manno. With his expertise in fundamentals of the game, Kissell handles many of the instructional duties for the minor leagues during spring training and extended spring training. Kissell will also rejoin the coaching ranks this season, serving as a position coach for the rookie club in Johnson City

Kissell spent 10 years in the minor leagues as an infielder and has served the Cardinals in several capacities since joining the organization in 1940. From 1946 to 1968, he worked as a manager, coach, scout and minor league instructor. Kissell was a coach for the Major League club from 1969 to 1975 and a special field assistant to General Manager Bing Devine in 1976.

Kissell, a Watertown, N.Y., native, graduated with a master's degree from Ithaca (N.Y.) College. In 1999, he was honored with a plaque that hangs outside Busch Stadium in recognition of his many years of service with the club, most of them as a teacher. He was enshrined in the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame this February. He and his wife, Ginny, reside in St. Petersburg. The couple have a son, Dick, and a daughter, Kay.

BOB HUMPHREYS
MINOR LEAGUE FIELD COORDINATOR

Humphreys begins his third year as the minor league field coordinator for the Redbirds. A member of the Cardinals 1964 World Series team, Humphreys was a relief pitcher for the Cardinals for two seasons (1963-64).

Humphreys spent nine years in the big leagues with five different clubs. He signed with the Detroit Tigers in 1958 and made his Major League debut with Detroit in 1962. After playing the next two seasons with the Cardinals, Humphreys went on to play with the Chicago Cubs and Washington Senators before finishing his career with Milwaukee in 1971.

Humphreys coached at Virginia Tech for five years before returning to the Major League scene as the minor league pitching coordinator for Toronto, a post he held for five seasons. He then served as Milwaukee's coordinator of pitching and player development for 14 years before rejoining the coaching ranks for two years at Hampden Sydney College.

Humphreys resides in Bedford, Va., with his wife, Genny.

BING DEVINE
SPECIAL ASSIGNMENT SCOUT

Devine rejoined the Cardinals in October 1999 as a special assignment scout and reports directly to Senior Vice President/General Manager Walt Jocketty. During the regular season, Devine assists in scouting the Cardinals' National League opponents and the organization's minor league system.

As the Cardinals' general manager from 1958 to 1964 and 1968 to 1978, Devine will long be remembered for trades that helped build Redbirds teams that won World Series in 1964 and 1967 and the N.L. pennant in 1968. He acquired Curt Flood, Dick Groat, Bill White, Julian Javier and, his most celebrated deal, Lou Brock from the Chicago Cubs. Devine also was president of the St. Louis football Cardinals from 1981 to 1986 and president of the New York Mets from 1965-67. He most recently worked as a scout for the Houston Astros and as a special assignment scout for the Philadelphia Phillies. His career includes stints with the Montreal Expos and San Francisco Giants, as well.

A collegiate basketball star while attending Washington University, Devine served in the United States Navy from 1943 to 1946 after beginning his career in professional sports with the Cardinals in 1939.

FRED McALISTER
SPECIAL ASSIGNMENT SCOUT

Fred McAlister became a Cardinals special assignment scout following the 1993 season after serving as scouting director since 1980. As special assignment scout, he reports directly to Senior Vice President/General Manager Walt Jocketty.

McAlister has been part of the Cardinals' organization since 1945, when he signed as a player out of high school. He played in the Cardinals farm system from 1945 to 1960, serving as a player/coach or player/manager at various times.

During his tenure as scouting director, McAlister's first-round picks reached the majors in 12 of his 13 drafts, including a streak of picks from 1981 to 1987. McAlister's drafts produced more than 70 players who suited up for the Cardinals, as well as 17 players who reached the majors with other organizations. Prior to his work as scouting director, he was the Cardinals' assistant farm director from 1967 to 1969 and served as a scouting supervisor and special assignment scout from 1969 to 1979.

MARTY MAIER
SPECIAL ASSIGNMENT SCOUT

Maier was appointed to his current role as a special assignment scout in October 2003. Before his new position, Maier had served as the team's Director of Amateur Scouting for the past three seasons.

Maier, working his 25th year in professional baseball, first joined the the Cardinals' scouting staff on Nov. 1, 1979. He was named assistant scouting director in 1987 and became scouting director in October 1993. From 1998 through 2000, Maier was a special assistant to the General Manager on the Los Angeles Dodgers' staff.

Originally from Hollywood, Fla., Maier graduated in 1970 from South Broward High School, where he played baseball and football. He received his associate's degree from Broward Community College in 1972 and a bachelor's degree from Florida State University in 1974. A minor league infielder, Maier was signed by the Kansas City Royals and, later, by the New York Yankees. Maier and his wife, Diane, reside in St. Louis, Mo., and have three sons: Zack, 13; Jacob, 8; and Max, 4.

SCOTT SMULCZENSKI
DIRECTOR, BASEBALL OPERATIONS

Scott Smulczenski is in his 22nd season with the Cardinals after joining the organization in 1982 as an intern in the marketing department. Smulczenski worked in marketing and office administration in a part-time capacity for three years before being hired full-time in January, 1987. He is serving his 18th season in his current role.

As director of minor league operations, Smulczenski assists the Cardinals' six minor league affiliates with their travel and equipment needs. He also serves as support and main contact for the team's minor league players.

Smulczenski graduated from Choctawhatchee High School, in Fort Walton Beach, Fla. He earned a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of Texas in 1983. A diehard Texas Longhorn and Pittsburgh Steelers fan, Smulczenski enjoys traveling in his spare time. He and his wife Kelly reside in Warson Woods, Mo., with their two daughters, Danielle (11) and Hanna (9).

JOHN VUCH
ASSISTANT DIRECTOR PLAYER DEVELOPMENT, MANAGER OF BASEBALL INFORMATION

John Vuch is in his 17th season in the player development department and his 26th overall season with the Cardinals. Vuch began working for the Cardinals as a "runner" in 1979 and worked in the Sales Department from 1985 to 1987.

In his current role, Vuch is responsible for preparing statistical analysis for use in salary arbitration and contract negotiations. He assists with the daily operations of the Player Development Department and helps coordinate the Scouting Department's preparation for the June draft. Vuch currently serves on Major League Baseball's Player Information Application Development Committee. He also serves as the official MLB statistician for Cardinals home games and is responsible for estimating the distance of all home runs hit at Busch Stadium.

A St. Louis native, Vuch graduated from Oakville High School and the University of Missouri-St. Louis with a bachelor's degree in Business Administration. Vuch and his wife Maria reside in south St. Louis County with their children Jack (9), Hayley (6) and Anna (3).

JIM LEYLAND
MAJOR LEAGUE SCOUT

RINGTHEBELL.TV on Archive.org

Leyland joined the Cardinals staff in 2000 as a major league scout. From his primary base in Pittsburgh, he scouts National League teams that visit PNC Park and travels to Cleveland's Jacobs Field to evaluate American League clubs. Leyland reports directly to Senior Vice President/General Manager Walt Jocketty.

Leyland retired as a major league manager following the 1999 season, his 14th as a big-league skipper, with a career 1,069-1,131 record. He managed in Pittsburgh (1986-96), Florida (1997-98) and Colorado, leading the Marlins to a World Series championship in 1997 and the Pirates to three straight Eastern Division titles, beginning in 1990. He was a minor league manager from 1971 to 1981, leading his clubs to five first-place finishes.

Leyland, 59, was a catcher in the Detroit farm system from 1964 to 1970. He resides in Pittsburgh with his wife, Katie, and their two children, Patrick (10/11/91) and Kellie (6/23/93).

MIKE JORGENSEN

SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE GENERAL MANAGER

Mike Jorgensen was promoted to his current post on September 22, 2001, after serving as director of player development for 10 seasons, since February 1992. He was the team's minor league hitting instructor/coordinator in1990 and 1991.

Upon retiring as a player after the 1985 season, Jorgensen was hired as an instructor in the Cardinals' minor league system. Midway through the 1986 season, he was named manager at St. Petersburg and led the team to an 88-48 finish, the best mark in the Florida State League. He also managed the Triple-A Louisville Redbirds from 1987 to 1989. Jorgensen made his big-league managerial debut following the dismissal of Cardinals skipper Joe Torre on June 16, 1995, and guided the team to a 41-55 mark. While managing the field operations, Jorgensen also remained in his post as director of player development.

Jorgensen was a lefthanded-hitting first baseman/outfielder during a major league career that spanned 18 seasons. He was selected by the New York Mets in the June 1966 free-agent draft and made his big-league debut in 1968. He was traded to Montreal at the start of the 1972 season, his first of five full seasons with the Expos. He went on to play for Oakland, Texas, the Mets again, Atlanta and the St. Louis.

Jorgensen, born August 16, 1948, in Passaic, N.J., and his wife, Brenda, have three children; Brian, Kristen and Eric, and one grandchild; Eric. He graduated from Francis Lewis High School in Flushing, N.Y., and attended St. John's University.

QUALIFICATIONS AND REGULATIONS

QUALIFICATIONS FOR A BATTING CHAMPION:

Highest batting average and 502 or more plate appearances.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR A PITCHING CHAMPION:

Lowest ERA and 162 or more innings pitched.

PLAYER LIMITS:

40 until opening day, when the number must be reduced to 25 until September 1, when it again may become 40.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR A SAVE:

A relief pitcher shall be credited with a save when he meets all three of the following conditions:

1. He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club, and
2. He is not the winning pitcher, and
3. He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
   a. He enters the game with lead of no more than three runs, and pitches for at least one inning, or
   b. He enters the game with potential tying run either on base, at-bat, or on deck (that is, the potential tying run is either already on base or is one of the first two batsmen he faces), or
   c. He pitches effectively for at least three innings.

DETERMINING BATTING AVERAGE:

Divide the number of at-bats into the number of hits.

DETERMINING AN EARNED-RUN-AVERAGE:

Multiply the number of earned runs by nine, then divide the number by the number of innings pitched.

DETERMINING FIELDING AVERAGE:

Divide the total number of putouts and assists by total chances (putouts, assists and errors).

DETERMINING ON-BASE AVERAGE:

Add the total of hits, walks and hit-by-pitches and divide by the total of at-bats, walks, hit-by-pitches and sacrifice flies.

DETERMINING SLUGGING AVERAGE:

Divide total bases by the total times at bat. (At-bats do not include walks, sacrifices, hit by pitcher, or times awarded first base by interference or obstruction).

TRADING REGULATIONS:

Trades may be made with any other major league club in the period from the end of the championship season through July 31 without waivers. Waivers are required, however:

1. If the assignment is to another major league club: From August 1 to the end of the season.
2. If assignment is to a minor league club, with right of recall, at any time after three years from the date the player first reported to a major league club during a championship season.
3. If assigned to a minor league club without right of recall, after acquiring three years service: At any time during the year.
4. If assigned to a minor league club, without right of recall, at any time prior to acquiring three years of service, special waivers are required between September 1 and the opening of the following season. If player is claimed, request may be withdrawn. If no claims are made, club has 7-day period in which to make assignment to minor leagues.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR A "ROOKIE":

A player shall be considered a rookie unless, during a previous season or seasons, he has (a) exceeded 130 at-bats or 50 innings pitched in the major leagues; or (b) accumulated more than 45 days on the active roster of a major league club or clubs during the period of the 25-player limit (excluding time in military service).

DETERMINING THE MAGIC NUMBER:

Determine the number of games yet to be played, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the lost column of the standings from the closest opponent.

QUALIFICATIONS FOR FIELDING CHAMPIONSHIP:

Highest fielding average and (a) catcher must have played in at least 81 games; (b) infielder or outfielder must have played in at least 108 games; and (c) pitcher must have 162 innings pitched.

CONSECUTIVE-GAMES HITTING STREAK:

A consecutive-game hitting streak shall not be terminated if all the player's plate appearances result in a walk, hit batsman, defensive interference or a sacrifice bunt. The streak shall terminate if the player has a sacrifice fly and no hit.

CONSECUTIVE-GAMES PLAYING STREAK:

A consecutive-game playing streak shall extend if the player plays one half-inning on defense, or if he completes a time at bat by reaching base or being put out. A pinch-running appearance only shall not extend the streak. If a player is ejected from a game by an umpire before he can comply with the requirements of this rule, his streak shall continue.

REGULATION GAME:

A regulation game consists of nine innings unless extended because of a tie score or shortened because (1) the home team needs none of its half of the ninth or only part of it; or (2) because the umpire-in-chief calls the game after five completed innings. A regulation game may be less than five innings if the home team is ahead after the top of the fifth, or takes the lead or ties the score while at bat in the fifth.

DISABLED LISTS:

15-DAY: Minimum period of inactivity is 15 calendar days, beginning on the day after the player's last game. There is no limit on the number of players that may be placed on this list.

60-DAY: Minimum period of inactivity is 60 calendar days. Players on or transferred to this list after August 1 shall remain there for the balance of the regular season and post-season. This list may be used only when a club is at the maximum limit of 40 players.

BUSCH STADIUM 1966 — 2004

In the mid-1950s, several years after he persuaded the board of directors of Anheuser-Busch to purchase the St. Louis Cardinals, August A. Busch Jr. decided that if the team was to prosper and attract the fans necessary to support a major league franchise, it would have to move to a new stadium.

Mr. Busch took his idea for a new stadium in downtown St. Louis to city officials and civic leaders. Their interest in a major redevelopment of the downtown area and their realization that a new stadium could serve as the focal point paved the way for the laying of groundwork for the project.

In 1964, ground was broken, and on May 12, 1966, Busch Stadium officially opened as the new home of the St. Louis Cardinals. In a 12-inning inaugural, the Cardinals defeated the Atlanta Braves, 4-3.

Looking back over the stadium's 38-year past, it is clear that Mr. Busch and others involved in the project accurately anticipated that the new stadium would spur a rebirth of downtown St. Louis. With Busch Stadium as the focal point, the redevelopment of the downtown area has been marked by the addition of new office buildings, hotels, shopping complexes, parking garages and other facilities, including the International Bowling Hall of Fame and Museum.

Through the 2003 season, nearly 85 million people have attended 2,942 games at Busch Stadium.

Recent improvements and additions include the installation in 1997 of a hand-operated scoreboard flanked by flag decks commemorating the club's World Series championships and retired numbers; the return in 1996 to a natural-grass playing surface, which replaced the artificial turf that had been in place since 1970; the opening in 1996 of the Family Pavilion, featuring a variety of games and attractions for families and children, and Homer's Landing, a picnic area located above the bullpen in left-center field; and the return of a more traditional "ballpark green" color scheme for the outfield fence and stadium trim.

Other improvements include the installation in 1993 of a state-of-the-art sound system and a new large-screen video display, a Diamond Vision MARK III High Contrast system by Mitsubishi Electronics. Prior to the 1995 season, a Plaza of Champions monument display honoring the Cardinals' World Championship teams was erected near the Stan Musial statue. The Cardinals' home clubhouse received a major renovation before the 2001 season, with a new training room and weight room also being added.

In 1998, the club dedicated the first in a series of statues that form an outdoor promenade between Gates 6 and 7 to honor the players who helped forge the Cardinals' championship tradition. Thus far, the club has unveiled statues honoring Bob Gibson, Stan Musial and Jack Buck, in 1998; Lou Brock, Red Schoendienst and Enos Slaughter, in 1999; Dizzy Dean and Rogers Hornsby, in 2000; George Sisler (St. Louis Browns), in 2001; and Negro League legend James "Cool Papa" Bell and Hall of Famer Ozzie Smith in 2002. The statues were created by Missouri sculptor Harry C. Weber.

Busch Stadium's basic structure is concrete. The stadium is basically a two-deck facility with about half its seats in each deck. The seats completely surround the field without posts or columns to obstruct fans' views. The nearly circular structure has an outside diameter of more than 800 feet, covers more than 12 acres and is 130-feet tall, measured from the playing field to the top of the stadium.

The playing field at Busch Stadium is 10 to 30 feet lower than street level. Spectators move from the entrance level either up or down to seating areas. There are eight major entrances.

Field dimensions, from home plate: left-field line, 330 feet; left-center field, 372; center field, 402; right-center field, 372; right-field line, 330. Outfield walls are 8-feet high.

Busch Stadium capacity for the 2004 season is 50,345.

BUSCH STADIUM GROUND RULES

OUTFIELD AREA

Fair ball bounding into field boxes, bleachers, bullpens or going through or under fences — TWO BASES.

DUGOUTS

Ball rolling onto top step of dugouts (which are at ground level) is IN PLAY.

Photographers' areas on outfield sides of each dugout shall be considered part of the dugout.

Ball thrown by pitcher from the rubber to catch baserunner off first or third base that goes into stands or dugouts — ONE BASE.

A pitch, thrown or batted ball that hits anyone on the playing field except as otherwise provided for in the Official Rules is IN PLAY.

Ball going through wire screen behind plate or lodging in it — ONE BASE on throw by pitcher — TWO BASES on throw by fielder.

DID YOU KNOW?

Mike Laga is the only player to ever hit a ball out of Busch Stadium during a game. On Sept. 15, 1986, vs. New York, the lefthanded-hitting Laga crushed a foul ball down the first base line that left the ballpark approximately two-thirds of the way down the line. Over his nine-year major league career (1982-90), Laga hit two of his 16 home runs at Busch Stadium.

JACK BUCK
BROADCASTER

FULL NAME: John Francis Buck
BORN: 8/21/1924 at Holyoke, Massachusetts.
DIED: 6/18/2002 at St. Louis, Missouri.
YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1954-2001.
NUMBER RETIRED: 2002.

He never swung a bat or thew a pitch. Yet, Jack Buck ranks as one of the most popular individuals ever associated with the Cardinals - perhaps the most popular.

Buck served as the "Voice of the Cardinals" on KMOX radio from 1954 to 2001. He was behind the microphone for some of the franchise's most-memorable moments: Bob Gibson's no-hitter in 1971, Lou Brock's 105th stolen base in 1974 and Mark McGwire's 61st home run in 1998. And his legendary call of Ozzie Smith's game-winning home run in Game 5 of the 1985 National League Championship Series against the Los Angeles Dodgers, when Buck told St. Louis fans to "Go crazy, folks! Go crazy," still sends chills up Cardinals' fans spines every time it is replayed.

Through it all, Buck's signature phrase after every Cardinals' victory was "That's a winner," and those words are printed on Buck's retired number pennant.

From 1954 to 1969, Buck worked along side another legend, Harry Caray, to form what is widely regarded as the best baseball broadcast duo ever assembled. From 1972 to 2001, Buck teamed with former Cards' third baseman Mike Shannon, and the pair became as synonymous with St. Louis baseball as Stan Musial and Bob Gibson. Beginning in 1991, Buck had the privilege of calling games with his son Joe, who now is the lead baseball and football announcer for FOX Sports television.

Buck was inducted into the broadcaster's wing of the Baseball Hall of Fame in 1987. He was honored with a statue outside the Cardinals' executive offices at Busch Stadium in 1998.

There was more to Buck than Cardinals' baseball. He broadcast several World Series for CBS Radio. His most-famous non-St. Louis call came in Game 1 of the 1988 Fall Classic when an injured Kirk Gibson hit a game-winning pinch-hit homer for the Dodgers against the Oakland Athletics. "Unbelievable!" Buck exclaimed. "I don't believe what I just saw." Buck was CBS-TV's lead play-by-play announcer in 1990 and 1991, and he also worked for ABC and NBC.

Buck enjoyed a distinguished football broadcasting career, as well. He called one of the most famous games ever, the 1967 Ice Bowl between the Dallas Cowboys and Green Bay Packers, for CBS, and he was the radio voice of Monday Night Football for CBS from 1978 to 1996, working with former NFL head coach Hank Stram. Buck, whose total of 17 Super Bowl broadcasts is the most of any announcer, received the Pete Rozelle Award from the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1996.

In addition, Buck announced basketball and hockey over the course of his career and also worked with Chris Schenkel on the Pro Bowler's Tour. Outside of sports, he served as the original host of "At Your Service" on KMOX, a program that essentially started the phenomenon of talk radio.

Buck's popularity extends well beyond his trademark gravely voice. Fans from coast to coast, but particularly those in St. Louis, knew him as a tremendously generous man who made time for everyone. He was named St. Louis' Citizen of the Year in 2000 for his contributions to the community.

When Buck passed away in June 2002, some 10,000 fans attended his public memorial service at Busch Stadium.

ROGERS HORNSBY
SECOND BASEMAN/MANAGER

FULL NAME: Rogers Hornsby
HEIGHT: 5-11 WEIGHT: 175 BATTED: Right THREW: Right
BORN: 4/27/1896 at Winters, Texas. DIED: 1/5/1963 at Chicago, Illinois.
YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1915-26, 1933.
NUMBER RETIRED: 1997 (The Cardinals did not have numbers on their uniforms during Hornsby's tenure).

Since 1900, only two players have batted .400 on three occasions – Ty Cobb and Rogers Hornsby.

Only two playes have won multiple Triple Crowns – Ted Williams and Hornsby.

Hornsby, primarily a second baseman during his 23-year career, batted .401 in 1922, .403 in 1925 and .424 (a modern-day record) in 1924. He is the lone player in Cardinals' history to reach the coveted plateau. Hornsby led the National League in batting six consecutive seasons from 1920 to 1925, compiling a .397 average during that span. From 1921 to 1925, his average was .402, making him the only player ever to bat .400 over a five-year period.

Arguably the greatest right-handed batter of all time, Hornsby won the Triple Crown in 1922 and 1925. The first time, he batted .401 with 42 home runs (then an N.L. record) and 152 RBI while setting club records that still stand of 141 runs, 250 hits, 450 total bases, a .756 slugging percentage and a 33-game hitting streak. The second time, Hornsby had a .403 average with 39 homers and 139 RBI en route to being named the N.L. Most Valuable Player.

"The Rajah" spent the first 12 years of his career in St. Louis, leading the league in slugging percentage seven times; total bases six times; hits, doubles and RBI four times; runs three times; triples and home runs twice; and walks once. He was well known for refusing to go to movies because he thought the "strain" of watching the screen in darkness would hinder his eyesight.

On June 1, 1925, Hornsby took over as manager of the Cardinals, as well, replacing Branch Rickey. Hornsby continued in the dual role in 1926 and piloted the club to an 89-65 record and its first-ever World Championship, a seven-game victory over the New York Yankees. He tagged out Babe Ruth attempting to steal second base for the final out of Game 7, calling the play that clinched the 3-2 victory "the biggest thrill of my baseball career."

An outspoken individual, Hornsby at times was critical of owner Sam Breadon. Eventually, Breadon had enough, and on Dec. 26, 1926, Hornsby was traded to the New York Giants for infielder Frankie Frisch (who had had a falling out with his manager, John McGraw) and pitcher Jimmy Ring.

Hornsby subsequently played for and managed the Boston Braves (1928) and Chicago Cubs (1929-32), winning a second MVP Award in 1929, before returning to the Cardinals in 1933. His second stint, however, lasted just three months before Hornsby was released to become manager of the cross-town Browns. He remained in the Browns' dugout until midway through the 1937 season. Hornsby returned to manage the Browns for the first two months of the 1952 campaign before moving on to the Cincinnati Reds for roughly a season and a half.

On the Cardinals' career lists, Hornsby ranks first in batting average (.359); second in triples (143); third in runs (1,089), hits (2,110) and total bases (3,342); fourth in doubles (367) and RBI (1,072); fifth in home runs (193); sixth in walks (660); eighth in at-bats (5,881); and ninth in games (1,580). He played 997 games at second base, the fourth-most in franchise history.

Hornsby, whose lifetime batting average of .358 is the highest of any right-handed batter and second only to Cobb's .366 among all players, was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1942.

AUGUST A. BUSCH JR. 85

PRESIDENT

FULL NAME: August Anheuser Busch, Jr.

BORN: 3/28/1899 at St. Louis, Missouri. DIED: 9/29/89 at St. Louis, Missouri.

YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1953-89.

NUMBER RETIRED: 1984.

August A. Busch Jr.'s reign as president of the Cardinals was marked by success on and off the field. Between 1953 and 1989, the Cardinals won three World Championships (1964, 1967 and 1982) and three additional National League pennants (1968, 1985 and 1987). They also forged the reputation of having the classiest organization in Major League Baseball.

Busch purchased the franchise from Fred Saigh on Feb. 20, 1953. Busch was president of Anheuser-Busch brewery, which benefited from the acquisition of the ball club. Although he didn't devote a tremendous amount of time to baseball-related matters early on, by the 1960s, Busch had grown tired of the Cardinals routinely finishing no higher than the middle of the pack in the N.L.

After winning the 1964 World Series over the New York Yankees, Busch was instrumental in the building of "new" Busch Stadium. The $26 million ballpark opened May 12, 1966, with a 4-3 victory over the Atlanta Braves in 12 innings and became the foundation of a rejuvenated downtown. In 1967, the Cardinals surpassed 2,000,000 in home attendance for the first time in franchise history.

Busch retired as leader of the brewery in 1975, handing over control to his son, August III. The Cardinals failed to win during the decade of the 1970s, leaving Busch anxious to return to prominence. He made arguably his best baseball decision June 9, 1980, when he hired Whitey Herzog as manager. Busch and Herzog enjoyed a sterling relationship that played a major role in the Cardinals' renewed success. Home attendance soared, with the club drawing 3,000,000-plus fans in both 1987 and 1989.

Throughout his ownership of the Cardinals, "Gussie" was one of the City of St. Louis' most popular citizens. He was a regular at home games, and on special occasions would ride around the stadium atop a Budweiser wagon pulled by a team of signature Anheuser-Busch Clydesdales.

The Cardinals retired the number 85 in Busch's honor in conjunction with his 85th birthday in 1984. He died Sept. 29, 1989, at the age of 90. August III subsequently served as chief executive until Anheuser-Busch sold the club to the current ownership group March 21, 1996.

PROMINENT CARDINALS WHO WORE NO. 45

- Von McDaniel, 1957-58

BOB GIBSON

PITCHER

FULL NAME: Robert Gibson
HEIGHT: 6-1 WEIGHT: 195 BATS: Right THROWS: Right
BORN: 11/9/35 at Omaha, Nebraska.
YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1959-75.
NUMBER RETIRED: 1975.

Bob Gibson ranks as the greatest pitcher in Cardinals' history. A glance at the record book supports the claim. On the franchise's career lists, the right-hander is first in wins (251), complete games (255), shutouts (56), innings pitched (3,884.1) and strikeouts (3,117). He is second in games pitched (528) and tied for ninth in ERA (2.91).

An outstanding athlete, Gibson played with the Harlem Globetrotters before arriving in St. Louis to stay in 1961. Three years later, he posted a 19-12 record with a 3.01 ERA in helping the Cardinals win the National League pennant. After losing Game 2 of the World Series to the New York Yankees, Gibson posted complete-game victories in Game 5 (5-2 in 10 innings) and Game 7 (7-5) and earned Series Most Valuable Player honors.

Gibson was on his way to another banner season in 1967 when a line drive off the bat of Pittsburgh Pirates' outfielder Roberto Clemente broke Gibson's right leg July 15. He was sidelined 52 days but returned to pitch the N.L. pennant clincher against the Philadelphia Phillies on Sept. 18 and then go 3-0 with a 1.00 ERA, three complete games and 26 strikeouts in the Cardinals' World Series victory over the Boston Red Sox.

The postseason dominance was an indicator of things to come. In 1968, Gibson authored the greatest season by a pitcher in modern history. His 1.12 ERA established an all-time record for 300 or more innings. Gibson posted a 22-9 record with league-leading totals of 13 shutouts and 268 strikeouts. During one stretch, he surrendered two earned runs over 95 innings. Gibson was named the N.L. Cy Young Award winner and MVP. For an encore, Gibson set a record with 17 strikeouts in Game 1 of the World Series against the Detroit Tigers (a 4-0 victory). He pitched two more complete games (winning Game 4 by the score of 10-1 before losing Game 7 by a 4-1 margin) to run his streak to a record eight straight complete-game starts in Series play. Gibson, the series MVP, totaled 35 strikeouts in the three games to establish a Fall Classic standard.

Gibson won his second Cy Young Award in 1970 on the strength of a 23-7 record and 3.12 ERA. He fired a no-hitter against Pittsburgh on Aug. 14, 1971, winning 11-0 at Three Rivers Stadium, and became the second pitcher in baseball history to record 3,000 career strikeouts July 17, 1974 (following Walter Johnson of the Washington Senators).

Accompanying his blazing fastball and pinpoint control was an intense demeanor. Gibson was a complete pitcher, clouting 24 home runs and winning nine Gold Gloves. The nine-time N.L. All-Star was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1981, his first year of eligibility. "Gibby" served as pitching coach for the New York Mets (1981) and Atlanta Braves (1982-84) and bullpen coach for St. Louis (1995). He also has done some broadcasting and has been a special instructor for the Cardinals since 1996.

LOU BROCK

FULL NAME: Louis Clark Brock
HEIGHT: 5-11 WEIGHT: 170 BATS: Left THROWS: Left
BORN: 6/18/39 at El Dorado, Arkansas.
YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1964-79.
NUMBER RETIRED: 1979.

If it's been said once, it's been said a million times. The Cardinals' acquisition of outfielder Lou Brock from the Chicago Cubs on June 15, 1964, ranks as perhaps the greatest steal in baseball history. St. Louis traded pitchers Ernie Broglio and Bobby Shantz and outfielder Doug Clemens in exchange for Brock and pitchers Jack Spring and Paul Toth.

Over the course of his career with the Cardinals, Brock established himself as the most prolific base stealer in baseball history to that time. His 938 stolen bases stood as the major league record until Rickey Henderson bettered the mark in 1991. Brock's total remains the National League standard, and he holds the major league record with 12 seasons of 50 or more steals. Brock led the N.L. in thefts on eight occasions (1966 to 1969 and 1971 to 1974). He set the season record with 118 in 1974, bettering the mark of 104 by Maury Wills during the 1962 campaign. In 1978, the N.L. announced that its annual stolen base leader would receive the Lou Brock Award, making Brock the first active player to have an award named after him.

But Brock was more than a base burglar. He was a career .293 batter with 3,023 hits. Seven times he batted at a .300 or better clip. In 1967, Brock slugged 21 home runs and had 76 RBI from the leadoff spot. He also had 52 stolen bases to become the first player in baseball history with 20 homers and 50 steals. The following year, Brock topped the N.L. in doubles (46), triples (14) and stolen bases (62), the first player in the Senior Circuit to do so since Honus Wagner of the Pittsburgh Pirates in 1908. Brock joined the 3,000-hit club Aug. 13, 1979, with a fourth-inning single off Dennis Lamp of the Chicago Cubs at Busch Stadium.

Brock paid immediate dividends in St. Louis, batting .348 for the balance of the 1964 season and propelling the Cardinals from eighth place in the N.L. to a World Championship over the New York Yankees. The Cardinals won the World Series again in 1967 over the Boston Red Sox and were N.L. champions in 1968. Brock was at his best in postseason play. His .391 career batting average (34-for-87) is a World Series record, while his 14 stolen bases are tied for the most all time with Eddie Collins of the Philadelphia Athletics and Chicago White Sox.

On the Cardinals' career lists, Brock ranks first in stolen bases (888 - Vince Coleman is second with 549); second in games (2,289), at-bats (9,125), runs (1,427), hits (2,713), doubles (434) and total bases (3,776); fourth in triples (121); fifth in walks (681); and eighth in RBI (814). He was a six-time N.L. All-Star.

Brock has remained active in baseball since retiring as a player following the 1979 season. He worked in the Cardinals' broadcast booth from 1981 to 1984; was a baserunning consultant for the Minnesota Twins in 1987, Los Angeles Dodgers in 1988 and Montreal Expos in 1993; and has served as a special instructor for the Cardinals (baserunning and outfield play) since 1995. He was a first-ballot Hall of Fame inductee in 1985.

DIZZY DEAN

FULL NAME: Jay Hanna (Dizzy) Dean
HEIGHT: 6-2 WEIGHT: 182 BATTED: Right THREW: Right
BORN: 1/16/10 at Lucas, Arkansas. DIED: 7/17/74 at Reno, Nevada.
YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1930, 1932-37.
NUMBER RETIRED: 1974.

Dizzy Dean was the prototypical member of the "Gas House Gang." The right-handed pitcher was one of baseball's zaniest characters. He also was a warrior and a winner.

After a cup of coffee with the Cardinals in 1930, Dean became a mainstay two years later. He put together his best season in 1934, going 30-7 with a 2.66 ERA and 195 strikeouts. Dean led the National League in wins and strikeouts and ranked second in ERA en route to being named the Most Valuable Player. He is the only pitcher in Cardinals' history to win 30 games and the last N.L. hurler to accomplish the feat. St. Louis won the World Series that year over the Detroit Tigers four games to three, with Dean and his brother, Paul, accounting for all four victories. Dizzy fired a six-hit shutout to win Game 7 by the score of 11-0.

Dean, who led the league with 28 wins in 1935, was selected to four consecutive All-Star Games from 1934 to 1937. He was the winning pitcher in 1936 and the loser in 1937. But Dean lost more than the game in 1937. A line drive off the bat of Cleveland Indians' outfielder Earl Averill in the third inning broke one of Dean's toes. Dean refused to take time off to let the injury heal, and he began utilizing an unnatural pitching delivery that led to an arm injury from which he never fully recovered.

On April 16, 1938, the Cardinals traded Dean to the Chicago Cubs in exchange for pitchers Clyde Shoun and Curt Davis, outfielder Tuck Stainback and $185,000. On St. Louis' career lists, Dean ranks second in strikeouts (1,087); third in winning percentage (.641); sixth in wins (134), complete games (141) and shutouts (23); and ninth in innings pitched (1,736).

Dean was known for his fun-loving lifestyle and story telling as much as his success. In a double-header against the Brooklyn Dodgers at Sportsman's Park on Sept. 21, 1934, Dizzy authored a three-hit shutout in the opener and Paul followed with a no-hitter. "Gee whiz," Dizzy said afterwards. "If I'd a known Paul was gonna do it, I'd a thrown one, too."

Following his playing days, Dean was a colorful broadcaster who became an ambassador for baseball. He was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1953.

(1,667), runs (988), hits (1,855) and walks (631). His seven grand slams are tied for the second most in club history behind Stan Musial's nine.

Being a native Missourian, Boyer was always a Cardinal at heart. He returned to the organization as a minor league manager in 1970 and again from 1973 to 1976 and served as a major league coach in 1971 and 1972. He replaced Vern Rapp as manager of the big league club April 29, 1978, and piloted the Cardinals to an 86-76 record and third-place finish in the N.L. East Division the following year. But in 1980, with expectations high, the Cardinals never got untracked, and Boyer was dismissed June 8 after a 6-4 loss in the first game of a double-header against the Montreal Expos dropped their record to 18-33.

Boyer was diagnosed with lung cancer in the early 1980s, and the disease ultimately took his life in 1982 at just 51 years of age.

KEN BOYER

THIRD BASEMAN/MANAGER

FULL NAME: Kenton Lloyd Boyer

HEIGHT: 6-2 WEIGHT: 200 BATTED: Right THREW: Right

BORN: 5/20/31 at Liberty, Missouri. DIED: 9/7/82 at St. Louis, Missouri.

YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1955-65, 1971-72, 1978-80.

NUMBER RETIRED: 1984.

Only one player in Cardinals' history has hit for the cycle on two occasions. It's Ken Boyer, who accomplished the feat Sept. 14, 1961, against the Chicago Cubs and June 16, 1964, against the Houston Colt .45s.

Boyer was a solid all-around third baseman. He hit for average and power and earned five Gold Glove awards for his fielding prowess. From 1958 to 1963, he averaged 26 home runs and 98 RBI to go with a .304 batting average. Then in 1964, Boyer was named the National League Most Valuable Player after batting .295 with 24 homers and a league-leading 119 RBI. In the World Series against the New York Yankees, Boyer clubbed a grand slam in Game 4 to give the Cardinals a 4-3 victory, and he contributed three hits and three runs to help St. Louis win the seventh and deciding game by the score of 7-5.

An N.L. All-Star in 1956 and from 1959 to 1964, Boyer hit a two-run homer in the second 1960 game at Yankee Stadium and a solo blast in the 1964 contest at Shea Stadium. He was a .348 batter (8-for-23) in the Mid-Summer Classic.

"The Captain" was traded to the New York Mets on Oct. 20, 1965, in exchange for pitcher Al Jackson and third baseman Charley Smith. On the Cardinals' career lists, Boyer ranks second in home runs (255); fifth in RBI (1,001) and total bases (3,011); sixth in at-bats (6,334); and seventh in games the 1942 World Championship over the New York Yankees.

After a three-year stint in the service, Slaughter returned to the Cardinals in 1946. All he did is top the league with 130 RBI to go with a .300 average and 18 home runs. In 1950 and 1952, Slaughter drove in 101 runs while hitting fewer than 15 home runs. No other player in major league history has accomplished that feat twice.

On April 11, 1954, Slaughter was traded to the Yankees for outfielder Bill Virdon, pitcher Mel Wright and minor league outfielder Emil Tellinger. Upon being told of the deal, Slaughter sat in front of his locker and cried. On St. Louis' career lists, he ranks second in RBI (1,148); third in triples (135) and walks (839); fourth in games (1,820), runs (1,071), hits (2,064) and total bases (3,138); fifth in at-bats (6,775) and doubles (366); and 10th in home runs (146). He batted .300 in eight of his 13 seasons with the Cardinals.

Slaughter subsequently played for the Kansas City Athletics (1955-56) before returning to the Yankees (1956-59) and finishing his career with the Milwaukee Braves (1959). The Veterans Committee elected the 10-time All-Star, who was nicknamed "Country," into the Hall of Fame in 1985.

ENOS SLAUGHTER

OUTFIELDER

FULL NAME: Enos Bradsher Slaughter
HEIGHT: 5-9 WEIGHT: 190 BATTED: Left THREW: Right
BORN: 4/27/16 at Roxboro, North Carolina.
DIED: 8/12/02 at Durham, North Carolina.
YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1938-42, 1946-53.
NUMBER RETIRED: 1996.

He didn't have the nickname, but Enos Slaughter was a genuine "Charlie Hustle." Throughout his career, he was known for his all-out style of play.

Slaughter dashed into baseball immortality in Game 7 of the 1946 World Series against the Boston Red Sox. With the scored tied 3-3 in the bottom of the eighth inning, Slaughter led off with a single. He remained there as the next two batters were retired and then took off to steal second base with left fielder Harry Walker at the plate. Walker stroked a double into center field, and Boston's Leon Culberson threw the ball to shortstop Johnny Pesky. While Pesky hesitated on the relay, Slaughter kept on running, ignoring third base coach Mike Gonzalez's stop sign and scoring what proved to be the series-deciding run.

Long before his "Mad Dash," Slaughter was a bona fide all-star. He broke into the major leagues with the Cardinals in 1938 and the next year led the National League with 52 doubles while batting .320. It was the first of five straight seasons in which Slaughter batted at a .300 clip. In 1942, he had a .318 average - second in the N.L. to Ernie Lombardi of the Boston Braves at .330 - and league-leading totals of 188 hits and 17 triples. St. Louis' outfield cast of Slaughter in right, Terry Moore in center and Stan Musial in left is regarded as the best in franchise history, and helped lead the Redbirds to

PROMINENT CARDINALS WHO WORE NO. 6

- Jack Rothrock, 1934-35

STAN MUSIAL

OUTFIELDER/FIRST BASEMAN

FULL NAME: Stanley Frank Musial
HEIGHT: 6-0 WEIGHT: 175 BATS: Left THROWS: Left
BORN: 11/21/20 at Donora, Pennsylvania.
YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1941-44, 1946-63.
NUMBER RETIRED: 1963.

Simply stated, Stan Musial is "The Man." Not only is he the greatest player in Cardinals' history, he also is the most popular.

Musial played his entire 22-year career as an outfielder and first baseman in St. Louis. He is the franchise's career leader in virtually every batting category: games (3,026), at-bats (10,972), runs (1,949), hits (3,630), doubles (725), triples (177), home runs (475), RBI (1,951), walks (1,599) and total bases (6,134). His .331 average is fourth behind Rogers Hornsby (.359), Johnny Mize (.336) and Joe Medwick (.335). And, despite being an everyday player most of his career, Musial ranks seventh with 35 pinch-hits.

After initially joining the Cardinals late in 1941, Musial arrived for good the following season. He immediately began a stretch of 16 straight years in which he batted .300 or better. In 1943, Musial led the National League with a .357 average, 220 hits, 48 doubles and 20 triples and earned the first of his three Most Valuable Player awards. Musial also was named MVP in 1946 (led league with .365 average, 124 runs, 228 hits, 50 doubles and 20 triples) and 1948 (topped N.L. with .376 average, 135 runs, 230 hits, 46 doubles, 18 triples and 131 RBI). All told, the sweet-swinging left-handed batter paced the Senior Circuit in batting seven times.

A member of three World Championship teams (1942, 1944 and 1946), Musial was chosen to play in 24 All-Star Games (tied for the most in major league history with Hank Aaron and Willie Mays). His six home runs are the most in Mid-Summer Classic annals. He won the 1955 game with a 12th-inning homer off Frank Sullivan of the Boston Red Sox at County Stadium in Milwaukee.

On May 13, 1958, Musial collected the 3,000th hit of his career with a pinch double off Moe Drabowsky of the Chicago Cubs at Wrigley Field. Musial finished his career with 3,630 hits. At the time of his retirement, he held major league records for extra-base hits and total bases and N.L. marks for runs, hits, doubles and RBI. He has the fourth-most hits in baseball history - behind Pete Rose (4,256), Ty Cobb (4,190) and Hank Aaron (3,771).

Musial was the first player in Cardinals' history to have his uniform number retired, and he was a first-ballot Hall of Fame selection in 1969, being named on 93 percent of the ballots. Musial was a long-time senior vice-president with the organization and served as general manager in 1967, when the Cardinals won the World Series over the Boston Red Sox. More than anything else, the personable Musial has been a great emissary for all that is good about the game of baseball. A bronze statue of Musial stands outside Busch Stadium with the following words: "Here stands baseball's perfect warrior. Here stands baseball's perfect knight."

SECOND BASEMAN/MANAGER

FULL NAME: Albert Fred (Red) Schoendienst

HEIGHT: 6-0 WEIGHT: 170 BATS: Both THROWS: Right

BORN: 2/2/23 at Germantown, Illinois.

YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1945-56, 1961-76, 1979-95.

NUMBER RETIRED: 1996.

The name Albert "Red" Schoendienst is synonymous with Cardinals' baseball. After all, he wore the uniform for some 45 seasons as a player, coach and manager and still is involved with the organization as special assistant to the general manager.

It all started in 1945, when Schoendienst joined the club to fill in for left fielder Stan Musial, who was serving in the U.S. Army. Schoendienst batted .278 with 47 RBI and a National League-leading 26 stolen bases. The following year, Musial returned to the Cardinals, and Schoendienst moved to third base and then shortstop before settling in at second base. St. Louis won the World Series over the Boston Red Sox as Schoendienst began to develop into one of the best hitting and fielding second basemen of all time.

In 1953, Schoendienst put together his finest season. He established career highs of a .342 batting average - second in the league to Carl Furrillo of the Brooklyn Dodgers at .344 - with 15 home runs and 79 RBI. On June 14, 1956, Schoendienst was involved in a surprising trade when he was sent to the New York Giants along with outfielder Jackie Brandt, pitcher Dick Littlefield, catcher Bill Sarni and shortstop Bobby Stephenson in exchange for shortstop Alvin Dark, catcher Ray Katt, pitcher Don Liddle and outfielder Whitey Lockman.

The following year, Schoendienst was traded to the Milwaukee Braves, who won the 1957 World Series and the 1958 N.L. pennant. He subsequently returned to St. Louis in 1961. On the Cardinals' career lists, Schoendienst ranks fourth in at-bats (6,841) and pinch hits (53); fifth in games (1,795), runs (1,025) and hits (1,980); sixth in doubles (352); and seventh in total bases (2,657). He led the N.L. with 200 hits in 1957, and seven times either led or tied for the N.L. lead in fielding percentage.

Schoendienst served as a coach on the 1964 World Championship team and was named manager when Johnny Keane resigned at the conclusion of the season. Schoendienst piloted St. Louis to a World Series victory in 1967 over the Red Sox and another N.L. pennant in 1968 en route to a 12-year tenure as skipper, the longest in franchise history.

A 10-time N.L. All-Star, Schoendienst socked a game-winning home run in the 14th inning of the 1950 Mid-Summer Classic off Ted Gray of the Detroit Tigers. It marked the switch-hitter's first career homer batting right-handed. Schoendienst later managed the Senior Circuit to victories in 1968 and 1969. After a stint as coach with the Oakland Athletics in 1977 and 1978, Schoendienst came back to St. Louis as a coach from 1979 to 1995. He filled in as interim manager in 1980 and 1990. Schoendienst was elected to the Hall of Fame in 1989 by the Veterans Committee.

OZZIE SMITH
SHORTSTOP

FULL NAME: Osborne Earl Smith
HEIGHT: 5-10 WEIGHT: 180 BATS: Both THROWS: Right
BORN: 12/26/54 at Mobile, Alabama.
YEARS WITH CARDINALS: 1982-96.
NUMBER RETIRED: 1996.

Ozzie Smith is widely regarded as the finest fielding shortstop of all time. But after being labeled as a good-field, no-hit performer early in his career, he developed into a bona fide offensive threat, as well.

The Cardinals acquired Smith from the San Diego Padres in exchange for shortstop Garry Templeton on Feb. 11, 1982. It proved to be one of the greatest trades in franchise history. Smith was a key element in St. Louis' success of the 1980s, and became one of the city's most popular citizens.

A lifetime .231 batter when he arrived in St. Louis, Smith promptly hit .248 for the 1982 season as the Cardinals won the World Series over the Milwaukee Brewers. In 1985, Smith batted at a .276 clip with a career high of six home runs and 54 RBI. He subsequently stunned the baseball world with a game-winning homer in the bottom of the ninth inning of Game 5 of the National League Championship Series against the Los Angeles Dodgers. The blast - on a 1-2 pitch from reliever Tom Niedenfuer - was Smith's first as a left-handed batter in 3,009 at-bats and prompted Cardinals' broadcaster Jack Buck to exclaim, "Go crazy, folks! Go crazy!" Smith put together his finest season at the plate in 1987, with career highs of a .303 average and 75 RBI, as the Cardinals captured their third N.L. pennant in six seasons. He finished as runner-up for the Most Valuable Player Award to Andre Dawson of the Chicago Cubs.

Throughout his offensive progression, Smith seemingly made every play defensively, both the routine and the spectacular. "The Wizard" won 13 consecutive Gold Gloves between 1980 and 1992, setting a major league record with an all-time low of eight errors in 1991. Smith's most eye-popping play came Aug. 5, 1986, against the Philadelphia Phillies at Busch Stadium. He took off on a short fly ball to left field hit by Von Hayes and, with his back to the plate, flew parallel to the ground and completely stretched out to make the catch. Smith is baseball's career leader in assists (8,375), chances accepted (12,624) and double plays (1,590) by a shortstop. He led the N.L. in fielding percentage eight times and had a career .978 mark, fifth in baseball annals.

Smith was selected to 15 All-Star Games, and when he retired following the 1996 season, he had received more votes in fan balloting for the Mid-Summer Classic than any other player in N.L. history (27,597,904). On St. Louis' career lists, Smith ranks second in walks (876); third in games (1,990), at-bats (7,160) and stolen bases (433); sixth in runs (991) and hits (1,944); and eighth in doubles (338).

Since the conclusion of his playing days, Smith has done some television work for CNN and as host for "This Week In Baseball." He was elected to the Hall of Fame in 2002, his first year on the ballot, receiving nearly 92 percent of the votes from the Baseball Writers Association of America.

first baseman Tino Martinez and outfielder Orlando Palmeiro won their respective N.L. fielding championships. Matheny's 138 errorless games, handling 823 chances, gave him the first-ever qualifying 1.000 fielding percentage for a Cardinal backstop. Palmeiro, in 112 outfield appearances, also played error free, the second-longest such season for a Cardinal outfielder behind Curt Flood's 159-game perfect season in 1966. Edmonds, Matheny, Renteria and Rolen gave the Cards a quartet of Gold Glovers for the second straight year. The pitching staff allowed a club-record 210 home runs as injuries precluded the seasons of Chris Carpenter and Gene Stechschulte and interrupted those of starter Matt Morris and relievers Kiko Calero, Russ Springer, Lance Painter and, most crucially during the season's first two months, closer Jason Isringhausen. Isringhausen, who still managed to earn 22 saves, would be one of nine Cardinal hurlers to earn at least one save in 2003. But the Cardinals' pitching staff did have some memorable highlights. Woody Williams, who opened the season with a career-high 25-inning scoreless streak and eventually won his first seven decisions, finished as N.L. co-runner-up with 18 victories. Morris, out for a month after suffering a broken bone in his right hand trying to field a line drive July 21, still managed to become the first Redbird to hurl three shutouts in a season since Jose DeLeon and Joe Magrane each did so in 1989. Morris won 11 games, and had career-bests with a 23-inning scoreless streak in late August and early September, and a three-hitter in a September 7 shutout of Cincinnati. Brett Tomko equaled a career high with 13 wins, including 11 in his last 15 decisions. Veteran lefthander Sterling Hitchcock, acquired from the Yankees in an August 22 trade, went 5-1, including a 4-1 mark in six starts down the stretch. For the first time since 1985, the Cardinals sent their first five-player contingent to the All-Star Game. Rolen, Renteria and Pujols were elected to the starting lineup, as Pujols and Rolen ranked first and second, respectively, among fan voting in the N.L. Edmonds was named a reserve, then, the starter in center when the Giants' Barry Bonds was moved into the designated hitter role. In fact, Renteria, Edmonds and Pujols were the 1-2-3 hitters in the National League lineup. Williams, who at the break was tied for the league lead with 12 wins and seventh with a 3.01 ERA, represented the pitching staff. Tony La Russa became the eighth manager to win 2,000 games with a 10-2 victory over Colorado on September 10 at Busch Stadium. With wins at Arizona on the final two days of the season, La Russa tied and passed Leo Durocher for seventh on the all-time victory list; he moved from 10th to sixth place all-time with 3,798 games managed. While St. Louis stayed in the hunt until the final weekend, it was not enough to draw three million fans to Busch Stadium for what would have been a sixth consecutive season, though the Cardinals did finish fourth in the league and seventh in the majors with an attendance just over 2.9 million.

CARDINALS RETIRED NUMBERS

In the 112-year history of the St. Louis Cardinals, 11 individuals have enjoyed such distinguished careers on the field, in the dugout, or from the owners box or broadcast booth that their uniform numbers have been retired by the organization. Only the New York Yankees (14) have recognized more individuals with retired numbers. The honored Redbirds are recognized on pennants located in the upper deck of right-center field at Busch Stadium.

Along with the 11 Cardinals retired numbers is that of Hall of Famer Jackie Robinson, whose uniform No. 42 was retired throughout Major League Baseball in 1997 to commemorate the 50th anniversary of his breaking the big-league color barrier. Robinson played for the Brooklyn Dodgers from 1947 to 1956. He was the National League Rookie of the Year in 1947, the Most Valuable Player in 1949 and a five-time All-Star. Robinson was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1962.

The most recent honory is legendary broadcaster Jack Buck, who served as the "Voice of the Cardinals" from 1954 to 2001. Buck's signature call, "That's a winner!" was placed among the retired uniform numbers following his death in June 2002.

He was one of eight Cardinals to tally double-figure home run totals. The lineup also produced plenty of defensive support. Edmonds, Renteria, Rolen and Vina became the first quartet of Cardinals to be awarded Gold Gloves since 1963. Further, Renteria and Rolen won Silver Slugger awards in addition to their Gold Gloves, making them the first Cardinal teammates to each win both honors in the same season. The bench drove in 42 runs, second in the N.L., and the pinch-hitters were third with a .258 batting average and seven home runs. Miguel Cairo hit .322 off the bench and finished second in the league with 19 pinch hits. Cairo and Perez each had 10 pinch RBI and shared third place in the league. It would figure that the team with the second-most pinch at-bats in the league (260) would also be the team with the third-most relief pitching appearances (471). Cardinal pitchers, a club-record 26 in all, managed a 3.70 earned-run average, fourth in the N.L., in spite of adversity that could have destroyed the mettle of most major-league ballclubs. The third week in June would test the staff's, and the club's, resolve as never before. Hall of Fame broadcaster Jack Buck died June 18 after a lengthy period of illness. Darryl Kile, the Cardinals' winning pitcher against Anaheim the night of Buck's passing, was himself found dead in a Chicago hotel room June 22. Despite losing five of their seven remaining games in June, the Cardinals would go 57-34 after Kile's death. A big part of that success was due to the efforts of those 26 pitchers, seven of whom (including five projected starters) spent time on the disabled list, in addition to the death of Kile. Of the 14 Cardinals who made at least one start, just three had a starter's winning percentage below .500. Matt Morris finished sixth in the league with 17 wins. Jason Simontacchi, a 28-year-old rookie righthander who was recalled May 3, won his first five decisions and went on to record 11 victories. Andy Benes, who had missed the first half due to a recurrent knee injury, went 5-2 in 15 starts of which the Cardinals won 11. His 1.86 ERA was the best post-All Star break figure in the majors. Chuck Finley, picked up from Cleveland in a July 19 trade, went 7-4 and held opponents to a .219 batting average. The 39-year-old lefthander won his 200th career game September 28 over Milwaukee. Twenty of the 26 hurlers contributed to a relief corps that finished with a 3.08 ERA. Free-agent acquisition Jason Isringhausen saved 32 games. Another righty, rookie set-up man Mike Crudale, recorded a 1.88 ERA in 49 appearances. He, too, would be augmented down the stretch by another veteran lefthander, Jeff Fassero, who went 3-0 in 16 appearances after joining the club in an August 25 trade from the Cubs. The Cardinals clinched the Central Division championship September 20 with a 9-3 win over Houston and would go on to establish a 13-game margin over the Astros one year after the teams shared divisional honors. The .655 winning percentage over the final three months would lead to Tony LaRussa being named N.L. Manager of the Year. Also, during that stretch, LaRussa passed Bill McKechnie, Gene Mauch and Casey Stengel on the all-time managerial win list and finished the season in eighth place with 1,924 victories. St. Louis avenged a ninth-inning, fifth-game loss in the 2001 Division Series to the Arizona Diamondbacks with a three-game sweep. The Cardinals had just six extra-base hits among their 33 safeties but batted .478 (11-23) with runners in scoring position. Vina led the contact attack by stroking nine hits, all singles, to break Edmonds' Major League Division Series hits record. The pitching staff allowed four earned runs in the three games. Without the services of Rolen, unavailable following a collision in Division Series Game Two, the Cardinal offense struggled in the N.L. Championship Series against the San Francisco Giants. Despite batting a respectable .257 in the five-game series, the Cardinals went just 3-for-39 with runners in scoring position. Following a 9-6 loss in the opening game at Busch Stadium, the Redbirds would score only 10 runs over the next four contests. The last three games of the series were each decided by one run, as the Giants won the NLCS, 4-1.

2003 The National League's second-best offense and the franchise's best-ever defense kept St. Louis in many games, but due to a rash of injuries to the pitching staff, it became a struggle to stay in playoff contention. The Cardinals won 16 games in both June and August to finish each month with a one-game lead in the N.L. Central Division. However, 10 losses in the first 14 games of September proved too much for St. Louis to overcome. Even a 9-3 finish was not enough as the club's last loss, September 26 at Arizona, eliminated the Cardinals from vying for what would have been a club-record fourth consecutive postseason appearance. The Cardinals batted .279, scored 876 runs (third-most in club history) and hit 196 home runs (fourth-most). Albert Pujols led the league in seven offensive categories and rode a Triple Crown candidacy to the point of recording top-five finishes on the three major lists. He led the N.L. with a .359 batting average, the highest for a Cardinal since Joe Torre hit .363 in 1971, and became the 10th different Cardinal (22nd time) to win a batting crown. The left fielder's league-leading 212 hits were the most for a St. Louis player since Willie McGee had 216 in 1985. Three other league-high figures for Pujols each represented a 50-year-plus club best: 51 doubles, most by a Cardinal since Stan Musial's 53 in 1953; 394 total bases, fourth-most in club history and most since Musial's 429 in 1948; 137 runs, most since Rogers Hornsby scored 141 in 1922; and a 30-game hitting streak, July 12 through August 16, longest since Musial's 30-game streak in 1950. Pujols' 124 runs batted in were the fewest of his first three big-league seasons, but he countered that with a career-high 43 home runs - equaling the third-highest longball tally in club history. Pujols was named The Sporting News Major League Player of the Year and the winner of the Hank Aaron Award, presented by the Office of the Commissioner, to the outstanding player in the major leagues as voted on by the game's broadcasters. Centerfielder Jim Edmonds needed just 137 games to hit 39 home runs and join Pujols as the first Cardinal teammates to each hit 35 homers in a season. Third baseman Scott Rolen drove in 104 runs – his third straight triple-digit RBI campaign – and smacked a career-high 49 doubles. Edgar Renteria drove in a Cardinals' shortstop record 100 runs, becoming the first N.L. shortstop to do so since Montreal's Hubie Brooks in 1985. Renteria also delivered a career-best 47 doubles and claimed the N.L. Silver Slugger award. Pujols, Rolen and Renteria all finished in the top seven in the league in doubles and became the first trio of Cardinals to each hit 40 two-baggers since Enos Slaughter, Joe Medwick and Johnny Mize did so in 1939. Successive June injuries to Fernando Vina and Miguel Cairo allowed Bo Hart a shot at second base and he made the most of it. The 26-year-old debuted June 19 and opened his career with a seven-game hitting streak and with multiple hits in seven of his first nine contests. He also shined in the field as he committed just four errors in 69 games at second. As a team the Cardinals committed just 77 errors – the fewest in club history – and only 26 in 68 games after the All-Star Break. Catcher Mike Matheny, 130 runs batted in. His club Triple Crown was the first by a Cardinal since Ted Simmons in 1973 and the first by a Cardinal rookie since Rogers Hornsby in 1916. He broke three NL rookie batting records, set or tied seven club rookie marks and earned unanimous selection as NL Rookie of the Year. Finishing among the league leaders in no fewer than 10 offensive categories, he became the first Cardinal rookie chosen to the Louisville Slugger Silver Slugger team, as well as finishing fourth in voting for the Most Valuable Player award. Mark McGwire hit 29 home runs in 299 at-bats and played in 97 games in his final major-league season. The first baseman hit the 583rd home run of his career, and 220th as a Cardinal, October 4 at Milwaukee, three days after his 39th birthday, and while continuing to have difficulties with his right knee. Centerfielder Jim Edmonds, who finished fifth in the league with 12 assists and continued adding to his collection of spectacular catches, won his fourth Gold Glove Award in five seasons. Edmonds kept up his end at the plate, too, hitting .304 with 30 homers and 110 RBI, including a .373 average with 14 homers and 69 RBI in his last 44 games. Second baseman Fernando Vina, who committed just nine errors in 151 games and whose .987 fielding percentage was good enough for a second straight NL fielding crown, won his first Gold Glove. The Cardinal leadoff hitter, Vina finished seventh in the league with 191 hits, continued taking 'em for the team by being hit by a pitch 22 times, second-most in the league, and struck out just once per 19.7 plate appearances, also second in the NL. The fourth Cardinal with a .300-plus qualifying average, Placido Polanco, hit .307 and led the club with 21 three-hit games. His 20-game hitting streak, July 21 to August 11, was club's longest, and the league's third-longest, of 2001. J.D. Drew suffered a broken finger when he was hit by a pitch June 17, but still managed to finish the season batting .323 with 27 homers and 73 RBI. Matt Morris, back in the starting rotation two years after elbow surgery, became the Cardinals' first 22-game winner since Bob Gibson recorded 23 victories in 1970, in addition to tying Arizona's Curt Schilling for the major-league lead in wins. Morris netted his first All-Star Game selection and was named NL Comeback Player of the Year. The veteran righthander also tallied a record 15 Busch Stadium victories, surpassing John Tudor's 1984 total of 14. Darryl Kile added 16 victories and he and Morris ran 5-6 in the league ERA race, 3.09-3.16, one of five categories in which they placed in the top 10 together. Lefthander reliever Steve Kline made a club-record 89 appearances and posted a 1.80 ERA, second-best among NL relievers. Kline was one of four Cardinal relievers to appear in 60-plus games, the others being Dave Veres (71), Mike Timlin (67) and Gene Stechschulte (67). Stechschulte even figured in the mix offensively, hitting the first pitch ever delivered to him as major-league batsman for a pinch-hit home run, April 17 against Armando Reynoso of Arizona. He became the fifth Cardinal ever, but the third in less than 12 months, to homer in his first major-league at-bat. In addition to becoming the 16th player to hit a career first-pitch homer, he was also the 13th big-leaguer to pinch-homer in his first at bat. Lefthander Bud Smith made his big-league debut June 10 and won his first start June 17 against the White Sox. Smith and Woody Williams, and August 2 acquisition from the Padres for Ray Lankford, combined to win all seven of their September outings. In the first of these starts, September 3 at San Diego, Smith walked four but recorded seven strikeouts and posted the ninth no-hit game in club history. Two nights later, Williams tossed a two-hit shutout to complete a three-game sweep of the Padres, which triggered an 18-3 run bringing the Cardinals into a tie for first place. Williams went 7-1 in 11 Cardinal starts and was named the NL Pitcher of the Month for September. The Cardinals held opponents to two or fewer runs 62 times, most in the league, and finished third in the NL with a 3.93 ERA. The Redbird staff recorded a 2.99 ERA and yielded a .217 batting average from September 1 to the end of the season. The club went 17-5 in September, then, with a 5-1 win at Milwaukee October 2, the club's 34th win in 45 games, tied the Astros for the Central Division lead. The Cardinals finished 93-69 and co-owners of the first shared championship in major-league history, although having lost the season series to the Astros, the Cardinals assumed the position of wild-card qualifier to the National League postseason field. Williams and Smith followed up their September efforts and claimed victories in the second and fourth games, respectively, of the National League Division Series against the Arizona Diamondbacks. Following the three-hour, 36-minute rain delay of the start of Game Four at Busch Stadium, Polanco became the first player in 95 years to lay down three sacrifice bunts in a major-league postseason game, matching the efforts of the Cubs' Joe Tinker in the 1906 World Series. Morris followed up his outstanding season by holding the Arizona ballclub to two runs over 15 innings in two starts. However, he lost 1-0 in the series opener and then, after Drew's game-tying home run in the eighth inning of the deciding fifth game, watched the Diamondbacks score a run in the ninth for a 2-1 win.

2002 The Cardinals enjoyed another strong second-half surge and, with 97 wins, secured a third consecutive N.L. Central Division title. It was the club's third straight 90-win season, the first such streak for St. Louis since the 1941-46 teams recorded a club-record six consecutive 90-win campaigns. It was a team that scored enough runs and received enough pitching and defense to win 97 games and enough points for intestinal fortitude, overcoming adversity - overcoming tragedy - to win the hearts of baseball fans everywhere. The Cardinals finished top two in the league in nine offensive categories, including batting, slugging and on-base averages, runs and home runs, recorded the fewest strikeouts of any N.L. team and received production from numerous sources. Albert Pujols deftly avoided the sophomore jinx en route to a runner-up finish in balloting for the National League Most Valuable Player award. The 22-year-old placed second in the N.L. with 127 runs batted in and 118 runs scored in addition to posting several other top-10 performances, including a .314 batting average and 34 home runs. He became the first player in major-league history to open a career with back-to-back seasons each including a .300 average, 30 homers, 100 RBI and 100 runs scored. Centerfielder Jim Edmonds finished among league leaders with a .311 batting average, .420 slugging average and .561 on-base percentage. He tallied 28 homers and 83 RBI although a wrist injury in June limited him to 476 at-bats. First baseman Tino Martinez, homerless and batting .200 in April, finished with 21 home runs, and Eli Marrero and J.D. Drew each hit 18 homers. Edgar Renteria hit 11 home runs, stole 22 bases and led N.L. shortstops with a .305 batting average and 82 of his 83 RBI, tying Doc Lavan's 1921 club record. Eduardo Perez had 154 at-bats, but hit 10 homers, including three as a pinch-hitter. On July 28, the Cardinals traded utility infielder Placido Polanco, along with pitchers Mike Timlin and Bud Smith, to the Phillies for cash, minor-league pitcher Doug Nickel and All-Star third baseman Scott Rolen. Rolen cracked 14 home runs and had 44 RBI in 55 games for St. Louis.

CARDINALS HISTORICAL / SEASON HIGHLIGHTS

2000 Following a disappointing finish in 1999, General Manager Walt Jocketty immediately went to work and bolstered the team's pitching staff by trading for starters Darryl Kile and Pat Hentgen, and closer Dave Veres. He followed up those moves by dealing for second baseman Fernando Viña and by signing free-agent pitcher Andy Benes, who had departed St. Louis just two years earlier. Mid-way through spring training, Jocketty pulled off perhaps the year's biggest acquisition by trading pitcher Kent Bottenfield and second baseman Adam Kennedy to Anaheim in exchange for All-Star outfielder Jim Edmonds. The 2000 squad opened the season with a 7-1 win over rival Chicago on Opening Day and remained in first place for all but three days. By the All-Star break, the club held an eight-game lead over the Cincinnati Reds and ended the season as National League Central Division Champions, 10 games ahead of their closest pursuer. With a 95-67 record, the team became the 23rd in franchise history, and first since 1987, to reach the 90-win mark. The Cardinals packed a powerful punch in the season's early stages, smacking home runs at a record rate. Twenty-one different players homered for the Redbirds as they posted a team-record 235 homers on the year. Despite bouts with back and leg injuries, Mark McGwire began the season strong and was hitting .303 with 30 home runs by the All-Star break. A severe case of tendinitis in his right knee caused McGwire to remove himself from the game on July 6 and he never fully recovered the rest of the season. He finished the year with 554 career home runs, ranking seventh on baseball's all-time home run list. Edmonds took over as the team's offensive leader, batting .295 with 42 homers and 108 RBIs while also drawing strong MVP consideration. He also turned heads with his spectacular defensive play, earning his third Gold Glove award. A spark plug at the top of the lineup, Viña was everything Jocketty and Manager Tony La Russa hoped he would be, despite a couple of trips to the disabled list. While his .300 batting average led the team, Viña was hit by pitch a Major League-leading 28 times, the most by a Cardinal since 1910, when Steve Evans was hit a franchise-record 31 times. A trading deadline deal brought Will "The Thrill" Clark to St. Louis, and Clark, who announced his retirement following the season, sparked an offense that was sagging. He finished the season batting .345 with 12 homers and 42 RBIs in 51 games as a Redbird. Starting pitching was one of the strengths of the club as the Cardinals used only five starters through their first 122 games (August 19). Kile led the team with 20 wins, finishing second in the N.L. in victories while becoming the Cardinals first 20-game winner since 1985. Lefthanded rookie sensation Rick Ankiel finished second in Rookie of the Year balloting with an 11-7 record and a 3.50 ERA that was eighth among all National League pitchers. Ankiel struck out a team-high 194 batters, breaking Dizzy Dean's Cardinals rookie record of 191 set in 1932. His strikeouts per nine innings ratio of 10.0 was second only to Arizona's Randy Johnson and his .219 opponents batting average was third in the league. Garrett Stephenson began the season with an eight-game winning streak and finished with a career-high 16 wins. Hentgen posted 15 wins while Andy Benes contributed 12. Catcher Mike Matheny, another off-season acquisition, was a controlling factor in the success of the pitching staff. He established career highs in nearly every offensive category, but it was his defense that was most noticeable. Matheny threw out a remarkable 51% (46-for-90) of opposing base stealers which ranked first in the Majors and helped earn him his first Gold Glove award. His season came to an unfortunate and abrupt end on September 29, when he severed two flexor tendons and a nerve in his right ring finger while accidentally cutting himself on a knife. He underwent surgery and missed the remainder of the season and all of the postseason. Edmonds, McGwire and Kile were each named to the N.L. All-Star team, but due to his injury, McGwire could not appear and shortstop Edgar Renteria was named as his replacement. Renteria had one of the best all-around seasons ever by a Cardinals shortstop, setting career highs in home runs (16 - the most ever by a Cardinals' shortstop), RBI (76) and runs scored (94) and he proved to be one of the most consistent players for the club during the postseason. His .423 slugging percentage earned him the N.L. Silver Slugger at shortstop. For the 17th time, and the second time in five years under La Russa's helm, the Cardinals advanced to the postseason. St. Louis first met up with the Atlanta Braves in the Division Series, a team that had won its division nine out of the past 10 seasons. The Cards proved up to the task and quickly dispatched of the Braves, sweeping them in three games. The Cardinals moved on to face the New York Mets, a team that had tormented them all season. Aside from Andy Benes' strong Game 3 outing at New York, the Mets handled the short-handed Cardinals with ease by winning the best-of-seven series in just five games. The Cardinals were without the services of McGwire, Matheny and Stephenson during the N.L.Championship Series. Following the season, Jocketty was cited as Executive of the Year by both Baseball America and The Sporting News for his keen acquisitions. He helped the Cardinals become the first club in baseball history to acquire a 20-game winner (Kile) and 40-homer player (Edmonds) in the same off-season. For the third-straight year the Cardinals set a new attendance record as 3.3 million fans visited Busch Stadium, selling out a club-record 37 games.

2001 The Cardinals, having posted 17-8 and 13-14 records the first two months of the 2000 season, juxtaposed that early-season pattern and sat in second place at the 2001 season's one-third mark. This time they went 12-12 in April, dropping into fifth place, before winning 10 consecutive games May 7-17 and vaulting briefly into first. A 1-8 road trip in early June was the primary cause of that month's 11-16 record, and by the All-Star break, the Cardinals were 43-43 and eight games behind division-leading Houston. That was still their situation, but with a 57-55 record, as they opened play August 9, before going on an 11-game win streak that triggered the club's postseason drive. The pair of double-figure win streaks were the first for a Cardinal ballclub in the same season since 1941. And the Cardinals' fans continued showing their support, as 3,113,091 paid their way into Busch Stadium, marking the fourth consecutive season, and sixth in club history, of three-million-plus attendance. For all of the stars who made the 2001 Cardinal season what it was, perhaps most prominent was the newest, Albert Pujols. Pujols made the opening-day roster, the result of Bobby Bonilla suffering a strained left hamstring March 24 that forced the veteran to the disabled list, and the 21-year-old Pujols made the most of his opportunity. Pujols, primarily been a third baseman who had appeared in 133 games with three minor-league clubs as a first-year professional in 2000, hit a National League-record eight April home runs and never looked back. Pujols was the first Cardinal rookie selected for the All-Star Game since left-handed pitcher Luis Arroyo in 1955 and the first to play since third baseman Eddie Kazak in 1949. He went on to play in 161 games, drew 154 starts at four different positions, and batted .329 with a Cardinal rookie-record 37 home runs and an NL rookie-record career-high 31 homers (the most ever by a Cards center fielder) and career-best 98 RBI. He finished only percentage points behind team batting leader Delino DeShields (.2954 to .2946). Slugger Mark McGwire arrived July 31 and belted 24 home runs as a Cardinal, including 15 in September (a club record for one month). He finished with 58 homers, tying the major league record for righthanded hitters. McGwire became just the second player, next to Babe Ruth, to record 50 or more homers in consecutive seasons. Big Mac finished the year by homering in 12 consecutive series, but none of those blasts matched the flair of the 517-foot shot he launched above the left-field scoreboard in his first at-bat on Sept. 16, the day he announced he'd signed a multiyear contract with the club. Pitcher Matt Morris displayed much promise in his first season, leading N.L. rookie pitchers in wins (12), ERA (3.19), complete games (three), strikeouts (149), opponents' batting average (.258) and innings pitched (217). He topped the staff in victories and starts (33). DeShields led the team in batting, hits (169), triples (14) and stolen bases (55). He was the first Cardinal since Lankford in 1991 to lead the league in triples. The Cards posted an 8-7 record against A.L. opponents in their first year of interleague play, sweeping a three-game series from Minnesota but losing three at Milwaukee. Before the season, the Cardinals added a hand-operated scoreboard in center field and moved the visitors' bullpen to right field.

1998 While Mark McGwire slugged his way to a record-setting season, the Cardinals finished in third place for the fifth time in the last decade, 19 games behind Central Division champion Houston. The 83-79 Cardinals jumped out of the gate strong, as McGwire began his march toward 70 home runs by going deep in each of the first four games, helping the Redbirds to a 16-11 record through April. As injuries took their toll, the Cardinals labored into the All-Star recess in fourth place, 12-1/2 games out of first, with a 40-46 record. The team wound up closing the season with a 43-33 record after the break, including an 18-7 mark in September, the franchise's best record in that month since moving into Busch Stadium in 1966. McGwire remained the center of attention throughout the year, captivating a national audience as he marched toward Roger Maris' 1961 single-season record of 61 homers. Big Mac eclipsed the record with his 62nd homer at 8:18 p.m. Central Time on Tuesday, Sept. 8. The record-breaking homer came with two outs in the fourth inning —a solo shot to left field off Cubs' righthander Steve Trachsel. McGwire set a bevy of records during his home run tour de force. He walked 162 times to set a new N.L. standard, averaged one home run every 7.27 at-bats to break his 1996 major league record of one homer every 8.13 at-bats, hit an N.L.-record 38 home runs at home and became the first player to hit at least 50 homers in three consecutive seasons. McGwire also set a club record for most home runs in one month when he hit 16 in May, became the first Cardinal to hit a grand slam on Opening Day, hit the longest home run in Busch Stadium history (an estimated 545 feet on May 16) and became the oldest player (34 years, 324 days) in major league history to hit as many as 50 homers in a season. Home run records weren't McGwire's exclusive domain, however, as the team collectively set a single-season club mark with 223 homers, most in the National League and second-most in N.L. history. The Cardinals hit 10 homers in the pinch, also a team record, and homered in a team-record 17 straight games (34 homers total) from May 7 to May 25. The lineup featured four players with at least 20 homers for the first time ever, with McGwire and the outfield trio of Ray Lankford (31 homers), Ron Gant (26) and Brian Jordan (25) making history. McGwire and Lankford combined for 101 home runs, becoming just the third pair of teammates in big-league history to top the century mark in one year. Lankford wound up with a career-high 105 RBI and became the all-time Busch Stadium home run leader, reaching 87 in his career. Outfielder J.D. Drew, the Cards' first selection (fifth overall) in the June amateur draft, signed a major league contract July 3 and made his big-league debut Sept. 8. On the pitching staff, 15 hurlers drew starting assignments, though the staff became more solidified in the second half as players returned from injuries. Righthander Matt Morris was activated from the disabled list on July 10 and led the staff after the All-Star break with seven wins and a 2.48 ERA. Cardinals fans turned out in record numbers, setting club home (3,194,092) and road (2,766,984) attendance marks. The club sold out its final 14 home games (the entire September home schedule).

1999 The Cardinals concluded the 20th century almost exactly the way they began it — their .466 winning percentage (75-86) in '99 was nearly identical to their .464 mark in 1900, and they finished 21½ games out of first place, slightly off their 19-game deficit 99 years earlier. Mark McGwire followed his record-setting 70-homer season of 1998 with a 65-homer campaign in 1999 and led the league with 147 RBIs. While extending his record string of consecutive 50-homer seasons to four, McGwire climbed 10 spots on the all-time home run list, moving into 10th place with 522 career blasts. He hit No. 500 on Aug. 5 off San Diego's Andy Ashby, reaching the plateau in the fewest at-bats (5,487) in big-league history. Third baseman Fernando Tatis enjoyed a banner offensive season that included a .298 batting average, 34 home runs and 107 RBIs. He also stole 21 bases to become just the fourth player (and first infielder) in Cardinals history to have a 20-homer/20-steal season. Tatis led the league with a .692 batting average (9-for-13) with the bases loaded, and on April 23 he became the first player to hit two grand slams in the same inning, connecting for both off the Dodgers' Chan Ho Park. Tatis' three grand slams during the year tied a club record, and his 34 homers were the most ever by a Redbirds third sacker. Joe McEwing's 25-game hitting streak from June 8 through July 4 established a club mark for rookies, ranking as the fifth-longest by a rookie in major league history. Shortstop Edgar Renteria led the team in games (154), at-bats (585), hits (161), doubles (36), and stolen bases (37). Pitcher Kent Bottenfield matched his career victory total by posting an 18-7 record. Bottenfield, who took a 14-3 record into his first career All-Star Game appearance, led the staff in wins, ERA (3.97), strikeouts (124) and starts (31). Rookie Jose Jimenez provided one of the season's other pitching success stories on June 25, when he no-hit Arizona, winning a 1-0 duel over the Diamondbacks' Randy Johnson. Jimenez became the 23rd rookie to toss a no-hitter and just the second Cardinals rookie to do so, after Paul Dean in 1934. Fan-favorite Willie McGee announced his retirement after the season, ending an 18-year major league career that included an N.L. MVP Award, two batting titles and 2,254 hits. Redbird fans again passed through the turnstiles at a record clip, breaking the team home (3,225,334) and road (2,820,564) attendance marks for the second consecutive season.

streak of 12 games highlighted the early portion of the schedule, helping the club stay within five games of first place through July 2. The Cardinals were involved in 14 shutouts and, despite inconsistent pitching, won seven of them. They tied an N.L. record by using six pitchers in a shutout (2-0) win at Pittsburgh on May 17. On May 24 against Philadelphia, they established a record for most runners left on base (16) in a shutout loss. The Cardinals blasted 108 home runs, exceeding the 100-homer plateau for just the second time since 1980, and were on pace to hit their most round-trippers since 1963. They hit a Busch Stadium-record five home runs in a July 1 win vs. Colorado. An 8-20 record in July included two of the team's lowest moments: On July 16 at Colorado, Cardinal pitchers walked a team-record 16 batters, one short of the N.L. record, and on July 18, the team tied an N.L. mark by losing an 11-run lead in its 15-12 loss at Houston. Ozzie Smith passed Luis Aparicio on July 14 to become baseball's all-time assist leader at shortstop. On September 1, Mark Lamping was appointed president, replacing the retiring Stuart Meyer. Lamping named Walt Jocketty general manager in October, replacing Dal Maxvill, who had held the title since 1985. Hall of Famers Bob Gibson and Lou Brock were named to manager Joe Torre's coaching staff for 1995.

1995 The season was disappointing in most respects, with the Cardinals posting a 62-81 mark and their worst winning percentage (.434) since 1990. The schedule was reduced to 144 games due to the players' strike that continued into the first week of April. Once play began on April 26, the Cardinals never challenged for the NL Central lead. On June 16, Manager Joe Torre was fired and replaced by Mike Jorgensen. Although the team languished near the Central Division basement, there were a number of individual highlights. Reliever Tom Henke saved 36 of 38 opportunities, including a team-record 22 straight to begin the season, and won his first Rolaids Relief title. He also notched his 300th career save, becoming the seventh pitcher to reach that plateau. Henke headlined a bullpen that led the NL with a 2.71 ERA and a .225 opponents' batting mark. Rich DeLucia topped the team with eight wins (the lowest-ever total to lead the club), all in relief. While starters Danny Jackson and Ken Hill failed to fulfill expectations, Mike Morgan, who was acquired in a June trade for Todd Zeile, gave the Busch Stadium crowd a night to remember on July 3 when he held Montreal hitless for 8.1 innings. On offense, the Cardinals' outfield trio of Bernard Gilkey (a team-high .298 BA), Ray Lankford (25 HRs, 82 RBIs) and Brian Jordan (22 HRs, 81 RBIs) led the way. Lankford's team-high 25 homers were the most ever by a Cards center fielder, and he tied Jordan for the team lead with 24 steals, thus becoming only the fifth Cardinal and the first since 1948 to lead the team in both home runs and steals. Jordan and Lankford also formed the Redbirds' first 20-homer tandem since 1980. First baseman/outfielder John Mabry (.307) narrowly missed qualifying for the NL Top 10 in batting, but his average topped all NL rookies and earned him a spot on the Topps All-Rookie team. Ozzie Smith, who was slowed by a shoulder injury, added to his collection of fielding records on Sept. 15 when he turned his 1,554th double play, an all-time high among shortstops. He also became the first big-league shortstop since 1950 to play at the age of 40 and the first Cardinal shortstop to do so since 1918. Off the bench, veteran Gerald Perry became the club's all-time pinch-hit leader (70), rookie Mark Sweeney hit in seven straight pinch at-bats (one short of the major league record) and Danny Sheaffer hit the Cards' first pinch grand slam in nearly 10 years. The Cardinals took part in two bizarre games at Dodger Stadium: on May 12 they committed seven errors, their highest single-game total since 1940, and on Aug. 10 they recorded a 2-1 forfeit win, the first forfeited game in the majors since 1979. A busy off-season included the hiring of Tony La Russa as manager and the announced sale of the club to a group of long-time Cardinals fans led by William DeWitt Jr., Fred Hanser and Andrew Baur. The Busch Stadium playing surface was changed from artificial turf to natural grass prior to the 1996 season.

1996 With new ownership, new Manager Tony LaRussa and a variety of new players in place, the Cardinals made their first postseaon appearance since 1987. The year also marked the end of an era, as shortstop Ozzie Smith completed his 19th and final major league campaign. The Cardinals began their climb to their first N.L. Central Division title after falling nine games below .500 following a series sweep by Colorado in mid-May. They rebounded with a sweep of the division-rival Astros in Houston, went on to record a 17-10 mark in June and reached the All-Star break tied for the division lead. The race remained close until Labor Day weekend, when the Redbirds swept three games from the first-place Astros to take over the division lead for good. Right fielder Brian Jordan led the league with a .422 batting average with runners in scoring position and teamed with center fielder Ray Lankford, the N.L. fielding leader, to provide dazzling outfield defense. New left fielder Ron Gant led the team with 30 homers despite missing over a month to injury. Brothers Andy (18-10) and Alan Benes (13-10) combined for 31 wins, and newcomer Todd Stottlemyre fashioned 14 victories in his first N.L. season. Lefthander Donovan Osborne won a career-high 13 games. The bullpen was anchored by relief ace Dennis Eckersley, who saved 30 games in 34 tries. Fan-favorite Willie McGee returned to the club after five years with San Francisco and Boston and batted .307, including .350 in the pinch. The season also featured many record-setting achievements: The Cards tied a 56-year-old club record with a seven-homer game (July 12 at Chicago); the pitching staff recorded a team-record 1,050 strikeouts; and Willie McGee's five-RBI inning tied Chick Hafey's 1930 mark. The team retired the uniform numbers of Red Schoendienst (2), Enos Slaughter (9) and Ozzie Smith (1). In their first postseason appearance in nine years, the Cardinals swept a best-of-five Division Series from San Diego. After taking a 3-1 lead over defending World Series champion Atlanta in the NLCS, the Cardinals lost three straight.

1997 After beginning the season with a six-game losing streak, the Cardinals never climbed above .500 and finished in fourth place with a 73-89 record, 11 games behind division-winner Houston. The Redbirds did manage to take sole possession of first place for two days (July 2-3), and their high-water mark for the season was an even .500 (41-41). But after trailing first-place Pittsburgh by only two games at the All-Star break, the Cardinals dropped to 7-1/2 back by the end of July. During the course of the season, the Cardinals set several club records. They used a record 51 players (including 24 pitchers), swatted a franchise-record 144 round-trippers (one more than their 1955 total of 143), and established team highs in strikeouts — at the plate (1,191) and on the mound (1,130). Ray Lankford, who missed the first two weeks of the season while recovering from shoulder surgery, emerged as a star-caliber player, leading the team with a scoring position and leading the club with 117 RBI and a .311 batting average. Vince Coleman again led the league in stolen bases and set a major league record by stealing 50 consecutive bases without being caught, a streak begun in 1988. Despite the early concern over the pitching staff, Joe Magrane (18 wins) and Jose DeLeon (16) spearheaded the patched-up starting unit. The Cardinals set a club attendance record, attracting 3,080,980 fans during a season that ended on a sad note when long-time club president August A. Busch Jr. died at age 90.

1990 Considered by many to be a contender following the spring training "lockout," the Cardinals never lived up to expectations and finished in last place for the first time since 1918. On July 5, Manager Whitey Herzog resigned after more than 10 years as the Cards' skipper. Interim manager Red Schoendienst took over until Aug. 2, when Joe Torre was named manager. Willie McGee won the league batting title (.335), despite being traded to Oakland in late August as the team made room for younger players. One of those was rookie catcher Todd Zeile, who led the team with 15 homers. John Tudor returned to the club and posted a team-high 12 wins but announced his retirement following the season. Vince Coleman led the league in steals for the sixth straight year, tying Maury Wills' N.L. record, and batted a career-high .292. Starting pitchers Jose DeLeon (a league-high 19 losses) and Joe Magrane (17 losses) were disappointments. Reliever Lee Smith was a steady closer following his acquisition in May, saving 27 games. Jose Oquendo set a major league record for fewest errors by a second baseman (three).

1991 Coming off a last-place finish, the Cardinals were one of baseball's biggest surprises in 1991, moving up to second place in the N.L. East. Manager Joe Torre, in his first full season at the Cardinals' helm, opened the year with several unproven players at key positions. Among the young standouts were outfielders Ray Lankford and Felix Jose. Lankford led the majors with 15 triples and had a team-high 44 steals. Nine Cardinals stole 10 or more bases, the first time since 1917 that a team had done so. Former Athletic Jose, playing his first full season in the National League, led the Cardinals in batting (.305) and plugged Busch Stadium's spacious gaps with 40 doubles. Sophomore Todd Zeile made a fine transition from catcher to third base, leading the club with 11 homers and 81 RBI. Catcher Tom Pagnozzi, seeing his first full-time duty, earned a Gold Glove award. The season also was a good one for Cardinals named Smith. Lee Smith set an N.L. record with 47 saves and became only the fifth pitcher to record 300 career saves. Ozzie Smith set an N.L. record for fewest errors by a shortstop (eight) en route to winning his 12th Gold Glove. Bryn Smith's 12 wins paced the pitching staff, which was without Joe Magrane, Frank DiPino and Todd Worrell due to injuries. Young starters Ken Hill (11 wins) and Omar Olivares (11 wins), and reliever Cris Carpenter (10 wins) helped fill the void.

1992 Though injuries took a toll in the Cardinals' centennial season, the team actually led the N.L. East by one game on June 1, despite losing three players in the first week of the season. Injuries or illnesses continued to mount, however, as the team lost shortstop Ozzie Smith to chicken pox for two weeks in late June and Omar Olivares and Rheal Cormier from the starting rotation. At second base, seven players were used. Ray Lankford, moved from first to third in the order, became the first Cardinal since Lou Brock in 1967 to hit 20 homers and steal 20 bases. Ozzie Smith tied Felix Jose for the club lead in batting (.295) and stole a team-high 43 bases. The "Wizard" also collected his 2,000th career hit and 500th stolen base, besides earning his 12th All-Star Game berth and 13th Gold Glove. Bob Tewksbury emerged as the No. 1 starter, winning 16 games and ranking second in the majors with a 2.16 ERA. He joined Smith on the N.L. All-Star squad, as did catcher Tom Pagnozzi, who tied a league mark with a .999 fielding average, and reliever Lee Smith, who led the league in saves (43) for the second straight season. Smith received help in the bullpen from Todd Worrell, who, after missing the last two seasons to injury, moved into the top spot on the Cards' all-time saves list. The team's major league record 16-game errorless streak in August helped establish a club record for fielding (.985). On the down side, the Redbirds set records for most strikeouts and caught stealing in a season. Moving the fences in proved beneficial. The Cards set a Busch Stadium season high while out-homering opponents, 55-52.

1993 Helped by a 20-7 mark in June (a club record for the month) and a potent offense, the Cardinals closed to within three games of the front-running Philadelphia Phillies in mid-July, only to fall 10 games back by the end of August. Midseason injuries to relievers Mike Perez, Les Lancaster and Paul Kilgus put the pitching staff on the skids. Offensively, several players enjoyed banner seasons, reflected by the team's 118 home runs, the most in 30 years. Newcomer Gregg Jefferies finished third in the N.L. batting race at .342 and swiped 46 bases, the most ever by a Cardinal first baseman. Mark Whiten cracked a team-high 25 home runs, including four in the second game of a September 7 double-header at Cincinnati, thus becoming only the 12th player to accomplish the feat. His 12 RBI in the game tied former Cardinal Jim Bottomley's major league record. For the season, Whiten finished with 99 RBI. Todd Zeile drove in 60 after the All-Star break, finishing with a team-high 103 RBI as he settled into the cleanup spot. Bernard Gilkey enjoyed a breakthrough season, leading the club in hits, extra-base hits and runs scored. Ozzie Smith recorded his 16th-straight 20-steal season and passed Larry Bowa to become the all-time N.L. leader in games played at shortstop. Gerald Perry tied a club record with 24 pinch-hits. Though the pitching was largely inconsistent, Bob Tewksbury led the staff with a career-best 17 wins and walked only 20 batters for the second straight season. Cuban rookie Rene Arocha ranked second on the staff with 11 wins, despite missing nearly a month with a broken finger. Reliever Lee Smith became the majors' career saves leader in April and set a club record for career saves (160) before being traded to the New York Yankees in late August. The Cards slipped defensively, committing 159 errors and failing to place a member on the Rawlings' Gold Glove team for the first time since 1977.

1994 The season started with a bang when Ray Lankford homered in the first at-bat of the schedule, but a players' strike in mid-August forced the cancellation of the remainder of the season and the World Series, ending the year in tragic fashion. When play was suspended on August 12, the Redbirds were 53-61 and tied with Pittsburgh for third place in the newly formed N.L. Central Division. The club's 5.14 ERA was its worst since 1897, and the opposition outscored the Cards by nearly 100 runs. A seven-game winning streak by Bob Tewksbury and a consecutive-game homer 1983 Despite the fact that the 1983 Cardinals finished in fourth place, eleven games out, the team was competitive and exciting, although inconsistent, throughout much of the season. The team climbed to within a half-game of the division lead on September 5 before embarking on a thirteen-day road trip during which the failure of the starting rotation caused the team to plummet out of contention. Still there were noteworthy performances during the year. As a team, the running Redbirds set a new club record with 207 stolen bases. Individually, Danny Cox made his way from extended spring training in April to playing a part in the Cardinals' starting rotation. Bob Forsch pitched the second no-hitter of his career. The league's best right-fielder, George Hendrick, moved to first base after Keith Hernandez was traded and earned post -season honors at his new position. Ozzie Smith won his fourth straight Gold Glove and Willie McGee won his first one.

1984 The Cardinals got off to a bad start in 1984 and dwelled in fifth place for much of the first half of the season before turning things around after the All-Star break. Following the mid-summer classic the Cards posted a 42-33 record, second in the National League only to the eventual N.L. Champions, the Chicago Cubs. That surge lifted the Cards into a third place finish in the division at year end despite contending with many injuries. The team's 220 stolen bases set a new club record, surpassing the 207 mark from 1983, and made them the first major league team since the 1916 St. Louis Browns to steal 200 or more bases three years in a row...Individually, Bruce Sutter set a National League and tied the major league record for saves in a season (45). Joaquin Andujar (20-14) became the club's first 20-game winner in seven seasons. Rookie Terry Pendleton hit .324 after joining the club in July and sparking the team to a 41-29 record. The Cards drew over 2,000,000 fans for the third consecutive year.

1985 The Cardinals lost their first four games, struggled to 7-7, then lost four more. The next time they reached .500 it was at 20-20, and then things got better. They finally made it to first place on June 21, and they were there most of the season. Five defeats in six games early in September left the Cardinals a game behind the New York Mets with 25 to play. But the Redbirds then won 14 of their next 15 and took the division title by three games with 101 victories. Individually, Willie McGee was the batting champion (at .353, a new high for a N.L. switch-hitter) and Most Valuable Player; Vince Coleman was Rookie of the Year, and John Tudor and Joaquin Andujar each won 21 games and Danny Cox took 18. Willie McGee and Ozzie Smith won Gold Gloves again, and great starts by Tommy Herr (110 RBI) and Jack Clark (22 homers) contributed.

1986 The defending National League Champions stumbled at the beginning of the season. After the first two months of the season the Cardinals had the worst record in the League. But the team righted itself posting winning records in each of the next four months to finish third in the National League's Eastern Division. Individually Vince Coleman stole 107 bases to become the first player ever to steal over 100 bases in each of his first two seasons and the first N.L. player to steal 100 bases twice; rookie left-hander Greg Mathews, who was promoted from Louisville, won 11 games in little more than half a season; Ozzie Smith won his seventh straight Gold Glove and Todd Worrell was named N.L. Rookie of the Year. Worrell blazed his way to a major league rookie record 36 saves, becoming the first rookie pitcher ever to lead the league in saves and the first rookie to earn N.L. Relief Pitcher of the Year honor...Three attendance milestones were hit and surpassed during the course of the season. The Cardinals reached the two million mark for the fifth consecutive year, drew the 75 millionth fan in the history of the franchise since 1900 and drew the 50 millionth fan to see the Redbirds play under Anheuser-Busch ownership.

1987 Sparked by a potent offense, the Cardinals slipped no further than two games back in the N.L. East standings and claimed sole possession of first place on May 22. Beset by injuries to several key players throughout the season, manager Whitey Herzog made use of a mixture of experienced veterans and eager rookies to fill the voids created by injuries. The Cardinals extended their lead to 9½ games on July 23 but saw the lead shrink to 1 game as late as Sept. 19. A come-from-behind win a New York on Sept. 11 followed by a doubleheader sweep of the Expos on Sept. 29, set the stage for the pennant clinching win over Montreal on Oct. 1. Several Cards enjoyed banner seasons offensively, including Vince Coleman (third straight season with 100 SB), Jack Clark (35 HR and 106 RBI), Ozzie Smith (.300 BA for first time in his career), Terry Pendleton (.286 BA and 96 RBI), Willie McGee (105 RBI). The Redbirds had four starters with 10 or more victories (John Tudor, Bob Forsch, Greg Mathews and Danny Cox) while rookie Joe Magrane showed much promise in his initial season. In the bullpen, Todd Worrell followed up his impressive rookie season with 33 saves and Ken Dayley overcame serious elbow surgery to post nine wins in relief. 1987 was a fantastic year at the gate as well, as the Cardinals drew a Major League leading 3,072,122 fans, becoming just the third club in M.L. history to surpass the three million mark in attendance.

1988 After acquiring Tom Brunansky from Minnesota in April, the defending N.L. champions climbed within six games of first on June 12, but injuries to Bob Horner and Terry Pendleton crippled the offense. By the end of July, the Cardinals were 19 games out of first. Newcomer Jose DeLeon became the first Cards pitcher since 1972 to record 200 strikeouts. Sophomore hurler Joe Magrane won the N.L. ERA title with a 2.18 mark, despite winning just five games. Todd Worrell posted his third-straight 30-save season, and Vince Coleman led the league in stolen bases for the fourth consecutive year. Jose Oquendo became the first N.L. player since 1918 to play all nine positions in a season. Trades that brought Pedro Guerrero, Denny Walling and Brunansky to St. Louis also ended long-time affiliations with departing players Tom Herr, Bob Forsch and John Tudor. Despite finishing fifth, the club drew nearly 2.9 million fans to Busch.

1989 Although the outlook was bleak when injuries crippled the pitching staff in spring training, the Cardinals remained in the race until the final week of the season. The Redbirds pulled within a half-game of the division-leading Chicago Cubs with a dramatic come-from-behind win on Sept. 9, but a six-game losing streak followed and the Cards sunk to third place on the final day of the season. Pedro Guerrero was spectacular in the clutch, batting .406 with runners in 1972 The season's start was delayed by major league baseball's first player strike. The Cardinals finished 75-81 and were fourth in the NL East. Lou Brock again led the NL in steals, swiping 63 bases and extending his record for years with 50 or more steals to eight. Brock hit .311 while Matty Alou led the club in batting at .314. Bob Gibson posted a 19-11 record as the team's top mound winner. Gibson extended his major league record for most seasons with 200 or more strikeouts to nine, and also set an NL career record for righthanders when he logged his 2,786th strikeout. The Cardinals drew their 50 millionth home fan since 1900.

1973 The Cardinals started out a horrendous 3-15 but bounced back to take over first place in the NL East by the all-star break. A down-to-the-wire pennant race saw the New York Mets barely above .500 with a final 82-79 record but that mark was good enough for the Mets to win the Eastern Division pennant by a game and a half over the Cardinals. The top five teams in the division were all within five games of first place at the end. Lou Brock again led the league in stolen bases with 70, extending his record for consecutive seasons with 50 or more steals to nine. Brock swiped his 600th base and moved into ninth on the career steals list. Bob Gibson moved into second place on the career strikeout list and Joe Torre collected his 2,000th career hit and 1,000th career RBI during the campaign.

1974 Lou Brock stole 118 bases to break Maury Wills' single-season mark and surpasses Max Carey's N.L. career record. Brock moves from ninth to second on the all-time career stolen base list. Gibson strikes out the 3,000th batter of his career to become only the second pitcher in baseball history to reach that figure. The Cardinals draw more than 1,800,000 fans, the third-highest home attendance in their history. The Redbirds and Mets play a 25-inning game, the longest night game in major league history and the longest game ever played to conclusion. Cardinals win as Bake McBride scores from first on two errors. McBride is named the N.L. Rookie Of The Year.

1975 Brock collected career hit No. 2,500 and stolen base No. 800. Gibson retired after a 17-year Cardinal career and 251 victories. Gibby was honored by a standing-room crowd on Bob Gibson Day. Jacket Day attracted 50,548 fans, the largest regular-season crowd in St. Louis baseball history. Al Hrabosky compiled 13 wins and 22 saves and was named NL "Fireman of the Year." Ted Simmons finished second in the league batting race with a .332 average.

1976 John Denny won the National League ERA title at age 23, tying youngest right-hander to win ERA title in N.L. Lou Brock got the 2700th hit of his career and closed to within 27 of tying Ty Cobb's stolen base record.

1977 Lou Brock broke Ty Cobb's career stolen base mark with number 893 in San Diego, August 29. Garry Templeton became the youngest M.L. shortstop ever to gather 200 hits in a season. Templeton led the majors with 18 triples, the highest number since 1957. Ted Simmons set the club record for home runs by a catcher with 21. Ken Reitz set a fielding record for N.L. third basemen by committing only nine errors. Bob Forsch won 20 games.

1978 Bob Forsch no-hit the Phillies 5-0, April 16 at Busch Stadium. Manager, Vern Rapp was dismissed on April 24. Ken Boyer became Cardinal manager on April 29. Ted Simmons set a club season record and career high with 22 homers for a catcher. George Hendrick has seven RBI at Atlanta, August 25. Busch Memorial Stadium got new astroturf.

1979 Lou Brock collected his 3000th career hit (single off Dennis Lamp) in the 4th inning against the Cubs on August 13 at Busch Stadium. On September 23, Brock stole his 938th base making him baseball's all-time stolen base leader surpassing William (Sliding Billy) Hamilton. Keith Hernandez wins batting title with .344 average and is co-winner of National League M.V.P. award with Pittsburgh's Willie Stargell. Garry Templeton led N.L. with 211 hits. Templeton also led the league in triples with 19, for the third year in a row, setting a new N.L. record and tying the major league mark. His 19 triples are highest number since 1957. He became the first switch-hitter in major league history to collect 100 hits, both right and left-handed, in one season. Garry finished with 100 hits RH and 111 hits LH. Ted Simmons hit a career-high 26 home runs, which also set a club record for homers by a catcher.

1980 Ken Reitz broke his own NL fielding record for third basemen by committing only eight errors. Dane Iorg had seven RBI, August 28 vs. Atlanta. Manager Ken Boyer was dismissed on June 8. Whitey Herzog became Cardinals manager on June 9. On August 18, John Claiborne was fired as G.M. and Herzog was named G.M. on August 29. Red Schoendienst served as interim manager for balance of season. On October 24, Herzog assumed dual role of general manager and field manager.

1981 The Cardinals finished the season with the best winning percentage in the Eastern Division, but missed the playoffs because they finished second in each of the two sections of the schedule caused by the mid-summer players' strike. The Philadelphia Phillies, leaders when the strike began, were voted the first-half championship (however, the Phillies, Cardinals, and Cincinnati Reds voted against it), while Montreal won the second half. In each half, the Cardinals played fewer games than the "winners", and could have tied or won either half with the opportunity to play the same number of games. In the individual field, Bruce Sutter, one of several players obtained in winter trades by Herzog, was the National League's top reliever, winning the Rolaids Relief Man award.

1982 In order to concentrate more on managing, Whitey Herzog stepped down as General Manager on Opening Day, turning the reins over to Joe McDonald. The move paid off as the Cardinals were out of first place for only 48 days of the season and claimed their first ever National League East Championship. A 3-0 sweep of the Atlanta Braves put the Cards in their 13th World Series against the Milwaukee Brewers who fell 4-3 to St. Louis in the 'Fall Classic.' The 1982 team was characterized by an aggressive running style of baseball; seven players stole bases in double figures, led by team catalyst Lonnie Smith, who swiped 68. The team hit only 67 home runs, the fewest in the major leagues. Strong and consistent pitching performances were the rule; prior to clinching the title the Cardinals never lost more than three games in a row. Bruce Sutter had a hand in almost half of the team's victories.

1964 St. Louis wins its first National League pennant in 18 years as the 93-69 Redbirds of Johnny Keane posted a one-game victory after a late-season pennant battle with Philadelphia and Cincinnati. St. Louis got outfielder Lou Brock in a June 15 trade with Chicago and the Redbirds caught fire in July, moving from a 47-48 record to go 46-21 the rest of the way and capture the pennant after trailing the Phillies by six games with 12 to play. Ken Boyer was voted NL Most Valuable Player as he drove home a league-high 119 runs and batted .295 with 24 homers. Bill White hit 21 homers with 102 RBIs and a .303 mark and Curt Flood led the league with 211 hits. Brock finished with a .348 batting mark and 33 stolen bases. The mound staff had strong three-man leadership from Ray Sadecki at 20-11, Bob Gibson at 19-12 and Curt Simmons at 18-9.

1965 Johnny Keane left after the 1964 World Series to pilot the New York Yankees and long-time Cardinal favorite Red Schoendienst was installed as the Redbirds' field boss. The Cardinals never got out of the blocks and finished below .500 at 80-81, winding up seventh in the NL. Curt Flood led the team in hitting at .310, Bill White belted 24 homers and Lou Brock swiped 63 bases to lead the offense. Bob Gibson posted his first 20-win season at 20-12.

1966 The Cardinals ended a 47-year stay in old Busch Stadium, closing out the old ballpark in a 10-5 loss to San Francisco May 8. After a two-game series in Chicago, the Cardinals returned home May 12 to Busch Memorial Stadium, their new 50,000-seat ballpark in downtown St. Louis. The Cardinals christened the new playground with a 12-inning, 5-4 win over Atlanta as Lou Brock singled with the bases loaded to drive in Curt Flood with the winning run. Don Dennis got the Cardinal victory and Phil Niekro was the loser as Mike Shannon had the first Cardinal hit in the new park and Felipe Alou of the Braves homered twice. The Cardinals also hosted the All-Star game in their new park on July 12 as the National League emerged a 2-1 winner. The Redbirds had a new look as the season began on the heels of the trade of popular veterans Ken Boyer, Bill White and Dick Groat, and the Redbirds finished sixth at 83-79. An early-season trade installed Orlando Cepeda at first base where he would be a fixture on two pennant-winning teams. Brock led the NL in stolen bases with 74, Bob Gibson had a 21-12 record and a league-high five shutouts. Gibson shared the NL shutout lead with Cardinals teammate Larry Jaster, whose 11-5 record included five shutout wins over NL champ Los Angeles.

1967 The Cardinals used strong balance in pitching, offense and defense and rolled to a National League pennant by a margin of 10-1/2 games over second-place San Francisco as Red Schoendienst's club won 101 games. Newly-acquired Orlando Cepeda collected the NL Most Valuable Player award as he hit .325 with 25 homers and a league-high 111 RBI. Lou Brock led the league in runs (113) and stolen bases (52) and powered a career-high 21 homers. Rightfielder Mike Shannon moved to third base to make room in the outfield for baseball home run king Roger Maris, newly acquired from the Yankees. The Cardinals breezed to the flag despite a broken leg suffered by star righthander Bob Gibson in July when he was struck by a line drive off the bat of Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente. Gibson came back to pitch the Redbirds' pennant-clincher in September and finished with a 13-7 record. Steve Carlton and Nelson Briles each posted 14 victories and righthander Dick Hughes was the club's top winner with a 16-6 record. The Cardinals drew two million in total home attendance for the first time, finishing with 2,090,145 fans.

1968 In the final year of a single, 10-team league, the Cardinals chalked up their second straight pennant and the 12th in the history of the franchise as they won 97 games and breezed to a nine-game victory over second-place San Francisco. The Cardinals put another powerful ballclub on the field in a major league season almost totally dominated by pitching. Righthander Bob Gibson was nearly invincible with a 22-9 record. He led the NL with a 1.12 earned run average, 268 strikeouts and 13 shutouts. Gibson had a 15-game winning streak at one point and his ERA was the best in league history for a hurler with more than 300 innings pitched. Gibson captured the NL Most Valuable Player award and became the first Cardinal ever to win the Cy Young Award. The Cardinals' 2.49 team ERA was the NL's best and Curt Flood at .301 was the only Cardinal regular over .300 for the season. Lou Brock led the league in doubles (46), triples (14) and stolen bases (62) and St. Louis again topped two million in home attendance. Ray Washburn hurled the Cardinals' first no-hitter in 27 years, a 2-0 gem over the Giants in San Francisco Sept. 18, just one day after the Giants' Gaylord Perry had no-hit the Cardinals by a 1-0 score.

1969 Divisional play began in major league baseball but the Cardinals never got moving in their bid to become the first team to win three straight NL titles since the 1942-43-44 Cardinal entries. The Redbirds acquired Vada Pinson to replace the retired Roger Maris in rightfield but Pinson suffered a broked leg early in the season. The Redbirds staged a strong comeback in July but faded down the stretch and finished fourth in the NL East, 13 games behind pennant-winning New York. Joe Torre led St. Louis with 101 RBIs and Lou Brock led the NL with 53 stolen bases. Bob Gibson had a 20-13 mound mark and lefty Steve Carlton set a major league record Sept. 15 against the Mets when he struck out 19 batters, losing the game 4-3 on a pair of two-run homers by New York's Ron Swoboda. Carlton struck out at least one man in every inning and fanned the side in four different frames.

1970 The Cardinals repeated their fourth-place finish in the NL East but dipped below .500 for only the second time since 1959 with a 76-86 record. Bob Gibson dominated again on the mound with a 23-7 record and earned his second NL Cy Young Award but only one other Cardinal hurler won as many as 10 games. Lou Brock stole 51 bases and Joe Torre had 21 homers and 100 RBI to go with a .325 batting mark.

1971 Joe Torre had a banner year as he led the NL in hitting (.363), hits (230) and runs batted in (137) while popping 24 homers on his way to the NL Most Valuable Player award. Bob Gibson finished 16-13 on the mound in a year highlighted when he threw an 11-0 no-hitter at Pittsburgh Aug. 14. Steve Carlton gave the Cardinals a 20-9 mound season. Lou Brock led the NL with 64 stolen bases, becoming the first major league player to steal 50 or more in seven consecutive seasons. Red Schoendienst finished his seventh season as the Cardinals' skipper, a club managerial longevity record, as the Cardinals won 90 games and finished second to Pittsburgh by seven games in the NL East pennant race.

1952 Eddie Stanky was hired as the Cardinals skipper and the playing-manager guided his club to 88 wins but the Cardinals again ran third, 8-1/2 games behind Brooklyn and four games behind second-place New York. It would be the Cardinals' highest win total during the 1950s. Stan Musial hit .336 to win his third straight NL batting title and sixth overall and also led the league in slugging (.538), hits (194) and doubles (42) while sharing the NL lead in runs scored at 105 with Cardinal shortstop Solly Hemus. Gerry Staley was 17-14 to again finish as the club's top hurler.

1953 The Cardinals claimed their third straight third-place finish as they tied with Philadelphia for that spot, 22 games behind the 105-win season turned in by Brooklyn. Red Schoendienst hit .342 and finished second in the NL in hitting while Stan Musial batted .337. Ray Jablonski hit a club rookie-record 21 home runs. Rookie lefthander Harvey Haddix logged a 20-7 mound mark and Gerry Staley was 18-9.

1954 The Cardinals opened under the new ownership of Anheuser-Busch with Sportsman's Park extensively renovated and renamed Busch Stadium. The ballclub finished sixth at 72-82, the first losing record for the franchise since 1938. Stan Musial hit five home runs in a May 2 doubleheader against the Giants at Busch Stadium, a major league twinball record, as he batted .330 for the season and led the league in doubles (41) and runs scored (120). Centerfielder Wally Moon hit .304 and was the first Redbird ever named NL Rookie of the Year. Harvey Haddix was 18-13 on the mound.

1955 The Cardinals finished seventh in the league at 68-86, their lowest finish since 1918. Eddie Stanky's run as manager ended early in the year and Harry Walker took over the ballclub. Stan Musial hit 33 homers and batted .330 while Bill Virdon hit .281 and became the second Cardinal centerfielder in as many years to win NL Rookie of the Year honors. Another promising rookie, Ken Boyer, took over at third base for the Redbirds. Musial's season also included a 12th inning home run in the All-Star Game in Milwaukee which won the game for the NL, 6-5.

1956 Fred Hutchinson was named the Cardinals' manager and piloted the Redbirds to a 76-78 record and fourth place, 17 games behind Brooklyn. A highlight of the season was a seven-player trade with New York which sent long-time Cardinal favorite Red Schoendienst to the New York Giants. The Redbirds got shortstop Al Dark in the trade. Ken Boyer had three hits for the NL in the All-Star game in Baltimore.

1957 The Cardinals won 87 games and battled Milwaukee in a tight pennant race before the Braves pulled away down the stretch to finish eight games ahead of second-place St. Louis. Stan Musial claimed his seventh and last NL batting title as he hit .351 at the age of 36. Musial established a National League endurance record by extending his streak of consecutive games played to 895 before an injury forced him to the bench. The mishap occurred at Philadelphia on Aug. 22, when he tore a muscle and chipped a bone in his shoulder blade as he swung at and missed a high outside pitch. Larry Jackson and Lindy McDaniel posted identical 15-9 records to pace the mound staff. St. Louis hosted the All-Star Game but the American League won the mid-summer classic, 6-5.

1958 Fred Hutchinson's tenure as Cardinal manager came to a close as the Redbirds slipped into a tie with Chicago for fifth place at 72-82. Stan Musial began the year just 43 hits away from 3,000. Pinch-hitting in the sixth inning against the Cubs at Wrigley Field on May 13, Musial doubled to collect his 3,000th career hit. Musial finished with a .337 batting mark. Righthander Sam Jones led the NL in strikeouts (225), the first 200-strikeout season by a Cardinal.

1959 Solly Hemus took over as the Cardinal manager but the Redbirds slipped two more notches in the standings to seventh as Los Angeles and Milwaukee tied for the NL title before the Dodgers beat the Braves in a playoff. Ken Boyer had his second straight big year at the plate with 28 homers, 94 RBI and a .309 batting mark and Joe Cunningham led the club in hitting at .345. Larry Jackson and Lindy McDaniel each won 14 games.

1960 The Cardinals bounced back to a third-place finish, winning 86 games and finishing two games behind Milwaukee and nine games away from pennant-winning Pittsburgh. Ken Boyer slammed a career-high 32 homers and drove in 97 runs. Ernie Broglio led the NL in wins and winning percentage with a 21-9 mark while Larry Jackson finished 18-13 and led the league in starts (38) and innings pitched (282). Stan Musial homered in Yankee Stadium in the year's second All-Star Game, giving him six All-Star homers, a record which still stands.

1961 In the last season of an eight-team National League, the Cardinals finished fifth at 80-74 as Johnny Keane took over for Solly Hemus as manager at mid-season and guided the club to a strong turnaround over the second half of the campaign. Bill White popped 24 homers and Ken Boyer added 20 while Curt Flood hit .322 in centerfield. Larry Jackson and Ray Sadecki each won 14 games for the Redbirds.

1962 The National League expanded to 10 teams and the Cardinals ran in the middle of the pack, finishing sixth with an 84-78 record as San Francisco edged Los Angeles in a playoff for the NL title. Stan Musial, nearing his 42nd birthday, made a bid for his eighth batting title by hitting .330, but Tommy Davis of the Dodgers won the crown with a .346 mark. Larry Jackson won 16 games and Bob Gibson turned in a 15-win year.

1963 St. Louis made a strong run in September by winning 19 of 20 games to close to within a game of Los Angeles before losing a three-game series in Busch Stadium to the Dodgers. The Cardinals finished 93-69 and wound up six games behind the Dodgers. The Cardinals infield of Bill White, Julian Javier, Dick Groat and Ken Boyer made history by becoming the starting infield for the National League in the All-Star game. Stan Musial, who won seven National League batting titles in his 22-year career with the Cardinals and had a lifetime average of .331, announced his retirement. His famous No. 6 became the first Cardinal number to be retired in ceremonies at his final game Sept. 29 at Busch Stadium. He had two singles in his final game to finish with 3,630 career hits, with identical totals of 1,815 each in games played at home and on the road. Musial also played in his 23rd consecutive All-Star Game, and still shares the record for games played (24) in the mid-summer classic. Bob Gibson and Ernie Broglio anchored the mound staff with 18 victories each and Groat led the NL with 43 doubles.

1942 The Cardinals won a club record 106 games but it took every one of them as the Redbirds finished just two games ahead of Brooklyn for the National League pennant. The Cardinals won their first crown in eight years in a fierce pennant race highlighted by a 21-4 record by the Cardinals in September. The Cardinals led the league in hitting at .268 and had excellent balance on the ballclub as three different players led the league in various offensive categories. Jimmy Brown had 606 at-bats, Enos Slaughter had 188 hits and Marty Marion poked 38 doubles. Stan Musial moved into leftfield to give the Cardinals' fleet-footed outfield of Musial, centerfielder Terry Moore and rightfielder Slaughter its first full season together. Musial hit .315 while Slaughter led the club at .318. Mort Cooper was 22-7 and led the NL in wins, ERA (1.78) and shutouts (10) while Johnny Beazley was right behind with a 21-6 log and a Cardinal record for wins by a rookie pitcher. Cooper was voted the NL Most Valuable Player.

1943 Billy Southworth's Redbirds followed their 106 wins from 1942 with 105 the next year and the team's seventh National League pennant came much more easily as St. Louis finished 18 games in front of second-place Cincinnati. The Redbirds again led the league in hitting and Stan Musial claimed the first of what would be seven NL batting titles as he hit .357 and also led the league in hits (220), doubles (48) and triples (20). The Cardinals lost key players to the war effort but stayed on top as Mort Cooper went 21-8 on the mound, leading the league in wins and winning percentage. Howie Pollet won just eight games but led the NL in earned run average at 1.75, the lowest ever by a Cardinal lefty. Max Lanier had a 1.90 ERA to go with his 15-7 record. Musial was voted the NL Most Valuable Player.

1944 World War II continued to erode the playing talent for all major league clubs but the Cardinals won again as they chalked up 105 wins for the second year in a row and a three-year total of 316 victories, the best three-year total in club history. The Cardinals finished 14-1/2 games ahead of Pittsburgh in the pennant chase. Stan Musial batted .347 and led the league in hits (197) and doubles (51) but it was again the brilliant Cardinal pitching which made the difference. Mort Cooper was 22-7 while Max Lanier and Ted Wilks won 17 games each and Harry Brecheen collected 16 victories as the Redbirds' 2.67 team earned run average was the NL's best. Marty Marion was voted the NL Most Valuable Player, the third Cardinal in succession to win that honor.

1945 The conclusion of World War II decimated major league rosters for one more year, and the Cardinals, with their regular outfield gone, won 95 games but finished second in the NL pennant race, three games behind Chicago. Rookie Red Schoendienst broke in and played leftfield for the Cardinals, leading the NL with 26 stolen bases. Red Barrett was 21-9 on the mound and Ken Burkhart had a 19-8 record.

1946 Eddie Dyer took over as the Cardinals' manager as the teams returned to full strength following the return of players from the military. The Cardinals won 96 games and finished tied with Brooklyn for the NL pennant, setting up the first tiebreaker (best-of-three playoff) in major league history. The Redbirds clipped the Dodgers twice for the NL crown and Stan Musial took over at first base with a banner season which won him his second NL Most Valuable Player award. Musial led the NL in seven hitting categories, including hits (228), doubles (50), triples (20), runs (124) and batting (.365), while Enos Slaughter scored 100 runs and drove in a league-high 130. Howie Pollet led the NL in wins with a 21-10 record, tying the club record for wins by a lefthander, and he also set the pace in earned run average at 2.10. Harry Brecheen and Murry Dickson were 15-game winners for the Cardinals. The Cardinals went over one million in home attendance for the first time at 1,062,553.

1947 St. Louis finished second to Brooklyn as the Redbirds' 89 victories trailed the Dodgers by five and snapped a club-record streak of six consecutive 90-win seasons. The Cardinals set a new club record for home attendance with 1,248,013 fans in Sportsman's Park. Whitey Kurowski led the Cardinals with 27 homers and 104 RBIs and George Munger and Harry Brecheen set the pace on the mound with 16 wins each.

1948 Stan Musial turned in the best season of his 22-year Cardinal career, winning his third NL Most Valuable Player award and barely missing the Triple Crown as he led the league in six categories and finished with 39 home runs, 135 runs, 230 hits, 46 doubles, a .376 batting average and a .702 slugging mark. New York's Johnny Mize and Pittsburgh's Ralph Kiner shared the NL home run lead with 40 each, one ahead of Musial. The Cardinals' 85 wins were again good for second place, 6 1/2 games behind Brooklyn. Harry Brecheen led the NL in winning percentage, strikeouts (149) and earned run average (2.24) as he posted a 20-7 record. Sportsman's Park was the site for the All-Star game for the second time, with the American League winning, 5-2

1949 The Cardinals won 96 games and finished second again, this time trailing Brooklyn by a single game in a hotly-contested pennant race. St. Louis set yet another new home attendance record at 1,430,676, a mark that would stand for 17 years and remain the club's best single-season attendance in Sportman's Park/old Busch Stadium. Stan Musial hit .338 and led the NL in hits, doubles and triples and Enos Slaughter batted .336. Howie Pollet led a parade of six Cardinal pitchers with 10 or more wins as he posted a 20-9 record.

1950 The Cardinals slipped to just above .500 with 78 wins and fifth place in the NL, marking the first time the team hadn't finished either first or second in the league since 1940. Eddie Dyer was in his last year as manager and Stan Musial claimed the NL batting title with a .346 mark while Red Schoendienst led the league in at bats (642) and doubles (43). Musial's season included a 30-game hitting streak, second best in club history, and Schoendienst popped a home run in the 14th inning to give the NL a 4-3 victory in the All-Star Game at Chicago's Comiskey Park. The Cardinals beat the Pirates, 4-2, on April 18 at Sportsman's Park in baseball's first-ever opening day night game.

1951 Long-time Cardinal favorite Marty Marion retired as a player and took over as the Redbirds' manager, guiding St. Louis to an 81-73 record and third place in the NL, 15-1/2 games behind New York after the Giants beat Brooklyn in a playoff for the NL crown. Stan Musial led the league in batting (.355), runs scored (124) and, for the fifth time, triples (12). Gerry Staley was the team's top pitcher at 19-13.

1930 In one of the best hitting seasons in major league history, the Cardinals overpowered the field offensively to win another National League pennant, finishing two games ahead of Chicago, five lengths in front of New York and six ahead of Brooklyn. Gabby Street became the Redbirds' sixth different regular manager in six seasons and piloted his club to a .314 team batting mark that was only the third best in the NL. Every Cardinal regular hit over .300, led by rightfielder George Watkins who hit a Cardinals club rookie-record .373. Lefty Bill Hallahan was 15-9 as the top winner on a well-balanced pitching staff.

1931 The Cardinals topped the 100-victory mark for the first time with 101 wins and chalked up another National League pennant, their fourth in six seasons. The Redbirds finished 13 games in front of New York, easily the biggest pennant-winning margin they had had to that point. Chick Hafey won the NL batting title at .349, less than a point ahead of both the Giants' Bill Terry and the Cardinals' Jim Bottomley. Frankie Frisch led the league with 28 stolen bases on his way to the NL Most Valuable Player award, and Sparky Adams was tops in the circuit with 46 doubles. Four Cardinals ranked among the league's top five in stolen bases. Bill Hallahan led the league in wins at 19-9, Paul Derringer was 18-8 and Burleigh Grimes finished 17-9.

1932 The Cardinals finished 72-82 to end a string of seven straight winning seasons, the longest such string the team had had to that time. After back-to-back pennants, the Redbirds slipped all the way to sixth place. Ripper Collins took over at first base and led the club in homers with 21, while rookie righthander Dizzy Dean posted an 18-15 mark and led the NL in innings pitched (286) and strikeouts (191).

1933 Frankie Frisch replaced Gabby Street as the Cardinals' manager just after mid-season and piloted the Redbirds back to a winning mark of 82-71. That only got the Cards fifth place in a tight NL pennant race as St. Louis was just 9-1/2 games behind New York. Four Cardinals were on the NL team in the first-ever All-Star Game as third baseman Pepper Martin, second baseman Frisch, catcher Jimmie Wilson and pitcher Bill Hallahan started the mid-summer classic at Chicago's Comiskey Park. Frisch hit the first NL All-Star homer. Martin led the league in runs scored and steals. Dizzy Dean again led the league in strikeouts (199) and posted a 20-18 record.

1934 The Gashouse Gang, one of the flashiest and most famous of all Cardinal ballclubs, ran its way to the National League pennant. In his first full year as manager, Frankie Frisch guided the Redbirds to 95 wins and a margin of two games over New York in the final standings. Ripper Collins led the NL with 35 homers but Pepper Martin was the sparkplug of the ballclub and led the league with 23 steals. Dizzy Dean fashioned a brilliant 30-7 season with a club record win total. He also paced the NL with 195 strikeouts and seven shutouts. No NL pitcher has won 30 games in a season since Dean's big year. His selection as NL Most Valuable Player was the fifth for the Cardinals in a decade. The Dean family finished with 49 wins for the Cardinals as Dizzy's younger brother, Paul Dean, was 19-11 and authored a 3-0 no-hitter at Brooklyn on Sept. 21.

1935 The Cardinals won 96 games but finished second by four games to Chicago's 100-win effort. Ripper Collins and Joe Medwick each clubbed 23 homers and Medwick drove in 126 runs to 122 for Collins as St. Louis led the NL in a number of offensive categories, including a .288 team batting mark. The Dean brothers chalked up another 47 wins as Dizzy Dean finished 28-12 and his 182 strikeouts were the NL's best total for the fourth year in a row. Paul Dean had a 19-12 record. The Redbird season included a club-record 14-game winning streak.

1936 The Cardinals finished with 87 wins and got a tie for second in the NL with Chicago, five games behind New York. Dizzy Dean was 24-13 but no other hurler won more than 11 games. Joe Medwick hit .351 and led the league in hits (223), doubles with a club-record 64, and RBIs (138).

1937 Joe Medwick slugged his way to the NL Triple Crown with a .374 batting average, 31 home runs and 154 runs batted in. He became the sixth Cardinal to collect the NL Most Valuable Player award as he also had 237 hits and 56 doubles among the eight categories in which he led NL hitters. Young Johnny Mize belted 25 homers and batted .364 with 113 RBIs and Lon Warneke led the mound staff with an 18-11 record. The Cardinals came home fourth in the league, 15 games behind New York. Medwick also had a record four hits in the All-Star game.

1938 The Cardinals slipped to sixth in the NL, winning just 71 games. Joe Medwick again led the league in doubles (47) and RBI (122) and Johnny Mize was the NL's best in slugging (.614) and triples (16) as he also popped 34 doubles and 27 homers while driving in 102 runs. Mize hit .337 and Medwick finished at .322.

1939 Ray Blades took over as the Cardinals' manager and the Redbirds rebounded smartly, winning 92 games and finishing second, 4-1/2 games behind Cincinnati. Johnny Mize won the NL batting title with a .349 mark and also set the pace in homers with 28. Curt Davis posted a 22-16 record while five other hurlers won 10 or more games.

1940 Slugger Johnny Mize set a new Cardinal home run record, a mark which would last for 58 years, as he blasted 43 round-trippers and led the NL in homers, RBI (137) and slugging (.626). Lon Warneke and Bill McGee each won 16 games to lead the pitchers. Billy Southworth, the Cardinals' manager for a portion of the 1929 season, took over as field boss early in the campaign and the Cardinals won at a .633 pace after he took over before they finished third in the NL standings, 16 games behind Cincinnati. The Cardinals played their first home night games and also hosted the All-Star game in Sportsman's Park in St. Louis for the first time, with the National League a 4-0 winner.

1941 With Billy Southworth in his first full season as manager, the Cardinals won 97 games and finished second to Brooklyn by 2-1/2 games. Johnny Mize led the NL with 39 doubles but his other numbers dipped from earlier year performances and a young outfielder named Stan Musial joined the team late in the season to hit .426 in a brief 12-game trial. Lon Warneke at 17-9 and Ernie White at 17-7 were the top Cardinal winners. Warneke would hurl the third no-hitter by a St. Louis pitcher as he tossed a 2-0 gem August 30 in Cincinnati.

CARDINALS HISTORICAL / SEASON HIGHLIGHTS

1892 St. Louis joined the National League as the Browns, later becoming the Perfectos.

1899 After seven straight losing seasons, the Cardinals added 28 victories to their best previous season total and posted their first winning season at 84-67 to finish fifth in the 12-team league; their highest finish to that point. Jesse Burkett batted .396, Cy Young had a 26-15 record on the mound and Jack Powell won 23 games.

1901 The Cardinals had their second winning season at 76-64, making a run at Pittsburgh before finishing fourth, 14-1/2 games out in the National League's first year with an eight-club league. Jesse Burkett led the NL in hits (228) and his .382 average made him the first Cardinal to win an NL batting championship.

1911 The Cardinals posted only their third wining season in the 20-year history of the franchise as third-year manager Roger Bresnahan guided his club to a 75-74 mark. The Cardinals' fifth-place finish was their highest since 1904 and Bob Harmon recorded a 23-16 mound mark.

1914 In Miller Huggins' second year as Cardinal manager, the 81-72 Redbirds finished third with their best record since 1901 and their highest league finish to that point. Bill Doak posted a 20-6 record and led the NL in earned run average (1.72).

1917 Miller Huggins finished his Cardinal managing tenure as he took the team to another third-place finish and an 82-70 record. Rogers Hornsby hit .327 in his second full year as a regular, and led the league in total bases (253) and slugging average (.484).

1920 The Cardinals moved from Robison Field into Sportman's Park and Rogers Hornsby led the league in total bases, RBI, slugging, hits and doubles while winning the first of six straight NL batting titles at .370. Bill Doak's 20-12 mark made him the Cardinals' first 20-game winner in nine years.

1921 Rogers Hornsby again dominated NL hitters, leading the league in nine categories, including batting (.397), hits (235), runs (131) and RBI (126). He also hit a club-record 21 home runs. Bill Doak led the NL in earned run average at 2.58. St. Louis finished third, seven games behind New York.

1922 After leading the NL in total bases, RBI and hitting in 1920 and 1921, Rogers Hornsby added the home run crown in 1922, becoming the first Cardinal to lead the circuit in homers. His banner year was the Redbirds' first-ever Triple Crown performance. Hornsby had 250 hits, 42 homers, 450 total bases, 152 RBI and a .401 batting mark. He was the first NL hitter to top .400 in the 20th century and his home run total doubled the Cardinal team record he set just a year earlier. Hornsby also had a 33-game hitting streak during the year, establishing a club record which still stands. The Redbirds hit .301 as a team but wound up tied with Pittsburgh for third, one game out of second and eight games behind pennant-winning New York.

1923 Rogers Hornsby and Jim Bottomley gave the Cardinals great punch from the right side of the infield as they ranked one-two in the NL in hitting, with Hornsby at .384 and Bottomley at .371 in his first full year as the club's regular first baseman. Righthander Jesse Haines had a 20-13 mark on the mound but the Cardinals slipped to fifth, 16 games behind New York.

1924 The Cardinals dropped another notch in the standings to sixth, a distant 28-1/2 games behind New York, as the Redbirds experienced their first losing season since 1920. Rogers Hornsby led the league in eight categories, including winning the batting title with a .424 average, the highest mark in the NL since 1900. Jesse Haines pitched the first no-hitter in club history in a 5-0 win July 17 against Boston at Sportsman's Park.

1925 The Cardinals replaced manager Branch Rickey early in the season and put star second baseman Rogers Hornsby at the helm for the rest of the campaign. The Redbirds climbed back over .500 and into fourth place as Hornsby won his second Triple Crown, leading the league in hitting (.403), homers (39), and RBI (143) to become the first Cardinal ever selected as the NL Most Valuable Player. It was Hornsby's sixth straight league batting crown. Jim Bottomley finished second in the league in hitting at .367.

1926 The Cardinals, guided by player-manager and star second baseman Rogers Hornsby, captured their first National League pennant as they won 89 games and finished two games ahead of Cincinnati. Flint Rhem had a 20-7 pitching record and Jim Bottomley led the league in doubles (40) and RBI (120). Catcher Bob O'Farrell batted .293 and was selected the NL Most Valuable Player, while third baseman Les Bell hit .325 and had 100 RBIs.

1927 Bob O'Farrell relinquished his everyday catching duties and became the Cardinals' manager, guiding the Redbirds to a club-record 92 victories but only a second-place finish, a game and a half behind Pittsburgh. Rogers Hornsby was traded to the New York Giants for second baseman Frankie Frisch, who sparked the club with a .337 average and led the NL with 48 stolen bases. The Cardinals had two 20-game winners on the mound staff for the first time since 1904, as Jesse Haines had a 24-10 mark and led the NL with 25 complete games and six shutouts, while Grover Cleveland Alexander went 21-10.

1928 Bill McKechnie took over as Cardinal manager, giving the club its third new field boss in three seasons. McKechnie took his charges to a club-record 95 wins and brought the National League pennant back to St. Louis as the Redbirds finished two lengths ahead of New York and four games in front of Chicago. Jim Bottomley led the league in triples (20), homers (31) and RBI (136) to win the NL Most Valuable Player award, and the club once again produced a pair of 20-game winners in 21-10 Bill Sherdel and 20-8 Jesse Haines. It is the only time in Cardinal history the Redbirds have had two 20-game winners in back-to-back seasons and Sherdel's 21 wins was a club record for lefthanders.

1929 The managerial wheels were spinning again as Billy Southworth took over for Bill McKechnie as the Cardinals' field boss just before mid-season. The Redbirds hit .293 as a team with five regulars above the .325 mark, but the pitching faltered and the Cardinals slipped to fourth place, 20 games behind Chicago.

CARDINALS WORLD SERIES STORY

1982 The Cardinals rallied from a 3-2 deficit in games to defeat the Milwaukee Brewers and bring the World Series Championship trophy back to St. Louis for the first time in 15 years. Joaquin Andujar nailed down two victories and posted a 1.35 ERA while reliever Bruce Sutter posted a win and two saves. John Stuper became only the 14th rookie to start two World Series games, winning the crucial sixth game, a rain-delayed contest that took five hours to complete. Dane Iorg batted .529 and tied a Series record for most hits by a designated hitter. Rookie Willie McGee turned heads by hitting two home runs and making two spectacular catches in one game. Catcher Darrell Porter was named the Series MVP on the strength of his clutch hitting and solid defense.

1985 The Cardinals won the National League Championship Series after losing the first two games to the Los Angeles Dodgers, then winning four straight, including the decisive sixth game on Jack Clark's three-run, ninth-inning homer. In the World Series, they won the first two games at Kansas City, then lost four of the next five games behind an offense that batted only .185 for the Series. John Tudor and Todd Worrell pitched the Cardinals to victory in Game One, and Terry Pendleton's ninth-inning, bases-loaded double sparked a 4-2 victory the next day. Kansas City won its first game, 6-1, behind Brett Saberhagen's pitching, then lost Game Four to Tudor, 3-0. Danny Jackson stopped the Redbirds, 6-1, in the fifth game, although Worrell tied a Series record by striking out six consecutive batters in two innings of relief. The pivotal moment of the Series occurred in the ninth inning of Game Six, with the Cardinals leading, 1-0. After Kansas City leadoff man Jorge Orta reached first on a disputed call by an umpire and Steve Balboni singled after his catchable pop-up fell safely in foul territory, former Cardinal pinch-hitter Dane Iorg stroked a one-out, two-run single for a 2-1 Royals victory. Game Seven was no contest, an 11-0 Royals victory.

1987 After coming back from a 3-2 deficit in games to win the National League Championship Series against San Francisco, the Cardinals lost their first two games of the World Series at Minnesota. Returning to Busch Stadium for Game Three, the Redbirds used a three-run seventh and strong pitching by John Tudor to cut the deficit to 2-1. The next night, utility infielder Tom Lawless, who was filling in for injured third baseman Terry Pendleton, led the Cards to a 7-2 win with a three-run homer in the fourth. The round-tripper was just the second for Lawless at the major league level. The Cardinals completed their sweep at home with a 4-2 win in Game Five. Vince Coleman and Ozzie Smith each stole two bases, and Todd Worrell earned his second save of the Series in relief of winner Danny Cox. In Game Six, the Cardinals took a 5-2 lead into the fifth inning, but homers by Don Baylor and Kent Hrbek carried the Twins to an 11-5 victory. In the decisive seventh game, Series MVP Frank Viola allowed only two runs and Greg Gagne broke a 2-2 sixth-inning tie with an infield single, giving Minnesota a 4-2 victory and its first-ever World Series title. The Series was the first in which the home team won each of the seven games.

CARDINALS WORLD SERIES STORY

1926 The Cardinals defeated the Yankees, four games to three, to win their first world championship. Veteran 39-year-old right-hander Grover Cleveland Alexander, obtained by the Redbirds in a midseason trade with the Chicago Cubs, won the second and sixth games, then came on to save the seventh.

1928 Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig paced the Yankees to a four-game sweep of the Cardinals. Ruth batted .625 for the Series and hit three home runs in one game, and Gehrig batted .545 with nine runs batted in. Four of Gehrig's six hits were home runs.

1930 Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics defeated the Cardinals, four games to two, as the Redbirds hit only .200 and the Athletics .197. Cardinal victories were pitched by Bill Hallahan, 5-0, in the third game, and Jesse Haines, 3-1, in the fourth.

1931 The Cardinals got revenge against the Athletics, defeating them four games to three. Pepper Martin, the Wild Horse of the Osage, paced the Redbirds, stealing five bases, collecting 12 hits and hitting .500. Bill Hallahan and Burleigh Grimes each pitched two victories for the Cardinals.

1934 The "Gas House Gang" won the National League pennant on the final day of the season, then defeated Detroit in the Series, four games to three. Dizzy and Paul Dean, who combined to win 49 games during the regular season, each won two games over the Tigers. The final game of the Series, won by the Cardinals, 11-0, was marked by Commissioner Kenesaw Landis' order to eject Joe (Ducky) Medwick from the game. Medwick had slid hard into Tigers third baseman Marv Owen in the sixth inning, so infuriating Detroit fans that they bombarded Medwick with fruit, vegetables and debris when he took his position in left field in the bottom of the inning. Landis removed Medwick to halt the disturbance.

1942 The Cardinals lost the first game of the Series to the Yankees, then roared back to win four straight. Rookie pitcher Johnny Beazley won two games, lefthander Ernie White shut out the Yankees in the third game, and third baseman Whitey Kurowski belted an RBI-triple in the second game and a two-run, ninth-inning homer to clinch the finale.

1943 The Yankees evened their World Series record against the Cardinals at 2-2 by defeating the Redbirds in five games. The turning point of the Series occurred in the third game. With the Cardinals holding a 2-1 lead in the eighth, Johnny Lindell crashed into Whitey Kurowski at third on pinch-hitter George Stirnweiss' sacrifice bunt and jarred the ball loose from Kurowski's hand. After a fly out and an intentional walk, Billy Johnson's triple drove home three runs, igniting a five-run inning and a 6-2 Yankee victory. Manager Joe McCarthy's team won the next two games, 2-1 and 2-0, to win the title.

1944 In this only all-St. Louis World Series, pitching dominated as the Cardinals defeated the Browns, four games to two. The two teams combined to strike out a six-game Series-record 92 batters, 49 by Cardinal pitchers and 43 by Browns hurlers. Emil Verban topped Cardinal hitters with a .412 average.

1946 Harry (The Cat) Brecheen won three games and the Cardinals topped the Boston Red Sox, four games to three. With the score tied 3-3 in the bottom of the eighth inning of the seventh game, Enos Slaughter singled, then scored all the way from first on Harry Walker's double to left-center, a sprint that surprised Red Sox relay man Johnny Pesky, whose moment's hesitation allowed Slaughter to score the winning run.

1964 A team victory for the Cardinals, who defeated the Yankees, four games to three. Bob Gibson won two games; Ken Boyer hit a grand slam to win the fourth game; Tim McCarver, who batted a Series-high .478, smashed a 10th-inning home run to win the fifth game; and Ron Taylor and Roger Craig combined for 9.2 scoreless innings of relief.

1967 Bob Gibson pitched three complete-game victories and Lou Brock put on one of the finest offensive displays in World Series history as the Cardinals defeated the Boston Red Sox, four games to three. Gibson limited the Red Sox to only 14 hits in three games, and Brock topped all Series hitters with a .414 batting average. Lou also set a Series record by stealing seven bases, and Roger Maris hit .385 and drove in seven runs.

1968 The Cardinals led three games to one, but the Detroit Tigers rallied to win the last three contests and claim their first world championship since 1945. Left-hander Mickey Lolich, who pitched all season in the shadow of 31-game winner Denny McLain, was superb for the Tigers as he won three games, including the 4-1 finale. Bob Gibson won two games for the Redbirds and set Series records by striking out 17 batters in Game One and 35 in the Series, breaking the mark of 31 he set against the Yankees in 1964. Lou Brock batted .464 and stole seven bases.

1996 - Opened the season on the D.L., still recovering from 1995 shoulder surgery...rehabbed with Single-A Dunedin and Triple-A Syracuse prior to making his first M.L. appearance of the season on June 2 with 2.0 scoreless innings vs. Kansas City...made one more appearance, June 6 at New York, before returning to the D.L. on June 11...after two rehab appearances at Syracuse and two more at Single-A St. Catherines, was optioned to Triple-A on July 26...threw 3.0 scoreless innings in his lone Syracuse start at Columbus before being recalled to Toronto on August 5...made 10 consecutive starts, going 4-5 with a 4.61 ERA...on September 4, threw 8.0 innings of five-hit shutout ball, striking out a then-career high nine vs. Kansas City...combined with Mike Timlin on a 6-0 shutout...beat the Yankees, 3-1, on September 15, retiring 15 straight after a Derek Jeter home run...had a no-hitter through 5.0 innings, September 21 at Baltimore, but took a 6-3 loss...in his final start, threw his first career complete game in a 4-1 loss vs. Baltimore on September 26.

1997 - Used exclusively as a starter for the first time in his M.L. career and posted then-career highs in wins (9), starts (31), innings pitched (194.2) and strikeouts (124)...stuck with a loss or a no-decision in eight starts in which he allowed two earned runs or less as he received the least run support per nine innings pitched (3.19 runs) in the A.L...18 of his 31 starts were quality starts...worked at least 6.0 innings in 24 starts, including 14 of his last 16...allowed 31 homers, 5th-most in the A.L...allowed a then career-high four home runs, June 3 at Seattle...did not start again until the Blue Jays' first-ever interleague game, June 13 at Philadelphia, due to tendinitis in his right shoulder...allowed a run in 5.1 innings in a no-decision and also collected the first-ever hit by a Toronto pitcher in a regular season contest...June 18 vs. Atlanta, threw 5.1 no-hit innings en route to a 5-3 win over John Smoltz and the Braves.

1998 - For the second consecutive season, established career highs with 10 victories, 32 starts, 209.2 innings pitched and 151 strikeouts in his sixth and final campaign with the Blue Jays...was 8-3 with a 2.63 ERA in 17 starts before the All-Star break and 2-6 with a 5.46 ERA in 15 starts after the break...limited the opposition to a .245 average, ninth-best in the American League...left 10 games with the lead, only to see the bullpen surrender the advantage....was 6-2 with a 2.60 ERA through his first 11 starts but went 4-7 with a 5.45 ERA in his final 21 starts, including only two wins in his last 16 starts in July, August and September...after winning four consecutive starts, May 19-June 4, his record stood at 7-2 and his ERA was 2.97...ranked among A.L. leaders in pitches per start (4th with 110.66), hits per innings pitched (9th with 0.93), base runners per 9 innings (10th with 12.0) and on-base percentage allowed (10th with .314)...the Blue Jays went 14-18 in his 32 starts...worked 7.0 innings or more in 15 starts and went at least 5.0 innings in 31 of 32 starts...of his 32 starts, 18 were quality starts (at least 6.0 innings pitched and no more than three earned runs allowed), including eight of his first 11...surrendered two earned runs or fewer in 14 of his 32 starts, including nine of his first 11...allowed a franchise-record 36 home runs, second-most in the A.L...opponents batted just .203 with runners in scoring position, third-best in the league...limited right-handed hitters to a .220 batting average, fourth-best in the A.L...lefties batted .268...was perfect through 5.0 innings in a 6-3 win at Oakland on May 3...took a no-hitter into the 8th on May 19 vs. Tampa Bay, but Kevin Stocker broke up the no-hit bid with a ground ball single to right to start the frame...next time out, threw 7.0 scoreless innings in a 5-2 win at Cleveland on May 24...threw 134 pitches en route to his 10th win, August 28 at Minnesota.

1999 - Finished strong in his first Padres season, winning his final five decisions en route to a career-high 12 wins in a personal-best 33 starts...matched Sterling Hitchcock for staff-high honors in starts...his 208.1 innings pitched led the Padres, while his 137 strikeouts trailed only Hitchcock on the San Diego staff...set a career high in wins for the third straight season...went 5-0 with a 2.53 ERA (12 ER/42.2 IP) over his final six starts beginning September 3...had previously won as many as four in a row only once in his career, May 19-June 4, 1998 with Toronto...allowed three earned runs or fewer in each of the six starts and in eight of his last nine outings...was 4-7 with a 4.50 ERA before the All-Star break and 8-5 with a 4.30 ERA after the break...allowed a .276 average and 19 homers before the break and a .259 average and 14 long balls after...posted a 3.59 ERA (41 ER/102.2 IP) through the end of June, a 7.00 ERA (49 ER/63.0 IP) in July and August and a 2.53 ERA (12 ER/42.2 IP) in September and October...base stealers were only 6-for-16 (38%) attempting to steal against Williams, the best rate among N.L. righthanders (with at least 162.0 innings) and the third-lowest success rate in the league behind Atlanta's Terry Mulholland (1-for-5, 20%) and San Francisco's Kirk Rueter (4-for-12, 33.3%)...did not allow a stolen base in his final 71.0 innings after Montreal's Rondell White swiped second on August 7, and also recorded two pickoffs...issued 3.2 walks per nine innings (73 a career-best four RBI and stroked his first career triple.

- Threw 124 pitches in his ninth win with an 8.0 inning effort 6/21 vs. KC. Woody allowed one run and walked one while fanning eight in the 8-1 decision. He had two hits, including a double.
- Notched his 11th win with a convincing 4-1 victory at CHI on 7/6. He went 7.2 innings and allowed one run on six hits. Woody struck out six batters and collected his 1,000th career strikeout when he fanned Eric Karros in the fourth. Hit his third double of the year and scored against Mark Prior in the fifth.
- Held the Padres to just two runs on two hits in 8.0 innings of work on 7/11, a 4-2 win.
- Allowed four home runs to the Dodgers on 7/20 but still posted his 13th win of the year, going seven-plus innings and allowing six runs on 10 hits. Woody clubbed his third career homer off Odalis Perez in the fourth inning.
- Had his four-game winning streak snapped with a 3-2 loss at MON on 7/31, allowing three runs in 6.0 innings.
- Did not earn a decision in his 8/10 outing vs. ATL, pitching 7.0 innings and allowing two runs on eight hits. Woody hit into an unassisted triple play in the fifth when shortstop Rafael Furcal snagged his line drive with runners Mike Matheny (2B) and Orlando Palmeiro (1B) running on the pitch. It was the12th unassisted triple play in Major League history.
- Took a no-decision on 8/27 vs. CHI and Kerry Wood as the Cards rallied for a 4-2 win with four runs in their eighth. Woody allowed just one run on five hits in his 7.0 IP.
- Suffered a 7-0 loss at CHI (vs. Mark Prior) on Labor Day (9/1), working 4.1 innings and allowing six runs on 10 hits.
- On 9/3 at CHI, he made his first relief appearance since June 6, 1996. Woody entered in the eighth inning with a runner on and the Cards up 7-6. He allowed one run in 0.2 innings and was charged with the loss in the 8-7 defeat.
- Snapped a career-high five-game losing streak on 9/6 in a 13-6 win vs. CIN during which he allowed three first-inning runs. The win matched his career high (15 in 2001) and was his first since 7/26.
- Lasted a season-low 3.2 innings in a 14-5 loss at HOU on 9/12. He allowed nine runs (eight earned) on eight hits, as his season ERA jumped from 3.84 to 4.13.
- Won his 90th career decision in a 13-0 win over the Brewers on 9/18 and followed that up with a 5-1 win on 9/23 at Miller Park, allowing just one run on three hits in 7.0 innings.
- Got the win in his final start of the year on 9/28 at ARI. He threw six innings before allowing two runs on a homer by Steve Finley in the seventh.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

1988 - In his pro debut, was a New York-Penn League All-Star and club MVP at Single-A St. Catherines...in 12 starts, went 8-2 with a 1.54 ERA, fourth-best in the league...was lifted after 5.0 no-hit innings, June 28 vs. Jamestown...on August 10, made the jump all the way to Double-A Knoxville, where he went 2-2 with a 3.81 ERA in six games (four starts).

1989 - Split time as a starter and a reliever at Single-A Dunedin and Double-A Knoxville...ranked fifth among Florida State League relievers by allowing only 8.73 base runners per nine innings at Dunedin...tied for the Southern League lead with two shutouts in 12 Knoxville starts...the shutouts came in consecutive starts, July 9 and July 14.

1990 - Spent the entire season at Knoxville, except for three July appearances with Syracuse...started the Southern League All-Star Game and threw 1.1 shutout innings...ranked seventh in the league with a 3.14 ERA and topped the SL by allowing only 9.05 base runners per nine innings...led the staff with 42 appearances.

1991 - Combined for a career-high 49 appearances (48 in relief) and nine saves between Double-A Knoxville and Triple-A Syracuse.

1992 - Spent his first full season in Triple-A, posting a 3.13 ERA at Syracuse...was 3-8 with a 3.27 ERA in 16 starts and 3-0 with a save and a 2.59 ERA in nine outings from the bullpen...notched all of his wins against Pawtucket (3-0), Rochester (2-0) and Tidewater (1-0)...was 0-8 against the rest of the International League.

1993 - Opened the season with Syracuse but was recalled by the Blue Jays on May 14 to make his major league debut that same day...allowed two earned runs on three hits in 0.2 innings at New York...was optioned back to Triple-A on May 21, but was recalled four days later when Todd Stottlemyre went on the D.L...earned his first major league win on June 4 with 2.2 innings of shutout relief vs. Oakland...earned wins in three of four appearances, June 4-22 and was 3-0 with a 2.37 ERA through his first 13 major league appearances.

1994 - Made a M.L. career-high 38 appearances, all in relief...his 3.64 ERA, which included a 1.02 mark (2 ER/17.2 IP) after the All-Star break, was the lowest of his big league career...without his 10.13 ERA (15 ER/13.1 IP) in the month of May, he would have finished with a 1.76 ERA...led the A.L. with a .163 average allowed with runners on base...lefties hit only .184 (18-for-98), second best in the league...opened the season 1-1 with a 5.79 ERA through 20 appearances before being optioned to Syracuse on June 9 after throwing 5.0 innings of three-hit shutout relief to earn a 7-5 win against the Yankees that same

CAREER:

- The Cardinals are 42-19 (.689 win pct.) in Woody's starts dating back to his acquisition in 2001.
- Woody's lifetime record as a Cardinal stands at 34-14, 3.23 (143 ER/399.0 IP; 0-1 in relief).
- He owns a career mark of 69-44 with a 3.70 ERA (434 ER/1056.2 IP) in night games. He is 23-32 with a 4.91 lifetime ERA (254 ER/466.0 IP) in day games.

2003 SEASON:

- Made a team-high 33 starts and won a career-best 18 games (18-9) with a 3.87 ERA.
- Woody's 18 wins tied for second in the National League. He set a career high and was fifth in the league with 220.2 innings pitched, marking the fourth time in his career that he surpassed the 200-inning mark.
- Averaged 110 pitches per start - the third-highest mark in the N.L. (Mark Prior-113, Kerry Wood-111).
- Woody had a 12-3 record with a 3.00 ERA (42 ER/126.0 IP) in 18 home starts and was 13-4, 3.50 ERA (61 ER/157.0 IP) in 23 starts at night.
- His teammates gave Woody 6.2 runs per start over the course of the season for the best run support in the N.L.
- The Cardinals were 22-11 in Woody's 32 starts and fell victim to walk-off home runs in two of his starts. They were shutout in two starts.
- The Cards scored just 17 runs (2.1 runs per game) in Woody's eight losses as a starter.
- He was named to the All-Star team for the first time and worked the sixth inning, allowing two runs on two hits, including a home run by All-Star Game MVP Garrett Anderson. Woody was the first Cardinal since Kent Bottenfield in 1999 (14 wins) to win 12 games prior to the All-Star break.
- Made his season debut on 4/2 vs. MIL and blanked the Brewers on just two hits in 6.2 innings pitched as the Cards rolled to a 7-0 win. Woody carried a no-hitter through the first 5.2 innings.
- Blanked ARI on 4/18 for 7.0 innings, allowing three hits in the 6-3 win. Didn't allow his first hit until the fifth inning.
- Had his 25.0-inning scoreless streak snapped at ATL on 4/24, when the Braves plated two runs in the sixth.
- In his five April starts he was 4-0 with a 1.09 ERA.
- Pitched 8.0 solid innings at CHI on 5/10 (vs. Kerry Wood), allowing two runs on eight hits.
- Had his career-best 10-game winning streak snapped in a 4-3 loss to PIT on 5/31. Woody allowed four runs, but two of them were unearned. He threw 122 pitches in 8.0 innings pitched.
- Woody had perhaps the best all-around game of his career vs. TOR on 6/5. He had a no-hitter through 7.1 innings and left the game after 8.0 innings having allowed just one hit and one walk with five strikeouts. He threw first-pitch strikes to 21 of the 25 batters he faced and left with a 13-0 lead. At the plate Woody had

- Owns a career big-league winning percentage of .667 (20-10) with a 4.74 lifetime ERA.
- Opened the season in the starting rotation, but in July he moved to the bullpen and made one start the rest of the year.
- The Cardinals went 10-6 in his 16 starts, averaging 6.6 runs in those games.
- He was 5-4 with a 6.33 ERA as a starter and posted a 4-1, 3.95 mark as a reliever.
- He worked 5.0 or more innings in 11 of his starts and went 2.0 or more innings in nine of his 30 relief appearances.
- Jason allowed 19 home runs in 85.1 IP as a starter and only two homers in 41.0 IP in relief.
- Allowed two or more home runs in six of his starts, including a pair of three-homer games.
- After 7/3 he allowed only two homers in his last 30 outings (covering 45.0 IP).
- Pitched a solid game at FLA on 4/26, but did not earn a decision in the 5-3 loss. Had a 2-0 lead and a shutout through six innings before allowing two runs and making his exit in the seventh.
- Earned his first win of the year 5/2 vs. MON. Allowed one run on six hits and matched his career high with 8.0 IP, as the Cards cruised to an 8-1 win.
- Fanned a career-high nine batters on 5/7 at CIN, but suffered his second loss in a 4-2 decision. Allowed four runs (three earned) on four hits in 6.0 innings of work.
- The Cards had lost four of his five previous starts before posting a 6-3 win over the Cubs on 5/18. Jason held CHI to just one run on two hits through the first 6.0 IP.
- Tossed his first career complete game with a 3-1 win over HOU on 5/28. He allowed six hits and no walks with five strikeouts. The lone run he allowed came on a Lance Berkman solo homer in the fourth inning. Jason threw an economical 106 pitches in the game and retired each of the last 10 Astros batters from the sixth through ninth innings.
- Went 3-1 in June, despite a 6.85 ERA in four starts (five games).
- Allowed a career-high 10 hits in just 5.0 IP, but still posted an 8-5 win over TOR on 6/4.
- Made his first career relief appearance on 6/8 vs. BAL and earned the win with one scoreless inning of work. Also doubled in his lone at-bat that game to end an 0-for-21 skid at the plate.
- Was the losing pitcher in Roger Clemens' 300th career victory on 6/13 at Yankee Stadium. Jason allowed five runs on five hits in 6.0 IP. Four of the five runs he allowed came on home runs.
- Notched his fifth win with a solid 7.0-inning effort in a 9-1 victory at MIL on 6/18. The Brewers had four of their seven hits in the fifth inning and their lone run came on an Eddie Perez solo homer in that frame.
- Started on nine days' rest at KC on 6/28. The Cards led 9-4 in the fourth, but Jason could not escape the inning and left after pitching only 3.1 frames, allowing six runs on eight hits. St. Louis eventually won 13-9.
- Pitched a career-high 5.1 relief innings on 7/8 at SF, allowing one unearned run on five hits.
- Worked 3.1 innings in relief on 8/8 vs. ATL, allowing three hits and no runs.
- Made his final start of the year in the first game of 9/2 DH at CHI. Jason pitched effectively, allowing three hits and two unearned runs in 5.0 IP. He did not figure in the 4-2 loss.
- His only loss in relief came vs. CIN on 9/5, when he allowed two runs in 3.0 IP in a 4-2 decision.

career-high 14-game hitting streak, 7/24-8/7, .354 (17-for-48) with 11 RBI, tying Rico Brogna for club longest in '97...hit .363 (33-for-91) in July with five HR, 19 RBI and an N.L.-best 22 walks (.478 OBP second to Barry Bonds' .483 mark)...hit .323 (51-for-158) with runners in scoring position...appeared in Phils' first 124 games (123 starts) prior to being hit by a Hideo Nomo pitch on left arm, 8/23 vs. LA, causing him to miss next five games...scored career-high four runs, 9/8 at NYM...his second homer in two-HR game on 9/27 vs. FLA was ninth-inning game-winner in 8-7 victory.

1998 - Topped 1997 Rookie of the Year campaign in virtually every offensive and defensive category...became the youngest Phillie in modern history (since 1900) to reach 100 RBI in a season...became just the second Phillie ever to reach 100 runs, 40 doubles, 30 HRs and 100 RBI in the same season (Chuck Klein did it in 1929-30 & '32)...Scott's HR (31) and RBI (110) totals made him the first Phillie to reach 30 HR, 100 RBI in a season since Mike Schmidt in 1987 (35, 113)...set club record for doubles by a third baseman with 45, tying for fifth in N.L. (most by a RH Phillie since Ethan Allen's 46 in 1935)...120 runs tied for sixth in N.L. and were most by a RH Phillie since Dick Allen's N.L.-leading 125 in 1964 and the second-highest total since '64 (L. Dykstra had 143 in '93)...80 extra-base hits ranked sixth in league and were most by a Phillie since Juan Samuel had 80 in '87...93 walks ranked seventh in N.L...walked in 13 straight games, 9/2-16, matching Barry Bonds for longest walk streak in the majors...had a pair of two-HR games, 5/10 vs. ARI and 9/21 at CIN...had 12th-inning, GW solo HR in 7-6 win, 7/24 (1) vs. FLA...in 8/20 DH vs. ARI, went 6-for-9 (.667), nine RBI; tied career high with five RBI in first game...awarded first Gold Glove Award; was first Phillie since Schmidt in 1986 to capture award and at 23, matched Brooks Robinson as the youngest third baseman ever to win it...led N.L. third basemen in total chances (468) and putouts (135), ranked third in assists (319).

1999 - Homered in Phils' 7-4 Opening Day win, 4/5 at ATL...his 473-foot HR on 4/19 was the longest hit at Bank One Ballpark...had career-high four hits, 4/28 vs. CIN...Had 10 HR and 22 RBI in 15-game span, 7/1-19...had second four-hit game (two HR), 7/2 vs. CHI; became just third Phillie in 20th century to collect both an inside-the-park and outside-the-park HR in the same game, joining Johnny Callison (6/9/63) and Dick Allen (7/2/66)...hit his first career grand slam, 7/3 vs. CHI (Sanders)...hit GW solo HR in bottom of ninth of 5-4 win, 7/7 vs. MON...his 19 HR prior to the All-Star break were most by a Phillie since Mike Schmidt had 19 in '87...had back-to-back two-HR games, 7/18-19 at TB (homered in three straight ABs)...was forced to leave game, 7/21 at MIL after injuring lower back while sliding into third base...missed six games before returning to lineup, 7/27 vs. FLA...despite missing six games, his 11 HRs in July were the most in any month by a Phillie since Mike Schmidt hit 12 in July 1982...had five strikeouts on 8/23 vs. SD and tied the ML record for a nine-inning game...played in 23 games after injuring back before being shut down for the season...last game played was 8/25 vs. SD...despite injury, still ranked fourth among N.L. third basemen in fielding % (.960) and fifth in putouts (111)...was examined by Dr. Robert Watkins at the Kerlan-Jobe Clinic in Los Angeles on 9/15; bone scan and X-ray revealed a slight tear of an annular ligament as well as a lower back strain; surgery was not necessary.

2000 - Missed his first .300 season by one hit (.298) and had a career-high six triples...earned second career Gold Glove Award...finished second among N.L. third basemen in fielding % (.971), behind SF's Bill Mueller (.974)...homered on Opening Day for the second consecutive year, 4/4 at ARI...became the seventh Phillie to hit 20 HRs in four consecutive seasons and first since Mike Schmidt (1974-87)...hit first HR at Houston's Enron Field in a 4-1 win on 4/7...Phils also won first regular season game vs. HOU in the Astrodome, 4/12/65, when 3B Dick Allen hit the first HR in that park...hit second career grand slam, 5/12 vs. ATL...had ninth career two-HR game, 5/17 vs. STL...was on DL, 5/24-6/8, with a sprained left ankle, suffered 5/23 at HOU (missed 14 games)...homered in first game back, 6/9 at BAL...tied career high with team-high 14-game hitting streak, 6/21-7/6, .436 (24-for-55), three HR, 17 RBI...hit 100th career HR, 8/1 at SD, becoming the second-youngest Phillie in history to reach 100 HR behind Del Ennis...missed four games, 8/10-13, with a sprained left wrist sustained sliding headfirst into third base on 8/9 vs. SD...hit two triples, 9/13 vs. MON...moved past Juan Samuel (52) into fifth place with 53 career HRs at the Vet, 9/22 vs. NYM...stiff lower back caused him to miss last five games of the season.

2001 - Won his third Gold Glove (second consecutive)...finished third among N.L. third basemen with .973 fielding %, but second in putouts (104), assists (325) and total chances (441)...hit .350 with RISP, eighth-best in the N.L...tied for second in N.L. with 12 sacrifice flies, tied for seventh with 13 HBP and was the seventh-hardest batter to double up (1/92.3 AB)...his 25 HRs gave him 132 career HRs, 10th on Phillies all-time list...his 12 sacrifice flies ranked third on Phillies all-time single-season list, behind Willie Montanez and Mike Schmidt (13 each)...tied his career high with 16 stolen bases...played in most games (151) since 1998 (career-high 160)...homered on Opening Day for third consecutive year, 4/2 at FLA...hit in season-high 11 straight games, 6/25-7/5, .395 (15-for-38)...was named N.L. Player of the Week, 8/6-12, .545 (12-for-22), eight runs, four HRs and seven RBI...had a career-high six consecutive multi-hit games, 8/9-15...missed four straight games, 8/24-27, with a strained left rib cage muscle...had season-high four RBI, 9/9 at MON...became just the fifth player ever to hit two HRs off Greg Maddux, 9/17 vs. ATL, joining Cal Daniels (7/14/90), Luis Gonzalez (5/1/91), Benito Santiago (as a Phillie, 5/3/96) and Eric Karros (8/23/98); it was Scott's 10th career multi-HR game...sprained left ankle, 9/29, and missed the next game, played in three-game series in Atlanta, then sat out final three games of the season, 10/6-7 at CIN...18 of his 25 HRs came after the All-Star break.

2002 - Scott's 2002 campaign could be characterized as one of firsts and one of "business as usual"...he was voted to his first National League All-Star team, was traded for the first time in his career and played in the postseason for the first time...he

Scott Rolen

Kerry Robinson

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

1995 – Originally selected by St. Louis in the 34th round of the 1995 draft, Robinson began his career with Johnson City (A) and ranked among Appalachian League leaders in triples (2nd-8), hits (T2nd-74) and at-bats (3rd-250).

1996 – Paced the Midwest League in batting average (.359) and tied for the league-lead in steals (50) at Peoria (A)...was second in the circuit in hits (158), triples (14) and runs (98) and was third in on-base percentage (.422)...was selected to the league's All-Star team.

1997 – Spent most of the year at Arkansas (AA)...was named to the Texas League All-Star team and third in the league in stolen bases (40) and fourth in hits (168)...his 40 steals ranked eighth among all Double-A base thieves...played with Mesa in the Arizona Fall League.

1998 – Played at three levels with the expansion Tampa Bay Devil Rays, including his first taste of big-league experience...began the season at Double-A Orlando, where he swiped 28 bases in 72 games and struck out only 28 times in 309 at-bats...was transferred to Triple-A Durham on 7/2...improved his average by more than 30 points and swiped 18 bags in 58 games...his combined total of 46 steals was just four off his career high...was recalled to Tampa Bay on 9/19...appeared in just two big league games (three at-bats) and did not have a hit...made his major league debut on 9/22 at Boston, going 0-for-1...only other M.L. appearance was on 9/27 at NY, where he went 0-for-2.

1999 – Opened the season at Triple-A Tacoma and batted .322 before being traded to the Cincinnati Reds organization on 7/22...led the Pacific Coast League in triples (9) and ranked third in stolen bases (30), despite playing just 79 games...played 34 games at Indianapolis (AAA) before a promotion to the parent club...appeared in nine games for the Reds, including two in the outfield and seven as a pinch runner...made just one at-bat (a strikeout), but scored four runs.

2000 – Was released by the Reds in spring training (3/30) and signed with the Yankees organization on 4/9...batted .318 with 37 stolen bases and 71 runs scored in 119 games played at Columbus (AAA)...ranked fourth in the International League in batting average, third in steals and third in triples (9)...averaged one strikeout per 12.3 plate appearances, the second-best mark in the circuit...averaged 43 steals per season from 1996 to 2000.

2001 – St. Louis native signed with the Cardinals as a minor-league free agent in the off-season and became a key contributor after opening the campaign with Triple-A Memphis...batted .285 and scored 34 runs in 114 games...made 31 starts, including 15 in left field, nine in center and seven in right...led the club with 11 pinch hits (in 43 at-bats) and reached base safely in 15 of his 49 pinch appearances (10-1B, 1-2B, 4-BB)...was successful in 11 of his 13 stolen base attempts...ranked third on the club with six bunt hits...was one of six Cardinals to bat in the leadoff spot, doing so on two occasions...batted .325 (13-for-40) in 10 games as the leadoff man for Memphis and had four stolen bases...he batted .343 (12-for-35) vs. righthanded pitchers...contract was purchased from Memphis (AAA) on 4/18 to take the spot of Mark McGwire, who was placed on the 15-day disabled list...collected his first big-league hit with a pinch-single in the seventh inning on 4/24 vs. MON...smacked his first career extra-base hit with an eighth-inning double 5/1 at FLA...made his first major league start (in CF) on 5/24 at MIL and provided the game-winning hit with a two-out, two-run single in the fifth inning...was 2-for-4 with two runs on 6/4 vs. CIN...hit his first major league home run on Father's Day (6/17), a two-run shot off White Sox' Kelly Wunsch...had a career-high four hits at MON on 8/9, when he also scored a career-best three runs and stole a base...had three hits in 8/17 win vs. PHI, including a double, stolen base and two runs scored...was 2-for-5 with a double and a triple and scored a run on 10/4 at MIL...was also 2-for-5 with a run and two RBI on 8/30 vs. SD. 2001 POSTSEASON – Played in four of the five Division Series games vs. Arizona, with three of his appearances coming as a pinch-hitter...went 1-for-2 with a sacrifice and an RBI...collected a bunt single in the ninth inning of Game 3...pinch-hit for Mark McGwire in the ninth inning of Game 5 and put down a sacrifice bunt.

2002 – In his eighth season of professional baseball, Kerry played his first full season at the major league level...the St. Louis native batted .260 and played in a career-high 124 games...his 13 pinch-hits ranked sixth in the National League...came through with six hits in his last 22 pinch-hitting appearances...made 26 starts, including 19 in left field, four in right and three in center...was one of four Cardinals to bat in the leadoff spot, doing so on three occasions...changed from uniform No. 13 to No. 0 when Jeff Fassero was traded to the Cardinals from the Cubs in August...Kerry's run-scoring single in the 11th inning scored the go-ahead run in a 7-6 win on 4/26 at MON...started in LF on 5/6 at CHI and went 2-for-4...went 2-for-4 with two runs on 5/12 at CIN...hit a pinch homer (2nd career HR) off Pedro Borbon on 5/29 at HOU...went 2-for-3 with a walk on 6/23 at CHI...had a bunt single and walk 6/30 vs. CIN after entering the game in the sixth inning...had pinch-triple, then stole home on 7/3 vs. SD...his RBI-single in the 10th inning on 7/13 at SD was the game-winner...posted a three-hit game on 7/26 vs. CHI...his infield single scored the game's first run on 9/8 vs. CHI and proved to be his fourth game-winning RBI of the season...had two hits in his LF start on 9/21 vs. HOU and scored his first run since 8/15. 2002 POSTSEASON – Played in five postseason games and went 1-for-4...had a pinch-hit RBI-single in the eighth inning of the Division Series Game 3 clincher vs. Arizona.

MISC: Graduated in 1991 from Hazelwood (Mo.) East High School, where he played baseball, football and hockey...set school records for batting average (.557 in 1991) and goals scored (29 in 1991 hockey season)...graduated from Southeast Missouri State University, where he earned a degree in sports management in the spring of 1996...while at SEMO, compiled

BORN: 8/7/75 at Barranquilla, Colombia

OPENING DAY AGE: 28 (Turns 29 on August 7) M.L. SERVICE: 7.143

BECAME CARDINAL: Acquired from the Florida Marlins in a trade for pitchers Armando Almanza and Braden Looper and shortstop Pablo Ozuna, December 14, 1998.

CONTRACT STATUS: Signed through 2004.

2003 SEASON:

- In his fifth season with the Cardinals and his eighth season overall, Edgar solidified his reputation as one of the finest shortstops in baseball.
- He hit a career-high .330 and finished fourth in the National League batting race. He also established career bests in hits (194), doubles (47) and RBI (100).
- His 100-RBI season is a Cardinals club record for a shortstop.
- Edgar fell just short of becoming only the second N.L. shortstop (Honus Wagner-1908) with 200 hits and 100 RBI in the same season.
- Claimed his second straight N.L. Gold Glove Award and Silver Slugger Award. Edgar is the only shortstop in Cardinals history to win Silver and Gold in the same season twice in his career.
- Was named to the Sporting News N.L. All-Star team for the second straight season.
- Made his third career N.L. All-Star squad and was voted in as the starting shortstop for the first time (1,669,026 votes).
- Led the N.L. with a .391 batting average vs. LHP. He hit .316 vs. RHP (10th in N.L.).

ALBERT PUJOLS

FIRST BASEMAN/OUTFIELDER

FULL NAME: Jose Alberto Pujols

HEIGHT: 6-3 WEIGHT: 225 BATS: Right THROWS: Right

BORN: 1/16/80 at Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic

OPENING DAY AGE: 24 M.L. SERVICE: 3.000

BECAME CARDINAL: Selected in 13th round of the June 1999 free-agent draft.

CONTRACT STATUS: Signed through 2010, with a club option for 2011.

CAREER NOTES:

- Albert's 114 career home runs tied Ralph Kiner's major league record for most home runs in a player's first three seasons.
- Pujols became just the third player in baseball history (after Mark McGwire and Jose Canseco) to hit 30 or more home runs in each of his first three seasons of play.
- Owns 591 hits and a .334 batting average in 475 career games.
- His strikeout totals have dropped each season (from 93 in 2001 and 69 in 2002, to 65 in 2003), while his walk totals have risen each season (69 in 2001, 72 in 2002 and 79 in 2003).
- For his career he has only seven more strikeouts (227) than walks (220).

Player (1st three seasons)	HRs
1. Ralph Kiner (1946-48)	114
Albert Pujols (2001-03)	114
3. Eddie Mathews (1952-54)	112
4. Joe DiMaggio (1936-38)	107

2003 SEASON:

- Posted one of the best individual seasons in Cardinals history, batting .359 with 43 home runs, 124 RBI and 137 runs scored. He also collected 212 hits, including 51 doubles.
- Albert claimed a host of postseason awards and honors. He was voted by his peers as the Players' Choice Major League Player of the Year, as well as the National League's Outstanding Player.
- Was named the Major League Player of the Year by The Sporting News, and he also received the Hank Aaron Award (voted by broadcasters) as the league's best hitter, and the Silver Slugger Award (voted by managers and coaches).
- Finished second to Barry Bonds in balloting for the N.L. Most Valuable Player Award for the second straight year. Albert received three first-place votes and 29 second-place tallies for a total of 303 points. He is the fourth Cardinal to finish in the top five in MVP voting three straight years, and the first to do so since Stan Musial (five straight, 1948-52).
- Played in his second All-Star Game and led all N.L. players in fan balloting, collecting 2,030,702 votes.
- Became the first Cardinal since Willie McGee in 1990 to win the N.L. batting title, edging Colorado's Todd Helton, .35871 to .35849. It was the tightest race in N.L. history and the third-closest in Major League history.
- At 23, Albert became the youngest N.L. batting champion since LA's Tommy Davis (also 23) in 1962. Albert was the first right-hander to win the race since Colorado's Andres Galarraga in 1993. Albert was the first Cardinal right-hander to win the title since Joe Torre in 1971.
- Albert also led the majors in runs, doubles, extra-base hits (95) and total bases (394). He paced the N.L. in hits and multi-hit games (63).
- Albert joined Rogers Hornsby as the only players in Cardinals history to record 40 homers and 200 hits in the same season. Hornsby did so in 1922, when he hit 42 homers and had a club-record 250 hits.

BECAME CARDINAL: Selected in the 2nd round of the June 1999 free-agent draft, as compensation for the Seattle Mariners signing of free agent Tom Lampkin.

CONTRACT STATUS: Signed through 2004.

2003 SEASON:

- Had two stints with the Cardinals and appeared in seven games (all in relief).
- Opened the year at Palm Beach (A) and worked in six games before a May promotion to Tennessee (AA), where he pitched in five games.
- Went to Memphis (AAA) in June and pitched in five games before his recall to St. Louis on 7/28.
- Overall at Memphis he was 3-3 with a 4.08 ERA in 10 games (nine starts), striking out 27 and walking eight in 46.1 IP.
- Made his 2003 Cardinals debut on 7/30 at MON, pitching a 1-2-3 ninth inning.
- Appeared in two games in his first stint for the Cards, posting a 4.50 ERA in 2.0 innings.
- Was optioned to Memphis on 8/11 and recalled again prior to 9/2 DH, his second stint with the Cards.
- Worked a scoreless 1.2 IP on 9/4 at CHI.
- Pitched 2.0 innings on 9/9 vs. COL - his career high for relief innings.
- Earned his lone hold of the season with a 1-2-3 sixth inning on 9/21 vs. HOU.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

1999 - Threw a two-hit, 1-0 shutout win vs. Oneonta on 7/27, retiring 20-straight batters between the 2nd and 8th innings.

2000 - Worked seven scoreless innings in a 5-0 win at Salem on 5/16 to improve to 5-2 at Potomac...had a streak of 21 straight innings without allowing a walk...retired the final 13 batters he faced in a 4/29 win over Winston-Salem as he won his third straight start...retired 19 of 20 batters, allowing one unearned run and one hit in eight innings of work on 7/28 for Arkansas (AA) but did not figure in the decision as the game vs. Shreveport went into extra innings.

2001 - Split the year between New Haven (AA) and Memphis (AAA), combining to win 10 games...was named to the Futures Game squad for the All-Star festivities at Seattle's Safeco Field and struck out the only batter he faced, the Blue Jays' Felipe Lopez...was also named to the National League team for the Double-A All-Star game, but did not pitch...posted a 2-0 win on 4/6 vs. New Britain in New Haven's season opener...retired the first 14 batters faced before allowing a two-out single in the fifth inning...his 185.0 innings pitched between New Haven and Memphis were tops among the Cardinals minor league leaders...recorded his first Triple-A win on 7/21 vs. Tacoma with seven strong innings in an 8-5 triumph.

2002 - Got his first taste of big-league experience in an injury-shortened campaign...opened the year at Memphis (AAA) and was 0-3 in three starts in April...was recalled from Memphis on 4/18 when injuries hit the Cardinals pitching staff...he made his Major League debut on 4/20 at MIL and allowed three runs on six hits in 4.2 IP but did not figure in the decision in a 5-3 loss...his first career strikeout victim was FLA's Preston Wilson in the first inning on 5/2...in the bottom of the inning Josh collected his first career hit with a single off Brad Penny that scored Tino Martinez (for his first RBI) and capped a five-run frame for the Cards...was optioned back to Memphis on 5/3...pitched his last game in a loss at Edmonton on 5/7...his season came to an end when he had labral repair surgery on his right shoulder in late May...was recalled from Memphis on 8/30 and placed on the 15-day disabled list.

MISC: Graduated in 1996 from West Valley High School in Yakima, Wash....he lettered in baseball, basketball and football and was an All-State baseball selection his senior year...was a member of state championship team his freshman year...played American Legion ball from 1993-96...attended the University of Arizona where he played baseball...was scouted by Manny Guerra...resides in Yakima, Wash.

hitter against the Cubs on 5/13, when he also notched his 500th career strikeout (Bobby Hill) and his 50th career win...had his 17.1-inning scoreless streak and nine-game Busch Stadium winning streak snapped 5/18 vs. CIN...posted an 11-3 win at KC on 6/8, when he went 8.0 innings and allowed two runs on four hits...Matt retired the last 18 batters he faced...notched his 10th win in a 6-2 victory over ANA on 6/19...was named to his second consecutive N.L. All-Star squad, but did not pitch at Milwaukee...allowed a season-high 11 hits in 6.0 IP during his 8/23 start vs. PHI...the Cards lost the game 5-4 in 14 innings, and Matt left the game with a strained left hamstring that put him on the 15-day disabled list until 9/10...made three starts after coming off the disabled list...lasted just 3.2 IP and suffered an 8-0 loss at HOU on 9/15...Matt allowed five runs on nine hits and threw 90 pitches...ended the regular season on a high note, with win #17 on 9/26 vs. MIL. 2002 POSTSEASON — Appeared in three of the Cards' postseason games and went 1-2 with a 4.50 ERA...won Game 1 of the DS vs. Arizona, 12-2...Matt allowed one earned run on seven hits in 7.0 IP in a match-up against Randy Johnson...lasted only 4.1 innings in a 9-6 loss to San Francisco in Game 1 of the LCS...Matt's seven earned runs allowed (on 10 hits) tied an LCS record...he allowed six consecutive hits (also an LCS record) in the second inning...was a tough-luck 2-1 loser in Game 5, as SF plated a run in the eighth and another in the ninth for the series win.

1999 — Missed the entire campaign after injuring his right elbow in spring training...was placed on the disabled list on 3/26 and Dr. Frank Jobe performed "Tommy John" surgery in Los Angeles on 4/13...the procedure replaced a torn ligament in Morris' pitching elbow with a tendon from his right hand.

2000 — Returned to majors after missing the entire 1999 season following elbow injury in the spring of 1999 that required "Tommy John" surgery...made five injury rehab starts during May following a stint with the Cardinals Extended Spring Training team...he was 1-2, 7.98 at Memphis in 14.2 IP and was 0-0, 6.43 for Arkansas in 7.0 IP...was recalled from injury rehab assignment and activated from DL on 5/28...finished second on the team among relievers with his 53.0 innings pitched and four saves...allowed just three HRs...each time he allowed a home run during 2000, Matt also suffered a blown save...worked 3.0 scoreless inn. 5/30 at ARI for his first professional save...it marked his 1st ML relief outing and first game appearance since 9/27/98...went 3.1 innings at HOU on 7/23 - his longest outing of the season...won 8/12 at MIL for first time since 9/22/98...the four strikeouts matched his season high (6/4 vs.CLE)...fanned four of five batters faced to finish out 9/7 win vs. MON with 2.0 scoreless innings. 2000 POSTSEASON — Worked a scoreless inning of relief in both Game 2 and Game 3 of the Division Series vs. ATL...made two relief appearances during NLCS versus NY Mets, including 2.2 innings of work in Game 2.

2001 — Returned to the Cardinals rotation and posted the 45th 20-win season in club history...his All-Star campaign included a 22-8 record and 3.16 ERA in 34 starts...he became the first Cardinal to win 22 games since Bob Gibson won 23 in 1970...Matt also became the first Major League pitcher since Wilbur Wood in 1971 to win 20 games after not starting a game the prior season...was named National League Comeback Player of the Year by Baseball Weekly, The Sporting News and the Players' Choice Award...finished third in balloting for the N.L. Cy Young Award and tied for 14th in voting for Most Valuable Player...went 15-2 with a 1.62 ERA (22 ER/122.0 IP) in 18 home games, including a 6-0 record and 1.80 ERA (9 ER/45.0 IP) in his last seven starts at Busch...his 15 home wins established a Busch Stadium single-season record, breaking John Tudor's 1985 mark of 14...went just 7-6 with a 5.15 ERA (54 ER/94.1 IP) in 16 road starts...the Cards won 24 of his 34 starts, including 23 of his last 31. St. Louis scored 194 runs in his starts, but just 18 in his eight losses...he worked 7+ innings in 20 of his 34 starts...allowed just six home runs in his last 22+ games (142.0 IP) - two to Jim Thome on 7/6, one to Robert Machado on 7/29, one to V. Guerrero on 8/9 and one to Jose Hernandez on 9/19...suffered an 11-2 loss at COL on 4/5, when he allowed 10 runs (six earned) on 11 hits in his 3.0-plus innings...the start was his first in the majors since 9/27/98...compiled a string of 21.0 innings pitched without allowing an earned run from 4/21 to 5/2...fanned 11 batters and allowed only two runs (one earned) but went without a decision at FLA on 5/2...had his stretch of 36.0 IP without allowing a homer snapped in the ninth inning, when Cliff Floyd led off the frame with a shot to right to tie the game at 2-2 (the Cards won 4-2 in 11 innings)...tossed his second career shutout and sixth career compelete game with a 7-0 win over PIT on 5/7...allowed just four hits and walked one while fanning six...held a no-hitter for 6.2 IP on 6/7 at CHI, but settled for a no-decision in the Cards' 4-3, 10-inning loss...all three of the runs Matt allowed came with two out...became the N.L.'s second 10-game winner (after Curt Schilling) with a 7-3 win over SF on 6/24...his 7/6 start at CLE was the shortest non-injury (and non-rain) start of his career, as he went just 2.1 innings and allowed eight runs on seven hits...his season ERA jumped from 2.65 (third in the NL) to 3.23...matched his career high with his 12th win on 7/19 at HOU, when he allowed just a first-inning run and only five hits on the day in 8.0 innings pitched...made his first career All-Star appearance at Seattle (7/10) and pitched a scoreless seventh inning, allowing one hit to NY's Jorge Posada...allowed just two unearned runs in 8.0 innings of work, but the Cards were held to a season-low two hits in a 2-1 loss to HOU on 7/24...went 6-0 with a 3.76 ERA (17 ER/ 40.2 IP) in August...earned N.L. PLayer of the Week honors for 8/13-19...celebrated his 27th birthday with a 9-6 win at MON on 8/9...posted his second CG of the season with a 7-1 win over CIN on 8/14...took a two-hit shutout into the 8th, but allowed two hits, a walk and hit batter in that frame...equaled a career mark by allowing four hits and threw a season-high 123 pitches...tossed 7.0 shutout innings en route to his 19th win at SD on 9/4...became the N.L.'s second 20-game winner with an 8-2 win over MIL on 9/19...struck out a career-high 13 batters in 7.0 IP and won his eighth straight decision, the longest winning streak by a Cardinal since Garrett Stephenson did so at the beginning of the 2000 season...Jose Hernandez's fourth-inning HR snapped a 38.2-inning homerless streak for Morris...had his eight-game winning streak snapped in a 9-3 loss on 9/24 at HOU...matched his season high for runs allowed (eight) and failed to go five innings for the fourth time...blanked the Pirates for 8.0 innings in a 2-0 win on 9/29 as he became the single-season record holder for wins at Busch Stadium with 15...won his 22nd game of the year, 10-3 at MIL on 10/4, pitching six shutout innings while fanning 10. 2001 POSTSEASON — Pitched brilliantly in the Division Series vs. Arizona, but the Cardinals lost both of his outings — 1-0 in Game 1 and 2-1 in Game 5...he went 0-1 with a 1.20 ERA, matching up against Curt Schilling in both games...Matt allowed just two runs in 15.0 innings of work, fanning 12 and walking five while allowing 13 hits.

2002 — Matt compiled another All-Star season with a 17-9 record and a 3.42 ERA in a team-leading 32 starts...the Cards scored 155 runs (4.8/game) in his 32 starts, with 106 runs in his 17 wins (6.2/game), 19 runs in his nine losses (2.1/game) and 30 in his six no-decisions...went 5-6 with a 4.96 ERA (45 ER/81.2 IP) in day games and 12-3 with a 2.45 ERA (35 ER/128.2 IP) in night games...his 2.45 night ERA ranked third in the N.L. and his 2.91 road ERA (30 ER/92.2 IP) was eighth in the league...nine of his 17 wins came on the road...lost consecutive games just twice...finished the season strong by winning seven of his last 10 decisions...St. Louis won nine of his 13 starts after the break...made his first career Opening Day start on 4/1 and posted an 8-2 win over COL...threw a career-high 125 pitches in an 8-4 victory at HOU on 4/6, going 6.0 innings and allowing two unearned runs...defeated Curt Schilling and the Diamondbacks on 4/17 in a rematch of 2001's thrilling NLDS matchups in Games 1 & 5...Matt allowed his first HRs of the season in the win, but issued no walks over his 7.0 IP...fanned 10 batters in a losing effort at NY on 4/23...lost his second straight decision with a 5-2 loss at MON 4/28, when he allowed a career-high three HRs...did not earn a decision in a 2-1, 11-inning loss vs. ATL on 5/3...Matt threw 8.0 shutout innings and allowed only three hits, but the Braves' Damian Moss had a no-hitter through 7.0 IP...snapped a two-game losing streak with a 3-2 win at CHI on 5/8, when he went 8.0 innings and allowed two runs on four hits...Sammy Sosa clubbed a two-run homer in the first inning, but Matt allowed no hits after the second frame...posted his third career shutout and eighth CG with a four-

Matt Morris

- Had a tough outing vs. BAL on 6/8, when he went without a decision in the Cards' 11-10 win. Matt allowed season highs in runs (7) and hits (11) in just 5.0 IP. He fanned five batters and walked none while throwing 91 pitches.
- Rain and a tender shoulder abbreviated his start at Yankee Stadium on 6/14. Matt allowed four runs on two hits and two walks in 2/3 of an inning before a 1:27 rain delay. The Cards lost the game 13-4.
- He skipped his turn on 6/30 to work his way through changes in mechanics that led to shoulder tightness in June.
- On 7/21 at SD, Matt was working on 10 days rest (first game since 7/10) and broke a bone in his right hand when he was hit by a Mark Kotsay liner back to the mound in the first inning.
- Returned from the disabled list on 8/23 vs. PHI. Matt did not earn a decision in the 5-3 win and went 5.0 solid innings, allowing just one run on six hits, with no walks.
- Allowed just two runs in 7.0 IP in his 8/28 start vs. CHI as he held the Cubs to four hits. The Cards rallied for 3-2 win on Kerry Robinson's game-winning homer in the ninth inning.
- Pitched one of his best games of the season in a 2-0 win at CHI on 9/2 in the second game of a double header. Matt went 7.0 innings and allowed only five hits, but also walked a season-high four batters.
- Blanked CIN (9-0) on 9/7 as he tossed his sixth career shutout, the third of the year. He fanned eight batters and allowed a career-low three hits while throwing 100 pitches.
- Had his career-best 23-inning scoreless streak (dating to 3rd inning of 8/28 start vs. CHI) snapped in the 4th inning on 9/13 at HOU when Jeff Bagwell homered. Matt allowed just two runs in 7.0 IP in the 2-0 loss to the Astros.
- Earned his 11th and final win in his last appearance on 9/24 at MIL, an 8-4 victory.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

1995 — Made an impressive professional debut, allowing just two hits in five innings, while striking out six in a 1-0 win over Pittsfield on 7/12...was promoted to St. Petersburg after his second win at New Jersey...faced the minimum 21 batters and struck out eight in a seven-inning, one-hit shutout over Sarasota in Game 1 of a doubleheader on 8/21...named Florida State League Pitcher of the Week for 8/21-27 after throwing six scoreless innings with nine strikeouts in a 3-1 win over Tampa...pitched for Cards' Winter Instructional League club, posting a 1.17 ERA with four walks and 20 strikeouts in 23 innings.

1996 — The workhorse of the organization, Morris led all Cardinals minor leaguers with 175 innings pitched, mostly at Class-AA Arkansas with one start for Class-AAA Louisville...his four shutouts for Arkansas led the Texas League and helped earn him a spot on the league's All-Star team...tied for second in the league with four complete games and 12 wins, tied for third with 27 starts, ranked fourth with 167 innings, fifth with 120 strikeouts and 10th with a 3.88 ERA...in the Cardinal organization, he tied for fourth in wins and tied for fifth with 129 strikeouts...his four complete games were all four-hit shutouts...in his first start of the season, tossed three-hit ball over six innings with seven strikeouts, earning an 11-2 victory 4/6 at Shreveport...struck out a season-high eight batters in an 8-2 triumph 4/26 vs. Tulsa...issued 10 walks in 64.2 innings (1.39 BB/9IP) over 10 starts, 6/5 - 7/26...won three consecutive starts, two by shutout, 6/29 - 7/11...promoted to Louisville in the season's final week...in his only Class-AAA start, struck out nine over eight innings in a 3-0 loss 9/1 vs. Indianapolis.

1997 — Turned in one of the top rookie seasons by a Cards pitcher, earning selection as The Sporting News' N.L. Rookie Pitcher of the Year and tying for second in N.L. Rookie of the Year voting conducted by the BBWAA...led all major league rookies in ERA (3.19) and strikeouts (149), and paced N.L. rookie hurlers with 12 wins, which tied Todd Stottlemyre for the team lead...yielded only 12 home runs in 217 innings, posting the fourth-best homers-to-innings ratio among N.L. pitchers...had his best stuff at Busch, going 9-5 with a 2.73 ERA in 21 starts...in his 33 starts, the Cards were 18-15 while averaging 4.6 runs per game...was 4-1 in June and had a 2.18 ERA in July...in interleague starts vs. the Indians, Twins and White Sox was a combined 2-0 with a 1.19 ERA (22.2 innings/three earned runs)...pitched his first complete game in the majors 5/23 at SF but lost 2-0 to Shawn Estes...pitched his second complete game of the season 9/22 at PIT but lost 3-1...retired the first 17 batters 5/1 vs. FLA en route to his first major league win, a 3-2 Cards victory...made his big-league debut 4/4 at HOU, allowing one run on seven hits in five-plus innings, but did not earn a decision in the Cards' 3-2 extra-innings loss...in his 8/5 "homecoming" to New York state, worked 8.1 innings vs. the Mets in the rain, but did not earn a decision in the Cards' 5-4, 10-inning loss...left the game with a 4-3 lead, but NY rallied for single runs in the ninth and 10th...with the temperature hitting 104 degrees, pitched 7.2 innings (five hits, one run) to post a 3-1 win (No. 8) vs. FLA on 7/26...at the plate, batted .205 (15-for-73) with six RBI...had a pinch-hitting appearance in Cards' extra-innings loss at SD on 6/10.

1998 — Made just one start before the All-Star break due to a strained right shoulder that confined him to the disabled list...returned on 7/10 to make 16 starts in the second half, concluding his sophomore season with a club-low 2.53 ERA...led the staff with a 1.94 ERA at Busch (in 10 starts) and a 2.07 ERA in night games (11 starts)...yielded two earned runs or fewer in 12 of his 17 starts...had a stretch of 18 consecutive scoreless innings over his last three starts...the Cardinals were 11-6 when he took the mound...made his only start of the first half on 4/11 at SF, and allowed two runs in five innings but did not earn a decision...in his first start off the disabled list, 7/10 vs. HOU, pitched six shutout innings, struck out six and allowed only three hits...threw 70 pitches, including 59 for strikes, but did not earn a decision in the 6-3 win...gained his first victory 7/20 at SD, allowing just one run (a Greg Vaughn homer) and three hits in 6.1 innings...pitched a complete game 8/4 at MIL while lowering his career ERA below 3.00...scattered four hits in a 2-1 win...established a career high with 10 strikeouts vs. CIN on 9/6 but did not earn a decision in a two-run, seven-inning outing...pitched seven scoreless innings on 9/16 vs. PIT in a 4-0 win...collected his first career shutout and fifth career complete game on 9/22 vs. HOU, allowing just five hits while matching a career high with 10 strikeouts.

FULL NAME: Matthew Christian Morris

HEIGHT: 6-5 WEIGHT: 220 BATS: Right THROWS: Right

BORN: 8/9/74 at Middletown, New York

OPENING DAY AGE: 29 (Turns 30 on August 9) M.L. SERVICE: 7.000

BECAME CARDINAL: Selected in the first round (12th player overall) of the June 1995 free-agent draft.

CONTRACT STATUS: Signed through 2004.

CAREER:

- Matt's 50 victories over the last three seasons (2001-03) rank eighth in the majors. The Cardinals have gone 59-34 (.634 win pct.) in Matt's 93 starts since the start of the 2001 campaign.
- His career record as a starter is 69-39 with a 3.26 ERA (337 ER/929.2 IP) in 143 starts.
- He owns a 42-22 lifetime record and a 3.05 ERA at Busch Stadium (96 games/83 starts).
- Matt had a pair of two-game losing streaks in 2003 and has never lost three straight games as a starter.

2003 SEASON:

- Despite a series of setbacks, Matt posted his fourth career 10-win season. He went 11-8 with a 3.76 ERA, including five complete games and a National League-best three shutouts. He allowed a career-high 20 home runs in 172.1 innings.
- Worked 6.0 or more innings in 19 of his 27 starts and 7.0 or more innings 15 times.
- Went 3-1 with a 2.68 ERA (14 ER/47.0 IP) in his seven starts after returning from the D.L. in late August.
- Made his second straight Opening Day start on 3/31 vs. MIL, an 11-9 come-from-behind win for St. Louis. Matt went 7.0 innings and allowed six runs (five earned) on eight hits.
- Came within an out of a win 4/11 at HOU, but was instead tagged with his first loss. Jeff Kent hit a two-run, two-out HR in the ninth, giving HOU a 3-2 win. Matt was credited with his ninth career CG.
- Notched his first win of the season on 4/16 in a 15-2 rout at MIL. Matt connected for his first career HR with a solo shot off Wayne Franklin in the second inning.
- Posted a 4-1 record in May with a 2.23 ERA.
- Scattered six hits over 9.0 innings for his third win of the year and his 10th career complete game on 5/4 vs. MON.
- Tossed a four-hit shutout on 5/19 vs. CHI for his fifth win. He held the Cubs to a pair of doubles, allowed no walks and struck out eight for his fourth career SHO. He threw first-pitch strikes to 23 of 30 batters in the snappy 2:05 contest.
- Threw his second straight shutout at PIT on 5/24 for his sixth win of the season and his fifth in his last six decisions. Matt threw 122 pitches and allowed nine hits.
- Was named N.L. Player of the Week for May 19-25 on the strength of his back-to-back shutouts vs. CHI and at PIT (combined 13 H, 2 BB, 11 Ks). Became the first Cardinal to post back-to-back blankings since Bob Tewksbury did it in August 1990. After those back-to-back shutouts, Matt's ERA over his eight starts from 5/29 to 7/21 was 7.99 (37 ER/41.2 IP). His season ERA climbed from 2.26 to a high of 4.16 in that time.
- Had a then career-best 18.1-inning scoreless streak snapped vs. HOU on 5/29, when Geoff Blum hit a 1st-inning HR.

Steve Kline

1.42 ERA (7 ER/44.1 IP) in 51 night games...matched a season-high with 2.0 innings pitched on 10/6 vs. HOU, earning his ninth save...did not allow a home run to a lefthanded batter all season and allowed just three homers overall (5/18 at PHI to Jimmy Rollins and 10/2 and 10/4 at MIL - both to Richie Sexson)...had not allowed a home run in 66 games (52.2 innings pitched) from 5/19 to 9/30, but was tagged for homers by MIL's Richie Sexson in consecutive appearances...recorded his eighth save by closing out 9/17 win vs. MIL with 1.1 scoreless IP...had his career-best 28.2 scoreless innings streak snapped on 9/4 at SD. He'd been unscored upon in 30-straight games dating back to 7/3 at MIL...held opponents scoreless in 38 of 40 outings (6/30-9/30), including 30 consecutive appearances 7/5-9/1...blanked the Cubs for a season-high 2.0 innings pitched on 8/24, earning his 18th hold...earned his third win on 8/18 vs. PHI (1.1 IP) and also collected his first major league hit off Dennis Cook...notched his seventh save on 8/10 at NY with a scoreless 10th inning...claimed a win (#2) on 7/16 and garnered a hold on 7/17, both vs. MIN...suffered his third loss on 7/3 at MIL with two runs and a season-high four hits allowed in the eighth inning of a 2-0 loss...had a 14.2 scoreless innings streak snapped on 6/21 vs. CHI...earned his first Cardinals win on 5/2 at FLA...entered with the bases loaded in the ninth inning and pitched 1.1 innings before the Cards took the lead in the 11th...notched his second save vs. ARI on 4/18 when he entered in the 9th inning and induced Greg Colbrunn into a 6-4-3 double play, then retired Reggie Sanders...suffered his first defeat 4/12 vs. COL, allowing three ninth-inning runs...the loss snapped his scoreless streak at 7.0 IP. 2001 POSTSEASON - Appeared in four of the five games in the Division Series vs. Arizona...nailed down saves in Games 2 and 4 and suffered the loss in the decisive Game 5, when Tony Womack blooped a single to left to score Danny Bautista in the bottom of the ninth.

2002 - Appeared in 66 games and recorded six saves and 20 holds in his second season with the Cardinals...earned a save or hold in seven of the team's last 17 wins, including save #6 on 9/18 at COL...missed 28 games with a left lat/tricep strain that landed him on the disabled list from 4/29 to 5/31...allowed 19 runs in 44.1 IP (3.86 ERA) after returning from the DL...was credited with save #1 on 4/11 vs. MIL, fanning two batters in the ninth inning...closed out a win on 4/12 vs. HOU with 2.0 scoreless IP...made three injury rehabilitation outings, including two at Peoria (A) vs. Kane County on 5/24 and 5/26, and one at New Haven (AA) vs. Erie on 5/29...overall he pitched 4.1 rehab innings and allowed one hit, two walks and seven strikeouts...earned save #2 on 6/14 vs. KC...worked a scoreless eighth inning in both 6/28 and 6/30 wins vs. Reds, earning his sixth and seventh holds...his loss on 7/6 vs. LA was his first since 7/3/01...was credited with save #3 on 7/21 at PIT, stranding two runners in 1.1 IP...was dealt his first blown save on 7/22 at SF and allowed his first home run of the year (David Bell)...each of his two wins came in August – 8/15 at PIT and 8/28 at CIN...the homer he allowed to Brian Giles on 8/12 at PIT was the first he'd given up to a lefthanded batter in 131 games (153 at-bats) since joining the Cardinals...had two holds in four-game series at CHI, 8/30-9/1, despite allowing three runs in 2.0 IP in Gm #2 on 8/31...blanked the Reds for 2.0 IP on 9/2, matching his longest outing of year...save #4 came in 9/8 win vs. CHI...worked scoreless eighth inning 9/14 at HOU for his 18th Hold. 2002 POSTSEASON - Appeared in six of the Cardinals' nine postseason contests and allowed no runs and three hits in 3.2 innings pitched...earned holds in Game 2 and Game 3 of the Division Series vs. Arizona...earned a hold in Game 3 of the NLCS vs. San Francisco...entered Game 5 of the NLCS with two runners on base in the ninth inning and allowed a single to Kenny Lofton for the deciding run in a 2-1 loss.

MISC: Graduated from Lewisburg (Pa.) High School and attended West Virginia University, where he was Atlantic 10 Conference Pitcher of the Year in 1993...enjoys playing basketball and football...spends the off-season as a high school wrestling coach...he and his wife, Martine, were married on 10/16/99 in Montreal...the couple's first child, Audrey, was born on 4/14/02...Steve has participated in numerous charitable events for Cardinals Care and other organizations, including the St. John's Mercy Pediatric Cancer and Hematology Center, a "Give Thanks Amercia" message for the U.S. troops and delivering teddy bears to young fans at Cardinal Glennon Children's Hospital...Steve sponsors Kline's Kreatures ticket program for area youth.

1997 - Opened the year with the Indians, but was traded to the Expos on 8/1...was pitching at Triple-A Buffalo at the time of the trade...pitched a career-long 4.2 innings of relief at SEA on 4/9, allowing two runs on seven hits...made only start of the season on 5/24 vs. BAL, allowing three runs (two earned) on three hits in 1.2 innings...was optioned to Buffalo on 5/25 after 19 appearances, one start, and a 5.01 ERA...was recalled by the Indians for one appearance on 6/29, pitching 3.0 innings of relief against the Yankees, allowing four runs on seven hits...his only wild pitch of the season came on 9/22 at ATL; with the bases loaded in the 11th inning, he struck out Mike Mordecai on a wild pitch, allowing the winning run to score as the Braves celebrated the N.L. East title...collected his first N.L. win on 9/25 vs. FLA, pitching 2.0 scoreless innings of relief in a 3-2 win...with Montreal, made 26 appearances, striking out 20 batters in 26.1 innings...was 0-2, 9.00 ERA in 12 appearances in August and 1-1, 2.92 ERA in 14 appearances in September.

1998 - Was the best revelation on the Expos' staff...was used as a left-handed specialist as well as a set-up man for closer Ugueth Urbina...set the team record for most appearances by a lefthanded reliever (78), surpassing Dan McGinn's 30-year-old mark of 74 in 1969...was optioned on 3/30 to Ottawa (AAA), where he made two appearances before his recall on 4/10 when Mike Maddux was placed on the disabled list...despite missing the first nine games of the season while at Ottawa, finished second in the N.L. with 78 appearances, tied with Robb Nen of the Giants and Chuck McElroy of the Rockies...did not allow an earned run in 15 appearances, spanning 14.2 IP from 5/11 to 6/12...only run allowed came in the 11th inning on 6/7 at TB, costing him a loss...recorded first major league save 8/9 vs. ARI, striking out a then career-high four batters...tossed 2.0 scoreless innings on 9/5 at FLA, striking out four for the second time in his career...retired 16 batters in a row from 9/2 to 9/8 before hitting the Braves' Tony Graffanino with a pitch in the seventh inning on 9/8 at home...could have led the league in appearances if not for suffering a sprained left knee in a fluke accident while warming up in the bullpen at PHI on 9/19...his spike got caught in the wet clay and he lost his balance behind the mound...the injury sidelined him for the last eight games of the season...at the time of the injury, he was leading the N.L. in appearances, three more than Beck...did not allow a run in his last nine appearances, spanning 9.2 innings pitched...allowed four hits while striking out 11 during the run.

1999 - Once again was the work-horse in the Expos' pen as he led the National League with 82 appearances, two more than the Mets' Turk Wendell...eclipsed his own record for most appearances by an Expos' lefty and finished second all-time for games pitched by an Expo in a season, one more than Dale Murray (1976)...the only lefty in the Expos' pen, he struck out 69 batters in 69.2 innings while holding opposing batters to a .218 average...allowed only 12 of 68 (17.6%) inherited runners to score...was not given a save opportunity in 1999...was placed on the 15-day disabled list from 4/11 to 4/26 with inflammation in his left elbow...picked up first win of the season on 5/19 vs. PHI after tossing 2.0 scoreless innings...struck out five batters in 2.2 innings of work on 5/23 vs. MIL, his longest outing of the season...was 2-0 with a 1.59 ERA in 20 appearances in August, allowing three earned runs in 17.0 innings while striking out 26...made history on 8/17 at SF when he became the 14th pitcher in ML history to strikeout the first four batters in an inning; retired Brent Mayne, Shawn Estes (wild pitch), Marvin Benard and Ramon Martinez in the seventh frame...also fanned Barry Bonds and J.T. Snow to bring his K total to a career-high six in 1.2 innings of work, one shy of the club record for consecutive strikeouts held by Steve Renko (1972) and Pedro Martinez (1997)...was the Expos' representative for the Branch Rickey Award, handed out annually to honor MLB's outstanding individual who personifies "Service Above Self."

2000 - Posted a fine season for Montreal and finished the year as the major league co-leader in appearances (83) with the White Sox Kelly Wunsch...Steve's 83 games pitched ranked second in Expos history (Mike Marshall had 92 in 1973)...was used sparingly in the final weeks of the season (only five appearances after 9/16), but finished with a then-career high in games, one more than his 82 in 1999...had 11 saves and a 2.10 ERA (12 ER-51.1 IP) before the All-Star break...notched three saves, and a 5.81 ERA (20 ER-31.0 IP) after the break...was the Expos' nominee for the Roberto Clemente Award, given annually for excellence in community involvement...appeared in five straight games twice (4/18-22 and 6/1-5)...set a Montreal club record by saving five games in as many days, 6/1-5...had a 15.2 inning scoreless streak, spanning 16 games, from 4/25 to 5/23...the streak was snapped on 5/27 at SD after allowing one walk before closer Dustin Hermanson allowed a three-run homer in eighth...inherited the closer role after the loss of Ugueth Urbina and Dustin Hermanson's return to the rotation on 5/31...assumed the role for June, July and August and finished the season with 14 saves, just three shy of tying the club record for most saves by a lefty (17 by Woodie Fryman in 1980)...Steve was the Expos' first lefty closer since Fryman in 1982...had already appeared in 71 games by the end of August and had an effective 2.95 ERA...blew his fourth and final save of the season on 8/13 vs. COL, allowing two inherited runners to score on a ninth-inning triple by Neifi Perez...September was not kind to his ERA, as he surrendered eight runs in his last 8.0 innings of work to raise it to 3.50...was ejected on 9/16 vs. the Mets after arguing a double-play call at first base in the eighth by Ian Lamplugh.

2001 - Durable lefthander finished his first season in a Redbirds uniform in fine fashion, going 3-3 with nine saves...his 1.80 ERA ranked second among National League relievers...appeared in a Cardinals' single-season record 89 games, marking the third consecutive season that he led the senior circuit in games pitched...converted nine of his 10 save opportunities and led the Cardinals staff with 20 holds...received one vote for N.L. Most Valuable Player honors by the BBWAA...posted a microscopic

FULL NAME: Steven James Kline

HEIGHT: 6-1 WEIGHT: 215 BATS: Both THROWS: Left

BORN: 8/22/72 at Sunbury, Pennsylvania

OPENING DAY AGE: 31 (Turns 32 on August 22) M.L. SERVICE: 6.115

BECAME CARDINAL: Acquired from the Montreal Expos with pitcher Dustin Hermanson in a trade for third baseman Fernando Tatis and pitcher Britt Reames, December 14, 2000.

CONTRACT STATUS: Signed through 2004.

2003 SEASON:

- Durable lefty led the team with his 78 appearances & 18 Holds. His 78 appearances tied for 5th in the N.L., and it marked the fifth time in the past six seasons that he'd appeared in 75 or more games.
- Appeared in both games of 9/2 DH at CHI, combining for a scoreless 1.1 IP.
- Retired Cubs' Randall Simon with a runner at 3rd in the 8th inning on 8/27 & earned his 5th win.
- Stranded three runners on 8/24 vs. PHI, retiring both B. Abreu & J. Thome to end PHI threat in the 7th inning.
- He suffered blown save & loss #5 on 8/22 vs. PHI, allowing only the 2nd HR (J.Thome) to a LH batter in his 3 years as a Cardinal. The other LH batter to do so was PIT's B.Giles on 8/12/02.
- He limited opposing LH batters to a .243 BA (26-for-107) with one home run.
- Made his 50th appearance on 8/1 at NY & picked up his 4th win. He also had a 2-run double in that contest for his second career hit.
- Had his 7-game scoreless streak snapped 7/4 at CHI when he allowed three 9th inning runs, including his 1st HR allowed since 5/17 vs. CHI.
- He allowed just 5 earned runs (2.25 ERA) in his 23 games pitched (20.0 IP) from 5/13 to 7/3, lowering his season ERA from 5.27 to 3.48.
- Posted his 3rd win on 6/10 at BOS, getting fly out in 8th inning while stranding the bases loaded.
- Retired minimum 9 batters in 18th,19th & 20th innings to earn the win 4/27 at FLA.
- Earned his 3rd save of the season on 4/14 at MIL-- each of his three saves came vs. the Brewers.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

1993 - Started the season at Burlington in the Appalachian League before being sent to Class A-Watertown on 6/29...led the team with two complete games...tossed a complete-game shutout vs. Auburn on 9/5, his last start of the season.

1994 - Was named the winner of the Bob Feller Award as Cleveland's best minor league pitcher...his 18 wins broke the Columbus (A) record and tied for the most wins in the minors...led the South Atlantic League in wins, innings pitched (185.2), and strikeouts (174) and tied for first in starts (28)...went 10-1 between 6/28 and 8/2.

1995 - Spent the season at Canton-Akron (AA)...was limited to just 14 starts due to a mid-season arm injury that sidelined him for two and a half months...was 1-2 with 3.50 ERA through his first eight starts before going on the disabled list on 5/23 with a sprained UCL ligament in his left elbow...was activated on 8/5...posted a 1-1 record with a 1.02 ERA in six starts after coming off the disabled list...pitched in the Arizona Fall League with the Tempe Rafters, where he pitched exclusively in relief for the first time in his career...was 1-3 with a 4.88 ERA in 14 outings.

1996 - Played the entire season at Canton-Akron (AA)...allowed a team-high 16 homers...made 24 starts in the Eastern League with his only relief appearance coming on 7/28 at Binghamton (4.2 IP)...started the season on the disabled list after a spring training illness (flu and food poisoning)...was activated on 4/20 to start that night vs. Norwich...went 3-1 with a 2.58 ERA over his first eight starts through 5/30...struck out a Canton franchise-record 13 batters on 8/9 vs. New Britain...was voted Eastern League Pitcher of the Week for the effort (8/5-11)...pitched for the Oriente Caribbeans of the Venezuelan Winter League and was 3-0 with a 0.36 ERA in 14 games.

A PERFECT INNING

On April 13, 2002, Jason Isringhausen became just the 23rd pitcher in National League history to record a nine-pitch, three-strikeout inning. "Izzy" fanned Houston's Daryle Ward, Jose Vizcaino and Julio Lugo and became the third Cardinals hurler to achieve the feat, after Bob Gibson in 1969 and Lynn McGlothen in 1975. At the time of Izzy's feat it had happened 10 times in the American League and 12 times in the National League. Following is the N.L. list:

- Pat Ragan, BRO vs. BOS, 10/5/14 [2], 8th inn.
- Hod Eller, CIN at NY, 8/21/17, 9th inn.
- Joe Oeschger, BOS vs. PHI, 9/8/21 [1], 4th inn.
- Dazzy Vance, BRO vs. CIN, 9/14/24, 3rd inn.
- Warren Spahn, BOS vs. PHI, 7/2/49, 2nd inn.
- Sandy Koufax, LA vs. NY, 6/30/62, 1st inn.
- Sandy Koufax, LA vs. CIN, 4/18/64, 3rd inn.
- Bob Bruce, HOU vs. STL, 4/19/64, 8th inn.
- Nolan Ryan, NY vs. LA, 4/19/68, 3rd inn.
- Bob Gibson, STL vs. LA, 5/12/69, 7th inn.
- Milt Pappas, CHI vs. PHI, 9/24/71, 4th inn.
- Lynn McGlothen, STL vs. CIN, 8/19/75, 2nd inn.
- Bruce Sutter, CHI vs. MON, 9/8/77, 9th inn.
- Jeff Robinson, PIT at CHI, 9/7/87, 8th inn.
- Rob Dibble, CIN vs. SD, 6/4/89, 8th inn.
- Andy Ashby, PHI vs. CIN, 6/15/91, 4th inn.
- David Cone, NY at CIN, 8/30/91, 5th inn.
- Pete Harnisch, HOU vs. PHI, 9/6/91, 7th inn.
- Trevor Wilson, SF vs. HOU, 6/7/92, 9th inn.
- Mel Rojas, MON vs. NY, 5/11/94, 9th inn.
- Mike Magnante, HOU vs. COL 8/22/97, 9th inn.
- Randy Johnson, ARI at PIT, 8/23/01, 6th inn.
- Jason Isringhausen, STL vs. HOU, 4/14/02, 9th inn.

NO HOMERS ALLOWED

Jason Isringhausen did not allow a home run in his 60 appearances in 2002, extending his streak to 73 games since the 2001 season. His 2002 campaign marked the fourth-longest single-season homerless stretch in big league history.

CONTRACT STATUS: Signed through 2005, with a club option for 2006.

2003 SEASON:

- Despite missing the season's first two-plus months, he was able to lead his team in saves for a fourth consecutive season as he compiled 22 saves in 25 chances. It was also his 4th straight 20-save season.
- He's now collected 54 career saves as a Cardinal, placing him 9th on the team's all-time saves list. Al Hrabosky is currently ranked 8th with 59 career saves as a Cardinal.
- Izzy earned saves in 6 of 13 Cardinals' wins in September & in 8 of their 16 August wins.
- He's converted 34 of his 38 save opportunities since the 2002 All-Star break.
- Allowed runs in 7 of his 40 appearances and allowed multiple runs just four times.
- Suffered his 3rd blown save & his lone loss of the year on 9/17 vs. MIL, allowing just his second HR since 2001 season.
- Was credited with his 18th save on 9/16 vs. MIL - his 50th career save as a Cardinal.
- Suffered his 2nd blown save of the season on 9/5 vs. CIN, allowing game-tying run in the 9th inning. It snapped a string of 13-straight save conversions dating back to mid July, one shy of matching his career high for consecutive saves.
- Earned his 49th save as a Cardinal in Game #2 of 9/2 doubleheader at CHI, passing Dave Veres for 9th place on the team's all-time saves list. He worked a season-high 2.0 IP in Game #1 that day.
- He worked more then one inning in six of his 22 saves & worked less then one inning for a save just once (6/19 at MIL).
- He stranded 3 runners & worked 1.2 IP on 8/23 vs. PHI to earn his 14th save.
- Pitched 3-straight days from 8/9 to 8/11 and recorded saves in all three games.
- Made his first game appearance in a week on 8/2 at NY & allowed 4 runs (1 ER) & had three wild pitches.
- Earned saves on 7/19 & 7/20 at LA & posted his 8th save on 7/26 vs. PIT while adding a base-loaded 3-run triple in his 1st plate appearance as a Cardinal.
- Suffered his first blown save of the season on 7/12 vs. SD, his first blown save assignment since 9/24/02.
- Worked a then season-high 1.1 IP on 7/6 at CHI to record his 3rd save.
- Allowed his first run of the season on 7/2 vs. SF when Barry Bonds HRed in the 9th. It was the first HR Jason had allowed since 8/22/01 (Juan Gonzalez), ending a streak of 81 games & 88.2 IP without giving up a round-tripper.
- Made his 2003 debut on 6/12 at BOS throwing 14 pitches in a scoreless 8th inning while being credited with a Hold.
- He recorded his 1st save of the season on 6/19 at MIL.
- Was activated from the disabled list prior to 6/10 game after missing the first 61 games of the season as he continued rehab for shoulder surgery.
- Appeared in two games for Tennessee (AA) during rehab assignment, working 2.0 scoreless IP with 3 strikeouts. (He threw 23 total pitches).

BORN: 6/27/70 at Fullerton, California

OPENING DAY AGE: 33 (Turns 34 on June 27) M.L. SERVICE: 10.027

BECAME CARDINAL: Acquired from the Anaheim Angels in a trade for pitcher Kent Bottenfield and infielder Adam Kennedy, March 23, 2000.

CONTRACT STATUS: Signed through 2006, with a club option for 2007.

2003 SEASON:

- Jim had an incredible first half, totaling 28 home runs (T2nd in the N.L. with FLA's Mike Lowell) and 67 RBI prior to the All-Star break. He batted .303 (93-for-307) in the season's first half.
- Was named to the N.L. All-Star team for the second time in his career and drew start in CF, going 1-for-2. He also took part in the home run hitting contest during the All-Star week festivities.
- Was bothered for much of the season's second half by a right shoulder injury that he suffered in mid-June at MIL and later reaggravated during the All-Star Home Run contest.
- Finished the year with 39 homers (T7th in N.L.), the second-highest total of his career. He finished fourth in the N.L. in slugging (.617) and was fifth in OPS (1.002).
- Of his 39 homers, 10 came in the first inning and 10 were hit in the eighth inning or later.
- Tied the Angels' Garret Anderson for the M.L. lead with 10 homers in interleague play.
- His 12 outfield assists ranked second among CF's and he led N.L. centerfielders with an average of 2.95 putouts per nine innings, earning his sixth career Rawlings Gold Glove award.
- Finished in a first-place tie with Barry Bonds, Albert Pujols and Richie Sexson for the most road HR's in the N.L. (22).
- Matched a career high with four hits on 4/4 vs. HOU, including two homers and four RBI.
- Was named N.L. Player of the Week for 4/6-13 (.471 BA- 2 HR - 9 RBI).
- On 4/8 at COL he tied a 55-year-old Cardinals club record for most extra base hits (7) in consecutive games, going 4-for-6 while equalling his career high with five RBI (after going 4-for-4, with a 2B and two HRs on 4/4 vs. HOU).
- Finished the month of April with an N.L.-leading .389 BA, five homers and 17 RBI.
- Was named N.L. Player of the Week for 6/23-29, batting .445 with 5 HR's & 14 RBI.
- Hit two home runs on 6/28 at KC while putting together his third four-hit game of the year.
- Finished second in N.L. Player of Month voting for June after batting .344 with 14 homers and 29 RBI. His 14 HR's led the N.L. that month and his 29 RBI tied Pujols for the league lead.
- His 14 June homers set the Cardinals club record for June (Ripper Collins had 11 in June, 1935). It was the fifth-highest monthly home run total in club history.
- Nailed two base runners at the plate on 8/11 at PIT.
- Hit his 30th HR on 8/15 at PHI - his second career RF upper deck homer at the Vet and the 22nd all-time in the stadium's history.
- Hit two homers on 8/21 vs. PIT, including a walk-off three-run shot in the ninth, for his 20th career multi-homer game.
- Had four hits on 8/23 vs. PHI, matching his career high (16th time career and fourth time in 2003).
- He robbed the Reds of a pair of home runs with two spectacular catches in 8/29-31 series at CIN.
- Belted his 34th HR on 8/30 at CIN and added four RBI.
- Homered in both games of 9/2 doubleheader at CHI.
- On 9/27 he made his first start since 9/17 and smacked a solo homer in the ninth inning. He had missed the previous six starts due to strained right oblique muscle.
- Hit a pair of homers (#38 & #39) during the final weekend series at ARI, including a three-run shot on 9/29.

2 defeat in relief on 9/11 at SF, as Barry Bonds tagged him for a 2-run homer in the 8th, breaking a 2-2 tie...he allowed two unearned runs in 4.2 IP during his start 9/6 vs Padres, before leaving the game after being hit by Steve Finley's line drive off his right wrist in the 5th...was used in relief for first time in his professional career on Labor Day (9/2) and gained win vs Astros in 8-7 extra-innings affair...became Cards' winningest rookie since 1971 (R. Cleveland) as he gained a 2-1 win over the Rockies on 8/31 for win #12...dropped a 4-1 decision at HOU 8/25, allowing three runs in 6 IP...won for the first time since July 19 when he tossed a CG 6-1 win over the Dodgers on 8/14, allowing just five hits...made his longest start (7 IP) since June 15, but had no-decision in Cards' 5-3 loss to the Giants on 8/8, allowing just one run on six hits...Terrell Wade & two Braves' relievers held the Cards in check, as Alan's 3-game win streak came to an end in 4-1 loss to ATL on 7/24...became Cards' first 10-game winner, as he battled Cubs and rain delays for a 9-1 win on 7/19...earned his first career win in three tries against the Cubs on 7/14, as he and Cards held on for a 7-6 win at the "Friendly Confines"...Redbirds provided 11 runs and 17 hits in support of his 11-7 win over the Braves 6/26 at ATL...allowed two runs (one earned) in 6 IP on 6/21 at MTL before departing with game tied at 2-2...the Expos went on to win 4-3 in 12 innings...Alan supplied Cards' first two runs with bases-loaded 2-run double in the 5th...won at home for the first time since 4/15, as he posted a 4-2 win over the Mets on 6/15 at Busch...lowered his ERA below the 5.00 mark for the first time since the end of April...earned his first ML shutout with a 3-0 CG effort on 6/3 at San Diego...it was his second CG effort of the season...recorded wins in each of his first three decisions and finished the month of April with a 3-1, 4.89 mark...fanned a career-high 11 batters in complete-game win vs MTL on April 10...the 11 K's were the most by a Cards' pitcher since 1992...worked 8 scoreless innings in a 1-0 at PHI on April 20...his first and only loss for the month came on April 25 vs NY...he and brother Andy became the first Cardinals' brother pitching tandem since Lindy and Von McDaniel teamed together in 1957-58...they were the first brothers to share 10-win seasons since Joe and Phil Niekro did so in 1985...made postseason debut in fourth game of N.L. Championship Series 10/13 vs ATL, retiring all four hitters he faced to keep deficit at 3-0 before Cards came back for 4-3 win in game started by older brother Andy...held Braves to two runs and three hits in five innings in Game Six start, a 3-1 loss.

1997 – Had his brilliant sophomore campaign cut short by a shoulder injury in late July, which eventually led to season-ending surgery to repair a partially torn rotator cuff, damaged cartilage and looseness in his right shoulder...was placed on the DL 7/31 and remained there for the rest of the schedule...at the time of his injury, ranked third in the N.L. in strikeouts (160) and opponents' batting average and sixth in ERA (2.89)...because of the injury, fell one-third inning short of the 162 necessary to qualify for N.L. pitching honors...would have tied for sixth in ERA and ranked third by limiting opponents to a .219 batting average...surpassed his rookie '96 season strikeout total by 29...fanned batters in 17 consecutive innings (21 batters total) from 5/16-27...the Cardinals were 11-12 in his 23 starts but averaged just 3.6 runs per start, the least support given the Redbirds' regular starters...averaged seven innings per start; worked eight or more innings in nine starts, including two complete games...was 7-7 with a 2.55 ERA and 136 strikeouts in 127 innings before the All-Star break...was 0-2 with a no-decision in his final three starts...notched his ninth, and final, win in a 7/15 start at CIN, winning 7-4...in a 6/27 duel against B. Tomko at CIN, led 3-1 entering the sixth but was beaten on a Willie Greene grand slam, 5-3...earned his seventh win, vs. CIN on 6/22 at Busch Stadium, 5-2, holding the Reds to one earned run and four hits in eight innings...had no decision in his 7/2 interleague start vs. MIN...struck out 10 in eight innings, surrendering only a solo homer by S. Stahoviak before giving way to Petkovsek...Cards won, 2-1, on a McGee solo homer in the bottom of the 10th inning...was brilliant in his 6/16 interleague start at MIL, but lost when J. Burnitz homered in the ninth for a 1-0 Brewers win...Benes matched his career high with 11 strikeouts, the third time he'd fanned 11 batters in '97...also struck out 11 in an 8-3 win at San Diego on 6/11 and in a 5/16 no-decision at Atlanta...blanked the Braves on no hits for 8.2 innings 5/16 at ATL. Did not earn a decision in the game, which the Cards eventually lost, 1-0, in 13 innings...posted a complete-game 2-1 win over the Padres in the nightcap of a 4/19 DH at Honolulu, allowing only three hits and a lone ninth-inning run.

1998 – Was placed on the disabled list on 3/30 after missing the entire exhibition schedule while recovering from shoulder surgery performed in September 1997....underwent additional surgery on his right shoulder on 9/3...Dr. James Andrews performed the arthroscopic procedure to repair "residual underlying laxity."

1999 – Completed long journey back to majors after missing nearly two full years due to right shoulder injury that twice required surgery...began the season on disabled list before returning to game action in early August, after completing a variety of simulated game workouts...saw his first professional game action since 1997 on 8/5 vs. Shreveport when he made an injury rehab start for Arkansas (AA)...worked 1.1 scoreless innings...combined to make seven rehab appearances with Potomac (A), Arkansas (AA) and Memphis (AAA). Final rehab start was with Memphis on 9/4 vs. Nashville...had a pair of three inning outings -- his longest of the year...worked three innings vs. Jackson on 8/25 and did the same vs. Kinston on 8/30...was activated from the disabled list on 9/5 and made his return to the Busch Stadium mound on 9/10 vs. PIT; worked one scoreless inning, striking out two, in his first major league game appearance since 7/30/97...made his final appearance of the season on 9/18 vs. HOU; allowed one hit before inducing a game-ending doubleplay.

2000 – Pitched in 30 games for the Cardinals and saw his most action since the 1997 season, when he had his sophomore campaign cut short by an injured shoulder...ppened the year at Triple-A Memphis, but joined the Cardinals full-time on 5/28...was used exclusively out of the bullpen in St. Louis...finished 16 of the 30 games in which he appeared...allowed 30 runs and seven HRs in his last 22 appearances (32.0 IP) after allowing just three runs and no HRs in his first eight games (14.0

- He finished the campaign at Iowa and his overall Triple-A totals included a 7-7 record in 19 games (17 starts) with two complete games and a 5.37 ERA.

CAREER HIGHLIGHTS:

1993 – Allowed just two home runs in his 37 innings...posted a 2.01 ERA in four home starts, but had a 6.14 mark in three starts on the road.

1994 – Made a rapid rise through the Cardinals' farm system, posting a combined 17-3 record with a 2.28 ERA...led all of minor league baseball with his 205.2 innings pitched, and his 2.28 ERA was 9th among all minor league hurlers...finished third among minor league pitchers with 184 K's, and his .197 opponents average was second...hurled a two-hitter in his first AA start, and a four-hitter in his first AAA start.

1995 – Started out strong, but season was shortened due to injury...began the year 2-0 with a 1.74 ERA in his first five games at Louisville (AAA) before elbow injury put him on the shelf following five scoreless IP in 4/29 start vs New Orleans...missed nearly four months due to inflammation and tightness in his right elbow and forearm...returned to active roster on 8/9 in start vs Iowa...was held to two innings of work as he was working off a pitch count...was stretched out to 4 IP in 8/14 start vs Omaha and went to 6 IP on 8/19 vs Indy...Alan was 2-2 with a 3.24 ERA (25 IP/9 ER) in his six starts following return to the active roster...he was 2-0 during post-season, helping Louisville to opening round series sweep of Indy with a CG shutout in Game #3 of playoff series...earned 2nd post-season win in Louisville's Game #3 win over Buffalo on 9/13 in the American Association Championship series...was 4-2 with a 2.41 ERA in 11 starts at Louisville, his first full year at the triple-A level...held opposing batters to a .185 mark and fanned 54 in his 56 IP...was purchased from Louisville on 9/16 & was 1-2 in three starts for the Cardinals...made his ML debut on 9/19 at PIT, working four innings...lasted just 3.1 IP in 9/25 start at CHI...earned his first ML win on 9/30 vs PIT...fanned 10 in his 8.2 IP, equaling the Cards single-game strikeout high for the year...fanned a total of 20 batters in his 16 IP with the Cards...won Arizona Fall League top honors for pitching with 6-1 mark and a 1.78 ERA...also established AFL record for strikeouts with 62.

1996 – Rookie right-hander put together one of the finest frosh seasons ever by a Redbird pitcher...finished the year with 13 wins, the most by a STL rookie since 1967 (Dick Hughes -16)...his 131 strikeouts were the most by a Cardinal rookie since 1971 (Reggie Cleveland -148)...he and Expos' Ugueth Urbina were only rookie pitchers in the NL to post a double-digit win total...the Cards were 14-18 in his starts and averaged 4.9 runs/game support (158 runs)...Alan owned a 2.21 ERA (85.2 IP/21 ER) in the 12 starts he won, but a 6.99 mark (104.1 IP/81 ER) in his 20 starts without a win...10 of his 13 wins came in night games...suffered tough stretches in May (1-2, 7.67 ERA) & July (3-2, 6/98 ERA), but was a solid 3-1, 2.65 ERA in June...his longest win streak was three games (4/10-20 & 7/6-19)...Alan made two relief appearances, the first ever of his professional career...suffered 4-and the D-Backs in a 9-4 win...Rick fanned eight in 5.0 IP and helped the Cardinals to a sweep of the three-game series at Bank One Ballpark...after struggling in his final five starts with the Cardinals, Rick was optioned to Memphis (AAA) on 5/11...made just three starts for the Memphis club, walking 17 batters in just 4.1 IP...he made his first start for Memphis on 5/15, walking six while throwing four wild pitches...he failed to get past the first inning his final two starts for Memphis and in his third and final start, 5/24 vs. Nashville, he set Pacific Coast League records for wild pitches (5) and walks (6) in a single inning...after a three week stay in extended spring training, Rick reported to Johnson City (R) in June and turned his season around by enjoying success both on the mound and at the plate...he led the Appalachian League with a 1.33 ERA in 14 starts, fanning a league-leading 158 batters in 87.1 innings pitched while walking only 18...he also made a run at the Appy League home run title, belting 10 round-trippers as a part-time designated hitter...was tabbed the Appalachian League Pitcher of the Year and was also named to the league's postseason All-Star team as both a pitcher and designated hitter...hit a pair of home runs in his first game as a DH on 6/21 vs. Bristol...fanned 21 batters during his first two starts for Johnson City in just 10 innings pitched...fanned 15 batters in 6.0 IP vs. Kingsport on 7/6, striking out nine straight batters at one point...posted his fourth straight double-digit strikeout contest on 7/21 vs. Pulaski, collecting 17 K's in his 7.0 IP...ran his streak of double-digit strikeout games to six in a 4-2 win vs. Martinsville on 7/31, fanning 14...homered in four straight games between 8/1 and 8/8, going 8-for-16 with five homers and 13 RBIs during that stretch.

2002 - Missed the entire 2002 campaign with a left elbow sprain...appeared in just one spring training game before experiencing arm trouble...that lone appearance came vs. Montreal on 3/3, when he went 2.0 innings and allowed five runs on six hits...he threw 47 pitches, including 30 for strikes...was officially placed on the disabled list on 3/27 with left elbow tendinitis and a strained flexor muscle...on 7/10, Rick met with Dr. James Andrews, who confirmed the findings of Cardinals Head Team Physician Dr. George Paletta that a non-surgical approach was an appropriate plan of action, and that Rick should not throw for the rest of the summer...was cleared to begin throwing off the mound following another meeting with Dr. Andrews on 12/9.

MISC: Attended Port St. Lucie (Fla.) High School...was named the 1997 High School Player of the Year by USA Today...went 11-1 with a 0.47 ERA during his senior season, striking out 162 batters in 74.0 innings pitched...was offered a baseball scholarship at the University of Miami...was named to Howe Sports All-Teenager Teams in both 1998 and 1999...in 1999, was voted Best Pitching Prospect by both Pacific Coast League and Texas League team managers in Baseball America's Best Tools survey...he makes his off-season home in Fort Pierce, Fla.

promotion to the majors on 8/23, drawing the starting assignment in the Cards' series opener with MON at Olympic Stadium; allowed three runs in 5.0 IP, taking a no-decision in the 11-7 defeat...his Busch Stadium debut came vs. ATL on 8/29, when he had another no-decision, allowing two runs on five hits in six innings pitched; left with game tied 2-2, but the Braves went on to win, 4-3, in 12 innings...struck out nine in 9/8 start at ATL; suffered his first major league loss as well, losing 5-4 to the Braves...made a total of five starts for the Cardinals, going 0-1 with a 3.86 ERA...his final four appearances came in relief...did not allow a run, and only two hits, in 5.0 IP out of the bullpen...struck out six in 2.0 innings of relief vs. SD in nightcap of 9/29 twinbill...was credited with his first professional save in season finale vs. Cubs; worked out of a bases loaded no-out jam to preserve 9-5 win in rain-shortened contest on 10/3...finished the year 0-1 with a 3.27 ERA in nine games (five starts) for the Cardinals...struck out 39 and walked just 14 in his 33.0 IP...held opposing batters to a .215 average, including a .133 mark as a reliever...collected his first major league hit with a single off the Brewers' Scott Karl on 9/14 at Busch Stadium.

2000 - Rookie lefthander posted a fine season in his first full big-league campaign...finished second in National League Rookie of the Year balloting after going 11-7 with a 3.50 ERA and 194 strikeouts in 175.0 innings pitched (31 games)...earned a host of postseason awards, including being named The Sporting News Rookie Pitcher of the Year...was named the Cardinals' Rookie of the Year by the St. Louis Chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America...also claimed recognition on the Baseball Digest Rookie All-Star Team...ranked among N.L. leaders in strikeouts (7th-194), strikeouts per nine innings pitched (2nd-10.0), opponents batting average (3rd-.219), ERA (8th-3.50), walks (9th-90) and wild pitches (5th-12)...his 194 strikeouts established a Cardinals rookie record, besting Dizzy Dean's 1932 record of 191...paced all major league rookies in winning percentage (.611), ERA, starts (30), innings pitched, strikeouts and opponents batting average...was solid at home, posting a 7-2 record and a 3.36 ERA in 18 games (17 starts) at Busch Stadium...at the plate batted .250 with two home runs and nine RBIs...had three pinch-hit appearances (struck out all three times)...posted a career-best 16-inning scoreless streak from 4/14 to 5/2...the Cards posted wins in nine of his 10 starts after 8/7...the only blemish was 9/8 at Milwaukee, when the Brewers plated four runs in the 9th-inning of a 6-5 defeat...claimed a 1.97 ERA (45.2 IP/ 10 ER) in his last seven starts and struck out 54 while allowing just 16 walks and 31 hits...went 3-0 with a 1.65 ERA, 40 strikeouts and 11 walks in five September starts...earned first major league win in his 4/9 start vs. MIL...fanned 10 batters in his 6.0 IP, allowing just three hits...singled in the fifth inning, hitting safely for the second time in three starts...posted a 14-1 win vs. SD on 4/20...tossed five shutout innings and allowed just two hits...struck out four, but walked a career-high seven batters...collected three base hits, including his first career home run (off Vicente Palacios)...earned his third win with seven shutout innings against MIL on 4/26...allowed just three hits and homered (off Steve Woodard) for the second straight game...went without a decision in 5/7 outing at CIN...had four wild pitches, including three in the third inning, in a 9-7 loss...despite a solid performance, he did not earn a decision in his 5/13 outing vs. LA, a 3-1 Redbirds loss...fired seven innings of shutout ball, allowing just four hits, while striking out nine and walking four...suffered his second loss on 5/19 at PIT in what was probably the worst start of his young career...lasted just 2.2 innings and allowed seven runs on seven hits in a 13-1 loss, as Kris Benson three-hit the Redbirds...won for the first time in nearly a month on 5/25, when he downed the Marlins, 7-6...fanned a career-high 11 batters in 6.2 IP...walked none and allowed four runs (two coming via solo HRs)...earned his fifth win 5/30 at ARI, 6-1...threw five no-hit innings against the Diamondbacks before allowing one run on three hits in the sixth...equaled a career high with 11 strikeouts in a five-inning outing vs. CLE on 6/4...allowed two runs on five hits and walked none, but did not earn a decision in the Cards' 3-2 loss...surrendered a solo home run to Kenny Lofton, marking the first HR he'd allowed to a left-handed batter in 93.1 career innings pitched...enjoyed one of his best games on 7/21, in a 12-1 win at HOU...went seven innings and allowed just three hits while equaling a career high with 11 strikeouts...went 2-for-3 at the plate with a walk, RBI and two runs scored...held the Brewers to just one run on three hits in 6.0 IP in 8/12 start at County Stadium...came away with a no decision, as Cards pulled out a 2-1 win in 12 innings...notched his eighth win of the year and first in six starts with a 5-2 victory over PIT on 8/23...allowed two runs on six hits in seven innings of work...threw six shutout innings before giving up solo homers to Osik and Wilson...made his first career appearance in his native South Florida and allowed only two runs on three hits in six innings at FLA on 8/28, but did not earn a decision...the Cards scored four runs in the eighth for a 5-2 win...notched his ninth win on 9/13 at PIT...struck out 11 batters and walked none in a 9-5 victory...earned his 10th win on 9/20 in Cardinals' 11-6 Division-clinching win over HOU. ...matched his career high with 7.0 IP, allowing just four hits and two earned runs...he became the Cardinals' fifth 10-game winner with the victory. 2000 POSTSEASON - Got his first taste of postseason action and appeared in three games for the Cardinals...was tabbed as the Redbirds' starter for Game 1 of the Division Series against ATL...worked through the first two innings without harm before running into trouble in the third; with the Cards staked to a 6-0 lead, Rick retired just two of the eight batters he faced in the inning and left after allowing four runs and a major league-record five wild pitches in the frame...St. Louis went on to win the game 7-5...started Game 2 of the National League Championship Series against the Mets at Busch Stadium and lasted just 0.2 innings...faced just six batters and retired only two, while walking three and allowing a double and two wild pitches...made one relief appearance, that coming in Game 5 at NY...went 0.2 innings and allowed one run (and two more wild pitches).

2001 - Was brought along slowly in spring training as he tried to regain the form he displayed during his rookie campaign...he began the season on the big league roster and recorded his lone win in his first start, 4/8 at ARI, when he bested Randy Johnson

- Fanned a season-high 12 batters while allowing no runs on just two hits in 6/25 win at Greenville in which he went 7.0 IP and walked just three.
- After throwing three wild pitches in 5/25 contest vs. Chattanooga, he had just one wild pitch over his last six games.
- His season came to an end on 7/16 when he underwent ligament transplant surgery for his left elbow. The surgery was performed by Dr. Lewis Yocum.

ALBERT FRED (RED) SCHOENDIENST (2)
SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE GENERAL MANAGER

Schoendienst has been involved in professional baseball for the past 62 seasons. He coached in St. Louis from 1961-64 under Manager Johnny Keane and in 1965 began a 12-year stint as Cardinals manager, the longest tenure in club history. He managed the Cardinals to a World Series championship in 1967 and a National League pennant in 1968. He also served as interim manager of the Redbirds in 1980 and 1990, and coached for the Oakland A's in 1977 and 1978.

As a player, Schoendienst appeared with the Cardinals in 15 seasons, mostly as their second baseman. He played in three World Series: in 1946 with the Cardinals and in 1957 and 1958 with Milwaukee. He was chosen to 10 N.L. All-Star Game squads, and in 1950 cracked a game-winning home run in the 14th inning. He also managed the National League All-Stars to victories in 1968 and 1969.

In 1989, Schoendienst was paid baseball's ultimate honor with his induction into the Hall of Fame. During his career, he collected 2,449 hits, including a league-high 200 in 1957, batted .289, and tied or led the league in fielding at his position seven times. His uniform No. 2 was retired by the Cardinals in 1996.

Schoendienst was inducted into the Missouri Sports Hall of Fame on November 7, 1987. During his playing days, he also participated with the Budweiser national bowling team.

"Red" was born on February 2, 1923, at Germantown, Ill., and was married to the late Mary Schoendienst for 53 years (Sept. 20, 1947). They had four children, all of whom are married: Colleen (6/23/51), Cathleen (10/16/52), Eileen (3/19/57) and Kevin (11/3/58).

ROBERT (BOB) GIBSON (45)
SPECIAL INSTRUCTOR

Bob Gibson, who earned distinction as one of baseball's fiercest competitors and most dominating pitchers of all time as a Cardinal from 1959 to 1975, is entering his ninth season as Cardinals special instructor.

Gibson, 68, served as the Cardinals' bullpen coach in 1995. He formerly was a pitching coach under Joe Torre for the New York Mets (1981) and Atlanta Braves (1982-84).

A winner of the N.L. Cy Young Award in 1968 and 1970, Gibson also earned league MVP honors in 1968, when he set a major league record for lowest ERA (1.12) for a pitcher with 300 or more innings. That June, he pitched five shutouts, tying an N.L. record for one month.

In World Series competition, few players compared to Gibson. He pitched a record eight consecutive complete games over the course of the 1964, 1967 and 1968 Series, winning seven games. His 35 strikeouts in the 1968 Series still stand as a record, as does his single-game mark of 17 strikeouts, established in the Series opener. He also holds the career mark for most games with 10 or more strikeouts (five).

Gibson was inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1981. His career totals include a team-record 251 victories and 3,117 strikeouts. He fanned more than 200 batters nine times, won nine Gold Gloves and was a nine-time N.L. All-Star. His uniform No. 45 is one of 10 retired by the Cardinals.

Gibson recently authored his autobiography, "Stranger To The Game." He and his wife, Wendy, make their home in Bellevue, Neb.

LOUIS (LOU) CLARK BROCK (20)

SPECIAL INSTRUCTOR

Lou Brock, named as a special instructor on December 9, 1994, assists with base-running and outfield instruction during spring training and periodically throughout the season. He served as a base-running consultant for Montreal in 1993, Los Angeles in 1988 and Minnesota in 1987; all three clubs increased their stolen base totals over the previous season.

Brock, 64, is the National League's all-time leader with 938 stolen bases, including an N.L.-record 118 thefts in 1974. He established a major league record with 12 seasons of 50 or more steals (1965-76) and led the league in steals eight times. He was the first player to steal at least 50 bases and hit 20 homers in the same season, posting a 21-homer, 52-steal campaign in 1967. His 3,023 hits rank 22nd on the all-time list.

While teammate Bob Gibson served as the pitching linchpin in the 1964, 1967 and 1968 World Series, Brock was the club's offensive catalyst. He established major league records for highest career batting average (.391) and most stolen bases in a single Series (seven, in both 1967 and 1968).

In 1985, Brock was inducted into the Hall of Fame. His uniform No. 20 is one of 10 that have been retired by the Cardinals. Since the end of his playing career, Brock has been involved in many marketing and promotional ventures. He is the founder and president of Brockworld Products. He also worked in the Cardinals' broadcast booth from 1981 to 1984.

JOSEPH (JOE) PAUL PETTINI (24)

BENCH COACH

Pettini begins his third season as the Cardinals bench coach. He served as the organization's minor league field coordinator from 1997-2001 before working with the Major League club. He managed eight seasons in the system, his last stop at Class-AAA Louisville, where he guided the Redbirds to the 1995 American Association championship. Overall, he was 475-569 at the helm of the Cardinals' farm affiliates.

The 49-year-old Pettini began his managerial career in 1989 with Hamilton, Ontario. He had stops at St. Petersburg in 1990 (60-74) and at Arkansas for the 1991 to 1993 seasons (175-229).

Pettini's playing career began in 1977, when he signed with the Montreal Expos as a nondrafted free agent. In 1980, he was traded to the San Francisco Giants, where he played for four seasons. He was signed by Louisville in 1984 and played with the Redbirds for three seasons.

Pettini was born January 26, 1955, in Wheeling, W.V., and graduated from Brooke High School in Wellsburg, W.V., in 1973. He received a bachelor's degree in education from Mercer University in Macon, Ga. Pettini and his wife Barbara were married on November 21, 1981. The couple have two children: Amy Michele (2-17-83) and Joseph James (6-15-87). Pettini enjoys bass fishing, hunting and golfing.

MITCHELL OTIS PAGE (12)

HITTING COACH

Page is entering his third full season as the Cardinals major league hitting coach. He joined the team's major league coaching staff following the All-Star break in 2001 after having served for more then two years as the Cardinals' minor league hitting coordinator. He joined the organization in 1998 as the hitting coach at Class-AAA Memphis.

Before coming to the Cardinals, Page was the Kansas City Royals' first-base coach for the 1995-97 seasons. He was Oakland's Triple-A (Tacoma) hitting instructor and first-base coach for the 1992-94 seasons.

As a player, Page enjoyed an eight-season big-league career with Oakland (1977-83) and Pittsburgh (1984). He was originally drafted by the Pirates in the third round of the June 1973 amateur draft but was sent to Oakland in a nine-player trade in March 1977. That year, he batted .307, hit 21 homers, drove in 75 runs and stole 42 bases — all career-best totals — and was named The Sporting News' A.L. Rookie of the Year.

In 1979, Page was a teammate of rookie Rickey Henderson, who in 2001 surpassed Ty Cobb's all-time record of 2,245 runs scored. On June 27, 1979, while playing against Kansas City, Page stroked a first-inning single off Steve Busby to drive home Henderson from second base with the rookie's first career major league run.

Page was born October 15, 1951, in Compton, Calif., and has one son, Kyle. He resides in Oakland.

JOSE MANUEL OQUENDO (11)

THIRD-BASE COACH

Oquendo begins his fifth season as the Cardinals' third-base coach, after joining the club's major league staff in 1999 as bench coach. He was an instructor in the Cardinals' farm system, working as a field instructor in 1997 before managing the Redbirds' New Jersey affiliate to a 34-41 finish in 1998.

Oquendo's professional playing career spanned 17 seasons and included big-league duty with the New York Mets (1983-84) and Cardinals (1986-95). Dubbed the "Secret Weapon" during his 10 seasons with the Redbirds, Oquendo established single-season major league records for the highest fielding percentage (.996) and fewest errors by a second baseman (three) in 1990. He also led the league in fielding in 1989 and compiled a .992 fielding average at second base for his career.

Oquendo batted .286 for the Cardinals' 1987 pennant-winning club and hit a career-high .291 in 1989 while playing in a league-high 163 games. In 1988, Oquendo became the first National League player since 1918 to play all nine positions in one season.

A native of Rio Piedras, Puerto Rico, Oquendo, 40, now makes his home in St. Louis County with his wife, Zenaida, and their four children.

DAVID (DAVE) LAWRENCE McKAY (39)

FIRST-BASE COACH

McKay, 53, begins his ninth season as the Cardinals' first-base coach and his 19th season on Tony La Russa's coaching staff. McKay was La Russa's first-base coach in Oakland from 1989-95 and handled bullpen and bench coach duties for the A's beginning in 1984. In all, McKay spent 16 years as a player or coach in the Oakland system.

McKay was signed by the Minnesota Twins in 1971 and spent four seasons in the minor leagues. He broke into the majors in a big way, homering off Detroit's Vern Ruhle in his first big-league at-bat on Aug. 22, 1975. McKay also hit safely in 21 of his first 22 major league games.

After the 1976 season, the Twins lost McKay in the expansion draft to Toronto, where McKay was the starting third baseman in the first game in Blue Jays franchise history. After splitting time between Toronto and Syracuse in 1979, McKay signed with the A's in 1980. He played for Oakland through 1982, helping the A's to the 1981 Western Division crown by batting .288 in the second half and belting a home run in the divisional playoff series against Kansas City. He spent the 1983 season in the minor leagues as a player-coach.

McKay earned a physical education degree from Columbia Basin Junior College in Pasco, Wash., and attended Creighton University in Omaha, Neb. Born in Vancouver, B.C., McKay was inducted into the Canadian National Baseball Hall of Fame in 2001. He and his wife, Lene, who is from Denmark, make their home in Scottsdale, Ariz. Their son, Cody, is a catcher in the Cardinals organization.

MARTIN (MARTY) LEE MASON (38)

BULLPEN COACH

Mason, 46, enters his fifth season as bullpen coach after working from 1997-1999 as the organization's Triple-A pitching coach. He begins his 19th year as a coach in the system, dating back to his first assignment at St. Petersburg in 1986. After two seasons there, Mason coached at Savannah in 1988, returned to St. Petersburg in 1989, then moved to Arkansas from 1990-96.

A righthanded pitcher originally signed by the New York Yankees in 1980, Mason was acquired by the Cardinals in December 1982 after playing on loan that season for the club's Springfield affiliate. While in the Yankees' system, he led the South Atlantic League with an .846 winning percentage in 1981, when he was 11-2 at Greensboro. At the Cardinals' Springfield affiliate in 1983, Mason ranked second in the Midwest League with 54 appearances and third in games finished, with 46. Mason also pitched for Arkansas and St. Petersburg. He retired after four games as a player-coach at St. Petersburg in 1986.

Mason was born April 4, 1958, in Central City, Ky. He attended Central Alabama Academy from 1975 to 1976 and Western Kentucky University from 1977 to 1980. He married the former Lynn Bradford on Feb. 22, 1986. The couple have two daughters, Brandy Leigh and Lindsey. Mason enjoys bass fishing in his spare time.

DAVID (DAVE) EDWIN DUNCAN (18)

PITCHING COACH

Duncan, 58, enters his ninth season as the Cardinals' pitching coach after being appointed to the post on October 23, 1995. In each of his first two seasons, the pitching staff set club records for strikeouts and ranked in the top six in the league in ERA.

Before joining the Cardinals, Duncan had been Oakland's pitching coach since July 1986, when he joined the A's along with manager Tony La Russa. Under Duncan's guidance, the Oakland staff ranked as one of the best in baseball, leading the American League in ERA from 1988 through 1990. In 1990, the A's had the lowest earned-run average in the majors, becoming just the second A.L. staff to do so since the inception of the DH rule in 1973.

Duncan began his coaching career in 1978 with the Cleveland Indians. In 1982, he was hired as Seattle's pitching coach, and the Mariners responded by leading the A.L. in strikeouts and finishing second in saves and shutouts. He left the Mariners in 1983 to join La Russa and the Chicago White Sox.

A former catcher, Duncan signed with the Kansas City A's in 1963 and made his major league debut in 1964. When the A's moved to Oakland, Duncan moved with them and appeared in both the 1971 and 1972 A.L. Championship Series and the 1972 World Series. Duncan concluded his playing career with two-year stints in both Cleveland (1973-74) and Baltimore (1975-76).

During his playing and coaching career, Duncan has been associated with six Cy Young Award winners. He coached Bob Welch, Dennis Eckersley and LaMarr Hoyt, and caught Vide Blue and Jim Hunter in Oakland, and Jim Palmer in Baltimore when all six pitchers won their awards.

Duncan and his wife, Jeanine, have two sons, Christopher (drafted by the Cardinals as a supplemental first-round pick in the June 1999 amateur draft) and David (drafted by the New York Yankees in June 2001 draft), and make their off-season home in Jupiter, Fla.

ANTHONY (TONY) LA RUSSA JR. (10)
MANAGER

Tony La Russa enters his ninth season at the Cardinals' helm after moving into seventh place on the all-time managerial wins list (2,009) in 2003, becoming just the seventh major league manager to win 2,000 career games. La Russa is the career leader in wins among active managers and ranks third all-time on the Cardinals managerial wins list. He is one of only nine managers — and one of just four in the last 50 years — to have skippered the Cardinals for more than four seasons. Tony has guided the Cardinals to postseason appearances in four of his eight seasons with St. Louis, including three consecutive appearances from 2000 to 2002.

His 2002 Cardinals won 97 games, the most by a La Russa-managed Redbirds club, and Tony was named the N.L. Manager of the Year by the BBWAA after guiding the team to the N.L. Central title in an emotion-filled season. He guided the team to an N.L.-leading 93 wins and a third N.L. Central co-title in 2001, and in 2000 he managed the club to 95 wins. He and Leo Durocher are the only managers in major league history to have 500 or more wins with three different teams.

La Russa was hired by the Cardinals on October 23, 1995, after managing for 17 years in the American League with Oakland and Chicago. In his first N.L. season, La Russa guided the Cardinals to the 1996 Central Division title and was named Major League Manager of the Year by the Associated Press.

Regarded by his peers as one of the game's top managers, La Russa's honors include Manager of the Year recognition in five seasons, four N.L. Central Division titles, five A.L. Western Division titles, three A.L. pennants and one World Series championship. He served as a coach for the N.L. All-Star team in 2003.

La Russa began his professional managing career in 1978 with Knoxville of the Class- AA Southern League before taking his first major league managing job on August 2, 1979, with the Chicago White Sox.

In seven-plus seasons (1979-86) with the White Sox, La Russa quickly established his managerial acumen. In 1983, he guided Chicago to the A.L. West title and the best record in the major leagues, 99-63. He was rewarded with Manager of the Year accolades from The Sporting News, the Associated Press and the Baseball Writers' Association of America.

In 1984, La Russa's White Sox were tied for first place at the All-Star break before finishing fifth with a 74-88 record. He was relieved of his duties on June 19, 1986, and took over as the Oakland manager on July 7.

In just his second full year with the A's, La Russa managed the club to an A.L. West-record 104 wins, the A.L. pennant and into the 1988 World Series. He again earned Manager of the Year honors from the BBWAA and The Sporting News. For three straight years, 1988-90, the A's led the major leagues in victories, only the 11th time in history that a team had accomplished such a feat. During that span, La Russa's A's became the first team to win three consecutive A.L. pennants since the 1976-78 New York Yankees.

In 1989, La Russa guided the Athletics to their fourth World Championship since the club moved to Oakland, sweeping the Giants in four straight games during the earthquake-interrupted Bay Bridge Series.

On July 14, 1991, LaRussa became the 40th manager in major league history to win 1,000 career games. He earned a third Manager of the Year award in 1992 after steering the A's to their fourth A.L. West title in five years. He is Oakland's all-time leader in games managed (1,471) and victories (798).

The former infielder signed his first pro contract with the Kansas City Athletics on the night he graduated from high school in 1962. He made his major league debut with Kansas City just one year later. La Russa didn't return to the majors again until 1968, this time with the A's of Oakland. He went on to play parts of four seasons in Oakland before concluding his big-league playing career with Atlanta and the Chicago Cubs. Overall, his professional career spanned 16 seasons.

LaRussa, the 48th manager in Cardinals history, actually was a member of the organization once previously, when he was a player-coach for the Cardinals' Triple-A New Orleans affiliate in 1977.

A graduate of Florida State University's School of Law in 1978, La Russa passed the bar exam in December 1979, making him one of only five lawyer/managers in baseball history. The other four are Monte Ward (New York Giants, Brooklyn and Providence, late 1800s), Hughie Jennings (Detroit, 1907-20, New York Giants, 1924), Miller Huggins (St. Louis Cardinals and New York Yankees, 1913-29) and Branch Rickey (St. Louis Browns, 1913-15, St. Louis Cardinals, 1919-25). All of La Russa's predecessors are in the Hall of Fame.

La Russa, 59, makes his off-season home in Danville, Calif., with his wife, Elaine, and their two daughters, Bianca Tai (9/14/79) and Devon Kai (8/17/82). La Russa was born 10/4/44 in Tampa, Fla., and graduated from Jefferson High School in Tampa. He also holds a degree in industrial management from The University of South Florida in Tampa. He is the founder and chairperson of Tony La Russa's Animal Rescue Foundation (ARF) and is an active member in the Cardinals' community foundation, Cardinals Care.

HALL OF FAME ROAD TRIP

Baseball As America, the Hall of Fame and Museum's first-ever national exhibit tour, continues with its third year in 2004. The exhibit opened in New York City in 2002 and will visit 10 world-class museums across the country through 2005. The national tour is sponsored by Ernst & Young. In 2004, the tour will visit the Florida International Museum in St. Petersburg, FL, the National Museum of Natural History in Washington D.C. and the Missouri Historical Society in St. Louis, MO, in December. The exhibit will be on display in St. Louis through spring 2005. Additional tour stops include the Houston Museum of Fine Arts in Houston, TX and two cities yet to be announced. Visit the tour Web site, baseballasamerica.org, for complete details.

A LOOK AHEAD TO 2005

Ballots for the 2005 Hall of Fame/BBWAA election will be distributed in early December with results from the voting scheduled to be announced in early January 2005. A partial list of first-year candidates for election include: Jim Abbott, Wade Boggs, Chili Davis, Jack McDowell, Willie McGee, Otis Nixon, Terry Steinbach, Darryl Strawberry. Also in 2005, the Veterans Committee will vote on members for the Hall of Fame.

Compared with Busch Stadium, the new ballparks 46,600 seats put fans closer to the field in all seating categories lineups for each team. A second out-of-town scoreboard is electronically controlled.

The new ballpark's field dimensions are closely aligned with those of Busch, which has established a fair balance between offense and defense. The new ballpark measures (Busch's distance in parentheses) 336 feet (330) down the left-field line, 389 feet (382) to left-center, 398 feet (402) to center field, 389 feet (382) to right-center and 335 feet (330) down the right-field line. (While Busch Stadium's fence displays a distance of 372 feet in the left- and right-center field alleys, HOK Sports says the precise distance at the midpoint between center field and each foul pole is 382 feet.)

The first phase of work on the new ballpark began on Dec. 19, 2003, with a ceremonial groundbreaking held on Jan. 17, 2004. The new ballpark will be mostly built in 27 months when Opening Day 2006 arrives. Some construction will continue early in the 2006 season, with final completion of the left-field corner occurring at the All-Star break that year.

Fans inside the ballpark will have a commanding view of the Gateway Arch and downtown St. Louis skyline.

than Busch Stadium's capacity. But with an improved configuration of the seating bowl – made possible by designing for only baseball – fans are closer to the field and enjoy better views of the game. The first rows of seats at field level are as close as Major League Baseball allows. In total, 16,586 seats are at field level, compared with 10,277 at Busch. Additionally, there are 3,682 bleacher seats in the outfield at field level, compared with 2,235 in the current stadium. The slope of the new ballpark's upper deck is designed to provide the best possible experience for fans in the top rows, without triggering the uncomfortable effects associated with a radically steep slope. The new ballpark's degree of slope is 31.2 degrees; the Chicago White Sox's U.S. Cellular Field, for example, features a 36-degree slope; Busch Stadium's slope is 33.275.

From behind each seating deck in the park's concourse areas, fans have unobstructed views of the playing field below. In most cases concession stands are positioned on the outside perimeter of each concourse, instead of against the back of the seats, to allow people in the concourses a clear view of the game. The main-level concourse circles the entire ballpark, beckoning fans to circulate and explore the building while providing a 360-degree view of the field.

The main scoreboard features a substantially larger screen display than Busch Stadium's Diamondvision monitor, and presents more detailed information than currently provided, including complete

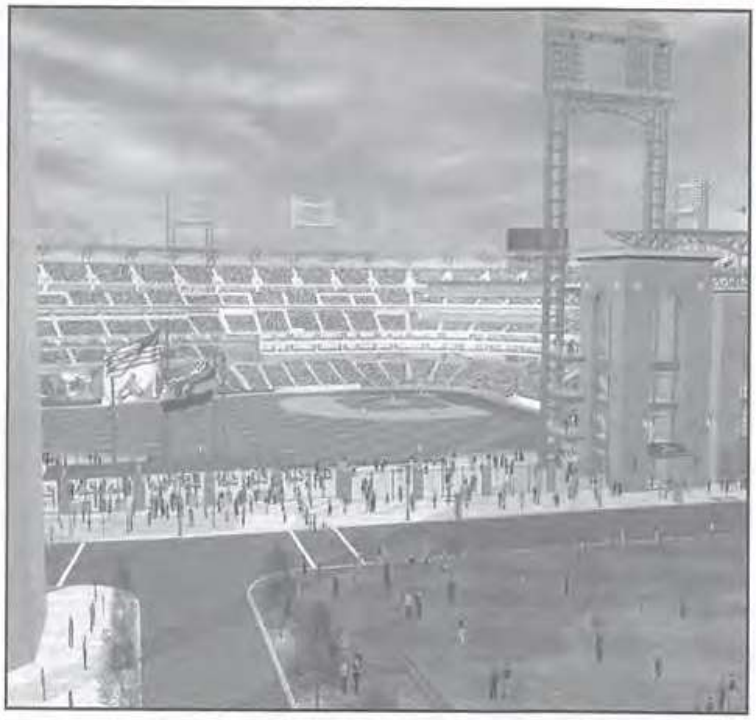
Cardinals New Ballpark



Views of the game will be possible from buildings in the neighboring Ballpark Village commercial development.

Fans outside the ballpark will be able to connect with the game and crowd inside, most notably from the plaza area that will take shape beyond left field and extend into the Ballpark Village neighborhood across Clark Street. The only thing separating the back of the left-field bleachers from Clark Street is a patio and about 100 feet of wrought iron fence, allowing unobstructed views of the game for fans and motorists passing by. And across the street, in the Ballpark Village neighborhood targeted for development, patrons of restaurants and other businesses, along with tenants of residential property, will have stunning outfield views from the balconies and rooftops of buildings.

Inspired partly by the architecture of landmark local buildings, the new ballpark's many arched openings reference the neighboring Cupples Station warehouse district; the warm brick tones mirror the rich colors of the Wainwright Building; and the exposed steel trusses bear the influence of the historic Eads Bridge. One of the most significant design statements is made where the "bridge" decks connect the infield and outfield portions of the west facade. Here is where the ballpark most noticeably is influenced by the design of Eads Bridge. From inside the ballpark, fans will notice how the bridge also breaks up the ballpark's seating "bowl" down the third-base line – the upper deck (Terrace level) is higher behind home plate, but then drops lower (to the Pavilion level) in left field. Atop this break is a platform that provides an excellent standing-room view behind third base, but one that also looks back into the city, up Spruce Street.

The new ballpark seats 46,600 fans, about 2,500 fewer

Cardinals New Ballpark

Designed by HOK Sport, the Cardinals' new ballpark is targeted for completion by Opening Day 2006.

The St. Louis Cardinals' new ballpark, slated to open in April 2006, is the culmination of more than six years of planning designed to create an architecturally classic facility that interacts with and complements the city's downtown core. The $345 million ballpark, $300 million of which is privately financed by the Cardinals, will occupy the space immediately south of Busch Stadium, on land that formerly served as a parking lot. The existing site of Busch Stadium is targeted for commercial development, to be known as "Ballpark Village." The site of the new ballpark features a descending slope from the northeast (center field) to southwest (home plate) corner, with the top of the left-field bleachers sitting at street level.

Designed by HOK Sport (lead architect Jim Chibnall), the ballpark will connect fans with its urban surroundings through a modern, open-air design. From inside the park, fans will have numerous views of the city outside, particularly looking beyond the outfield to the Gateway Arch. There are a number of open patio decks and standing-room areas situated throughout the park, where fans have views of action on the field but also of the city's surrounding streetscape. Among the best of these open areas are the courtyards atop the corners of the ballpark; the towers that flank the ends of the grandstand at the left- and right-field foul poles; and the "bridge" decks on the ballpark's west side.

CARDINALS IN THE COMMUNITY

Building Community Through Grants to Youth Organizations

Cardinals Care has been funding youth organizations and neighborhood ballfields with cash grants since 1997.

Cardinals pitcher Dan Haren and catcher Chris Widger present a Cardinals Care check to the Edgewood Children's Home.

Building Community Through Fredbird's "Doin' It Right" School Program

"Don't do drugs, Stay in school and Participate in sports to stay fit," these are the cornerstones to success in the "Doin' It Right" program. This program reaches over a quarter of a million students annually throughout the region. The students are greeted with a strong message delivered by former Cardinals' players, Joe Cunningham, Al Hrabosky and Andy Benes. The program would not be complete without the never-ending antics of our beloved Fredbird.

Former Cardinals pitcher Al Hrabosky quizzes a student (left) on the three key messages of the school program as Fredbird looks on. Hrabosky engages students in a lively presentation (above right).

Building Community Through Player Ticket Programs

Throughout the baseball season our Cardinals players step up to the plate to support kids in the community. The current player ticket programs include Tony La Russa's 'Tony's Troops', Mike Matheny's 'Catch 22 Club', Steve Kline's 'Kline's Kreatures', Woody Williams' 'Woody's Winners' and broadcaster Dan McLaughlin's 'Dan's Clan'. Kids recieve an outing to Busch Stadium, tickets to a game, t-shirts and often watch batting practice with their sponsor.

Building Community Through Player Involvement

Players' giving of their time and energy are a bright spot in the lives of many kids. Player involvement is essential to Cardinals Care success.

Building Community Through Outreach

The Winter Warm-Up and Jerseys Off Their Backs are fundraising events sponsored by Cardinals Care. All of the proceeds from these events directly benefit Cardinals Care. Cardinals Care relies on the generosity of our players, fans, hundreds of volunteers and many others to make each of these events a success.

Families, friends and individual fans gather at the Winter Warm-Up creating baseball memories and supporting Cardinals Care.

Cardinals Care...Caring for Kids in the Community

Since its inception in 1997, Cardinals Care has distributed over $6 Million to support kids. Cardinals Care has assisted in building community through neighborhood ballfields, cash grants, player involvement, baseball clinics, player ticket programs, Fredbird's "Doin' It Right" school programs, public service announcements and volunteering. Building Community Through Neighborhood Ballfields

In an effort to assist in the revitalization of communities throughout our region, Cardinals Care works with the community to identify the neediest neighborhoods. By building ballfields within these neighborhoods, it gives our youth the chance to play ball on a regulation diamond.

BUDDY BATES
ASSISTANT EQUIPMENT MANAGER

Buddy Bates will begin his second season as the assistant equipment manager after stepping down from his duties as the Cardinals' equipment manager after the 2002 season. He was the equipment manager for the Cardinals for 20 seasons after succeeding the late Butch Yatkeman, who was with the Redbirds for 59 years, in 1983.

The 51-year-old Bates joined the Cardinals in 1969, his first of three seasons as a bat boy. He was named assistant equipment manager and visiting clubhouse manager in 1972, holding the positions until assuming the head job in 1983.

Bates, a St. Louis native, is a graduate of Central High School, where he lettered in basketball. He attended Florissant Valley Community College and the University of Missouri-St. Louis. He was honored in 1997 with the "Good Guy" award by the St. Louis Chapter of the BBWAA. Bates and his wife, Rachelle, reside in St. Charles.

JEFF MURPHY
BULLPEN CATCHER (58)

Murphy begins his eighth season as the Cardinals' bullpen catcher and his 13th year in the organization. A former All-Big Eight performer at the University of Nebraska, Murphy was the Cards' 19th-round pick in the June 1992 amateur draft. He advanced to Class-AA Arkansas before an ankle injury in 1996 finished his career.

Murphy was named to the New York-Penn League's postseason All-Star squad in 1992, his first professional season. He threw out 47 percent of the runners attempting to steal against him. The next year, he led the South Atlantic League's catchers in fielding while posting career highs with seven home runs and 47 runs batted in. After spending the 1994 and 1995 seasons at St. Petersburg, he moved to Arkansas in 1996 but appeared in just two games before injuring his ankle. He was named the Cardinals' bullpen catcher during spring training in 1997 after coming to camp as a nonroster invitee.

Born in St. Louis, the 33-year-old Murphy was raised in Las Vegas, and now resides in St. Charles, Mo. He and his wife, Leah, have a son, Hunter, and a daughter, Sadie.

KEITH SANDERS
PHYSICAL THERAPIST

C.J. CHERRE
TRAVELING SECRETARY

C.J. Cherre is responsible for handling the Cardinals' travel and road accommodations, including all spring training arrangements in Jupiter, Fla.

Born in Norfolk, Va., and raised in St. Louis, Cherre is entering his 27th season with the club. He is a 1970 graduate of St. Louis University High School and received a bachelor's degree (cum laude) from Saint Louis University in 1974.

Cherre began his Cardinals career in the group sales department, where he worked in 1977 and 1978. He was named assistant director of public relations in January 1979 and held the position through 1980. He assumed his current position in January 1981.

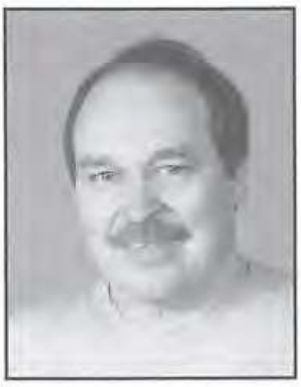
Cherre, an ardent University of Notre Dame supporter, enjoys swimming, country and contemporary music, and fine dining. In 1998 he received the "Good Guy" award from the St. Louis chapter of the BBWAA and at baseball's winter meetings was designated the "Traveling Secretary of the Year." Cherre married Jill Sheehe of Jupiter, Fla., on November 7, 2002. He has one daughter, Laura (19), who is a freshman at Xavier University.

RIP ROWAN
EQUIPMENT MANAGER

Rip Rowan will begin his second year as the head equipment manager for the Cardinals. For 14 seasons Rowan served as the Cardinals' assistant equipment manager under Buddy Bates. A native of St. Louis, Rowan has worked with the Cardinals in a variety of roles for 26 years, starting in 1978 as the visitors' bat boy.

The 40-year-old Rowan graduated from Pattonville High School in 1982 and began assisting in the Cardinals clubhouse in 1983. He enjoys watching sports and fly fishing in his spare time. He has three children; Jessica, Jacob and Brennen.

JERRY RISCH
VISITING CLUBHOUSE MANAGER



Jerry Risch will be working his 39th season with the Cardinals and his 21st year as visiting clubhouse manager.

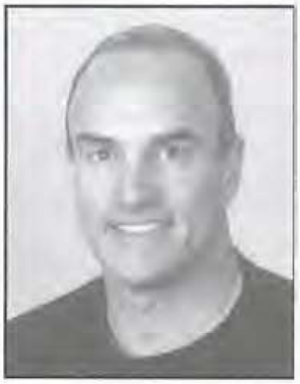
The 51-year-old Risch began working for the Cardinals in 1966 as the umpires' room manager. In 1969 and 1970, he served as the Redbirds' bat boy. He began working as an assistant in the visitors' clubhouse in 1971 and was named to his current position in 1983.

Risch is a graduate of Southwest High School, where he lettered in soccer. He attended Meramec Community College and the University of Missouri-St. Louis.

Risch was awarded the "Good Guy" award by the St. Louis Chapter of the BBWAA in January 2002. He and his wife, Mary Catherine, have two children, Jessica and Joseph.

BEHIND THE SCENES

BARRY WEINBERG
HEAD ATHLETIC TRAINER



Barry Weinberg begins his seventh season as the Cardinals' head athletic trainer following 16 seasons as trainer for the Oakland A's. He began his training career in 1974 with the Pittsburgh Pirates, where he spent five seasons in their minor league system. He was the New York Yankees' assistant trainer from 1979-81.

Weinberg, 52, is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association and the National Strength and Conditioning Association. Weinberg received a bachelor's degree in physical education from Springfield (Mass.) College and a master's degree in athletic training from Indiana University. He was the American League trainer at the 1987 and 1993 All-Star games.

Weinberg was inducted into the Washington D.C. Jewish Sports Hall of Fame in 1996 and received the Distinguished Alumni award from Springfield College in 2000. He was the producer and host for a baseball training and conditioning video in 2000. A native of Silver Spring, Md., Weinberg is a Broadway enthusiast and enjoys country and western music, photography and golf.

MARK O'NEAL
ASSISTANT ATHLETIC TRAINER

Mark O'Neal is entering his second year as the team's assistant athletic trainer. O'Neal also performs duties as medical and rehabilitation coordinator for the club, a role in which he served from 1998-2002. O'Neal is serving his 15th season as a trainer in the Cardinals' organization and his seventh year at the major league level. From 1994 to 1997, he was head trainer for the Class-AAA Louisville Redbirds.

O'Neal joined the organization after graduating from the University of Arkansas in 1989. After a year with the Cardinals' Savannah club in 1990, he served as the Arkansas Travelers' trainer for three seasons (1991-93). The Russelville, Ark., native monitors the medical status of the Cardinals' major leaguers during the off-season. He also has worked as a trainer for the University of Arkansas-Little Rock and in the instructional Arizona Fall League.

A nationally certified trainer, the 36-year-old O'Neal enjoys golf and is an avid college football and basketball fan. He and his wife, Stefanie, have two sons, Conner and Cade.

PETE PRINZI
STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING COACH

Pete Prinzi begins his fifth season at the major league level for the Redbirds and his eighth year in the Cardinals' system overall. From 1997 through 1999, he served as the club's minor league strength and conditioning coordinator.

Prinzi, 34, graduated from Florida State University, where he played football for the Seminoles. After playing professionally for three seasons (1991-93) in the European Football League, he returned to his alma mater as an assistant strength coach from 1994 through 1996.

A native of Tampa, Fla., Prinzi now resides in Charleston, S.C., with his wife, Lena.

Dr. Jim Loomis, the Cardinals' specialist in internal medicine since 1998, has been a team physician for the St. Louis Rams since 1995 and has served as European tour physician for the St. Louis Symphony.

Loomis, 44, a native of Little Rock, Ark., came to St. Louis in 1985 after receiving his M.D. from the University of Arkansas. He served his internship and residency in internal medicine at Barnes Hospital, completing both in 1988. He received his M.B.A. from Washington University in 1997.

Loomis is board-certified in internal medicine and a member of Alpha Omega Alpha, the American College of Physicians and the American College of Sports Medicine. He has a private practice in internal medicine, Comprehensive Heatlth Partners, in West St. Louis County. He also is on the clinical faculty of Washington University's School of Medicine in the Department of Medicine.

Loomis has three sons: Jimmy, Billy and Bobby.

DR. RICK WRIGHT
ASSISTANT TEAM PHYSICIAN

Dr. Rick Wright, a native of Sikeston, Mo., and graduate of the University of Missouri, begins his seventh year as an orthopedic specialist on the Cardinals' medical staff. Wright has served as an orthopedic physician for the St. Louis Rams since 1995 and the St. Louis Blues since 1997. He also has worked with the Minnesota Twins, Minnesota Vikings and Minnesota Timberwolves.

Wright is a 1984 graduate of the University of Missouri-Columbia and received his M.D. from the university in 1988. Following medical school, he received specialty training in orthopedic surgery at Vanderbilt University from 1988-1993. From 1993-1994, he did subspecialty training in orthopedic sports medicine at the Minneapolis Sports Medicine Center.

Wright established his practice in St. Louis in August 1994 and is a member of the Department of Orthopedic Surgery at Washington University. He and his wife, Lana, have two children, Megan and Robert.

MANAGEMENT

JEFF LUHNOW
VICE PRESIDENT, BASEBALL DEVELOPMENT

Jeff Luhnow joined the Cardinals organization in October of 2003. In his newly-created position of Vice President for Baseball Development, Luhnow will oversee the design, development and implementation of systems and tools that will be used in strategy, scouting and player development. His work will aid the team in its evaluation of players at all levels including the Major Leagues, Minor Leagues, amateur and international levels.

Luhnow, 37, is the founder, president and C.O.O. of Archetype Solutions, Inc. - a venture backed technology and software company based in the San Francisco Bay Area. He has also held the title of G.M. and V.P. of Marketing for Petstore.com and was a Senior Engagement Manager at McKinsey & Company.

Luhnow is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and the Wharton School of Business and holds dual Bachelor of Science degrees in economics and engineering. He also holds a Masters degree in management from Northwestern University. Luhnow and his wife, Christine, reside in St. Louis, with their two children, Elizabeth and Jeffrey.

JOHN MOZELIAK
ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER / DIRECTOR OF SCOUTING OPERATIONS

In addition to his duties as Assistant GM, John Mozeliak was given the responsibilities of scouting director in October of 2003. In his position he assists Senior Vice President/General Manager Walt Jocketty with the day-to-day Major League operations of the club and coordinates the efforts of both the scouting and player development staffs.

Mozeliak served as the Cardinals' scouting director during the 1999 and 2000 seasons before becoming the Director of Baseball Operations in 2001. He joined the organization following the 1995 season, and served as an assistant in scouting operations in 1996 and 1997 and as the assistant scouting director in 1998.

Mozeliak's career in baseball began in 1993 with the Colorado Rockies, where he worked in a variety of positions in baseball operations. Mozeliak, 35, attended the University of Arizona and is a graduate of the University of Colorado. He lives in St. Louis with his wife, Julie, and daughter, Allyson More (7/22/99).

BRUCE MANNO
DIRECTOR OF PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Bruce Manno begins his third season as the Cardinals' Director of Player Development. Manno, 50, was appointed to his post on November 1, 2001.

Prior to joining the Cardinals, Manno was the Assistant to the General Manager for the Baltimore Orioles in 1999. He was a long-time member of the Milwaukee Brewers Scouting and Player Development department, working from 1979 to 1994 with the Brewers. He was named Farm Director in Milwaukee in 1982 and was appointed as the Brewers Assistant General Manager in 1987, holding that post through 1994. Under Manno's direction, Milwaukee's farm system captured six "Organization of the Year" awards, three each from Baseball America (1985, 1986 and 1987) and Topps (1987, 1989 and 1991).

A native of Cleveland, Ohio, Manno graduated from Benedictine High School in 1971 and majored in journalism at Cleveland's Cuyahoga Community College. He began his professional baseball career in 1977 as the Assistant General Manager at Utica, NY, in the New York-Penn League. Manno and his wife, Claudia, have two children, Nick (23), who works in the Montreal Player Development Department, and Amanda (20).

JERRY WALKER
VICE PRESIDENT, PLAYER PERSONNEL

As vice president of player personnel, Walker assists Senior Vice President/General Manager Walt Jocketty with personnel decisions involving the major league club and oversees the Cardinals' player development and scouting activities. He was promoted to his current position on Feb. 1, 1997, after serving as director of major league player personnel since he joined the organization in November 1994.

After concluding his playing career in 1964, Walker managed five years at the minor league level for the New York Yankees. He scouted for the Yankees from 1973 until the middle of the 1981 season, when he was named the Yankees' major league pitching coach. He also served as the Houston Astros' major league pitching coach from 1983-1986.

Walker returned to the scouting ranks in 1987, joining the Detroit Tigers as a special assignment scout. He was appointed as the Tigers' general manager in September 1991 and was responsible for overseeing all major and minor league operations. In April 1994, he joined the Toronto Blue Jays as a special assignment scout.

A former pitcher, Walker's major league career spanned eight seasons with Baltimore (1957-60), Kansas City (1961-62) and Cleveland (1963-64). In 1959, he became the youngest pitcher to ever start an All-Star Game when at age 20 he started for the American League in the second game played that summer (on Aug. 3).

Walker, 65, a native of Ada, Okla., and his wife, Janis, have two married daughters and five grandchildren.

BOB GEBHARD
VICE PRESIDENT, SPECIAL ASSISTANT TO THE GENERAL MANAGER

Gebhard will start his fifth season with the Cardinals after joining the organization in September 1999. He was promoted in January of 2001 to his current vice president position. In this post Gebhard works closely with Senior Vice President/General Manager Walt Jocketty on the club's day-to-day major league operations including player evaluations and contract negotiations.

The former vice president and general manager of Colorado, Gebhard built the Rockies from the ground up. He spent eight years with the team, from the November 1991 expansion draft until he resigned in August 1999. He helped the club reach the postseason in just its third season. Before joining the Rockies, Gebhard was a member of the Minnesota Twins front office, serving as director of major league personnel in 1987 and as vice president of player personnel from 1988-1991. He worked for the Montreal Expos from 1974-86, serving as director of minor league operations, as minor league field director and as a major league coach.

Gebhard's playing career spanned 11 seasons and included big-league duty with the Twins and Expos. A righthanded pitcher, he was originally drafted by Minnesota in the 15th round of the first-ever amateur draft in 1965.

Gebhard, 60, and his wife, Nancy, have three children, daughters Angie and Jenny, and son Casey. They reside in Littleton, Colo.

MANAGEMENT

WALT JOCKETTY
SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT / GENERAL MANAGER

Walt Jocketty was named the Cardinals' Vice President/General Manager on Oct. 14, 1994. In November 2000 he was promoted to his current position of Senior Vice President, signing a four-year contract extension through the year 2004. He is entering his 30th season in professional baseball and is currently the second longest tenured National League general manager.

Jocketty, 53, was instrumental in orchestrating deals that helped the Cardinals to three consecutive postseason appearances from 2000 to 2002. He landed All-Star third baseman Scott Rolen in 2002 and arranged an eight-year contract with Rolen, and this spring he completed a seven-year contract with Albert Pujols which will keep him a Cardinal for the foreseeable future. This past offseason Jocketty acquired several players to fill out the Cardinals' 40-man roster, including outfielder Reggie Sanders and pitchers Jeff Suppan, Jason Marquis and Ray King.

In 2000, Jocketty was named Executive of the Year by Baseball America and The Sporting News after his key trades helped the Cardinals to their second National League Central Division Championship. In a busy offseason prior to the 2000 campaign, Jocketty became the first general manager in baseball history to trade for a 20-game winner and a 40-homer man in the same off-season with deals for Darryl Kile and Jim Edmonds. He also bolstered the lineup by trading for Fernando Viña, a Rawlings Gold Glove winner in 2001 and 2002, and signing free-agent catcher Mike Matheny, who went on to win Gold Gloves in 2000 and 2003. Jocketty's trading deadline deals for Will Clark, Mike Timlin, and Jason Christiansen were keys to the team's success down the stretch and into the 2000 postseason. He also negotiated long-term deals with shortstop Edgar Renteria, Edmonds and Viña to help insure the long-term success of the team. To bolster the team in 2001, Jocketty traded for pitchers Dustin Hermanson and Steve Kline in December and added Woody Williams in August.

Jocketty was instrumental in bringing Manager Tony La Russa to St. Louis as well as nearly a dozen new faces to the Cardinals' roster before the 1996 season. Those changes helped the club return to the postseason that year after an eight-season drought. In July 1997, he engineered a deal that brought slugger Mark McGwire to St. Louis and then put together a contract that kept McGwire in a Cardinals uniform through 2001.

Jocketty has helped build the Cardinals' future through the June amateur draft, helping to land young stars like Albert Pujols, J.D. Drew, Matt Morris and Rick Ankiel. He has continued to build the team's reserve of young talent by signing picks Dan Haren and Blake Hawksworth (righthanded pitchers, 2001), Shaun Boyd (outfielder, 2000), Chris Narveson (lefthanded pitcher, 2000), Nick Stocks (righthanded pitcher,1999) and Daric Barton (catcher, 2003).

Before coming to the Cardinals, Jocketty was the Assistant General Manager/Player Personnel for the Colorado Rockies, whom he joined in 1993. Prior to that, he served 10 seasons as the Director of Baseball Administration for the Oakland A's. He served a total of 14 years with Oakland, starting in March 1980, when he was hired by Charles O. Finley as Director of Minor League Operations and Scouting. Jocketty was instrumental in overhauling the A's minor league system and helped turn the club into one of the 1980s' most dominant franchises by producing such standouts as McGwire, Jose Canseco and Walt Weiss.

While with Oakland, Jocketty played a key role in establishing the Arizona Rookie League and the Dominican Summer League. He previously served on Major League Baseball's Operations Committee, which is responsible for negotiations between the Professional Baseball Association and Major League Baseball. He has served as a board member of the Epworth Children's Home in St. Louis.

Jocketty is a native of Minneapolis, Minn., where he earned a bachelor's degree in business administration from the University of Minnesota in 1974. He and his wife, Sue, have two children, Ashley and Joey, and make their home in St. Louis County.

MANAGEMENT

MARK C. LAMPING
PRESIDENT

Mark Lamping was named president of the St. Louis Cardinals on September 1, 1994. On January 6, 2004 it was announced that he had signed a new 3-year agreement to remain president through the 2006 season. In addition to the club's 1996, 2000, 2001 and 2002 Central Division championships, in 1999 and again in 2003, the Cardinals were honored by United Sports Fans of America as Major League Baseball's Fan Friendly Team for their superior efforts to make a day at the ballpark more affordable and enjoyable.

In addition to managing the club's business and facility operations, Lamping has led the Cardinals new ballpark initiative. The first phase of the new ballpark project was successfully completed on December 23, 2003 with the announcement that all funding to complete the new ballpark has been secured. Groundbreaking on the new privately owned and financed ballpark occurred on January 17, 2004 with completion scheduled in time for the 2006 season.

In February 1994, Lamping was appointed commissioner of the Continental Basketball Association. Prior to that Lamping served as Anheuser-Busch's group director of sports marketing for five years. In that position, he managed the company's TV and radio sports production division and all domestic and international sports marketing activities for Anheuser-Busch's beer brands, including sponsorship agreements for the Olympics, the World cup and all major professional sports, including Major League Baseball, the National Football League, the National Hockey League and the National Basketball Association.

Lamping, 45, joined Anheuser-Busch in 1981. He initially worked as a financial analyst in the company's corporate planning division before serving as a district sales manager in southern Illinois and central Iowa. He also served as the senior brand manager for new products and director of sales operations.

His civic activities include St. Louis Sports Commission Board of Directors; Board of Directors, St. Louis University Business School; and SSM Health Care Central Region Board.

Lamping also is involved in a variety of charitable organizations, including Board of Directors, Roman Catholic Orphan Board; Board of Directors of the St. Louis Cardinals Community Fund; Chairperson of the Make-A-Wish Foundation Golf Classic in 1997, 1998, and 1999; Chairman of the Old Newsboys Day for children's charities; Chairman of the St. Louis Archdiocese Catholic Charities 2000 and 2001 Christmas Appeal and served as a chairperson for Pope John Paul's 1999 visit to St. Louis.

In 1998, Lamping was honored as Man of the Year by the St. Louis chapter of Sudden Infant Death Syndrome Resources and received the James O'Flynn Award from St. Patrick's Center in recognition of his work to help the homeless in the St. Louis Area. In addition Lamping was the recipient of the Catholic Youth Council 2000 Community Achievement Award and the 2001 Marianist Youth Medal in recognition of his support of youth throughout the St. Louis area. Big Brothers and Big Sisters of St. Louis honored Lamping with their 2001 Legacy Award. Lamping has been inducted into the Vianney High School Hall of Fame and was named 2000 Alumnus of the Year for outstanding achievement by Rockhurst University.

A St. Louis native, Lamping holds a bachelor's degree in accounting from Rockhurst University in Kansas City and a master's degree in business administration from Saint Louis University. He lives in St. Louis County with his wife, Cheryl, and their children, Brian, Lauren and Timothy.

THE DARRYL KILE AWARD

Darryl Kile
1968-2002

On June 18, 2002 — the night Jack Buck passed away — Darryl Kile pitched the Cardinals into sole possession of first place in the National League Central Division with a 7-2 win over the Anaheim Angels. After the game Darryl downplayed his contribution and praised the play of the other Cardinals. Four days later, Darryl Kile was lost — stunning his teammates, shocking the fans and city and saddening the sport he played.

At its annual dinner in January of 2003, the St. Louis Chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America announced the creation of the Darryl Kile Award. It will be given annually to the Cardinal player, by vote of his teammates, who demonstrates the qualities that Darryl brought to the clubhouse every day: those of a good teammate, a great friend, a fine father, and a humble man. A veteran of 331 big league starts, Darryl was never on the disabled list at the Major League level and prided himself on never missing a start. The award was not given in 2002 in honor of Darryl.

The first Darryl Kile Award was presented to catcher Mike Matheny at the BBWAA Dinner in January 2004. A close friend of Darryl's, Mike closely resembles the traits that the award stand for.

ONE NAME

There is one name that embodies the spirit and performance of baseball. Rawlings® is the name of the glove chosen by more pro players than ANY OTHER BRAND.
